Canada at the Universal Exhibition.

A special correspondent of the London Canadian News, writing from Paris, says:—The Exhibition opened yesterday, or rather the building opened, as the exhibition was not ready. Two thirds of the articles are yet to be placed and at least one half of the stands and cases to be put up. Russia, Japan, China and Australia—the most distant countries—were the most advanced in preparation. Even the French department, despite the superhuman efforts of the last few days and nights, was only partially complete; the United Kingdom and Germany in a similar predicament; the United States and South American States, if possible, more backward still.

There was a large muster of colonists, including several from the new Dominion. The Hon. Mr. McGee, with Messrs. Ross, Bessange and Daley, for Canada; Dr. Honeyman, for Nova Scotia (whose section is one of the most complete in the building); Messrs Phillips, Miller, &c., of Montreal; Mr. Boyd, of Toronto; Messrs Belford and Foster, of the Toronto press; Mr. Gordon Brown, who is also here, was I regret to say, too ill to be present. The Dominion commissioners, in common with the Imperial Commission, received the Emperor and Empress at the intersection of the British department—Lord Hopland acting as representative of all. The Emperor looked like a girl of twenty-five and was in truth, 'the fairest fair' of the many thousand fair women there assembled. The day was lovely, but the enthusiasm was not overpowering. It will be a month yet before the interior arrangements are really complete.

You will be pleased to learn that on the nomination of his Excellency the Colonial Secretary, the Hon. Mr. McGee, of Canada, has been appointed one of the jurors, on behalf of Great Britain, at the Paris Exhibition.

The situation of Canada and the cluster of colonies surrounding her is strikingly favourable in the building. The whole northern apex or end of the immense oval building is assigned to Great Britain and the British possessions; and in a straight line—the chord of the arch—the Canadian stalls run in front of the whole from side to side of the edifice, or more strictly speaking, from the common centre of all corridors or avenues—the Picture Gallery—to the wall of the external or Machinery Gallery. On one front we face the United States; on another Brazil and the South American States; immediately around us are India, Australia, the Mauritius, the Cape of Good Hope, and Scotland—the United Kingdom filling up all the interior space. When our collection is completely placed our friends will, I think, have reason to be satisfied.

Our stalls and emplacements are ornamented with hand-painted canopies, representing our native woods very tastefully done from the designs of Mr. Tache and very much admired. The buttresses, the imitation of black walnut, and the cornices, &c., of bird's-eye maple, —two of our most celebrated furniture woods. The square, or Main Court, is a forest tent, suspended from the roof and supported by ten pillars representing trees, which produce a very airy and pleasing effect. On these pillars escutcheons proper to Canada will be placed, and the intervals will be occupied by representations of forest scenery.

The nearly 600 exhibitors in Canada who are interested directly and indirectly are interested generally in the success of our section here will be glad to learn that already our woods and our minerals begin to attract general attention. Sir William Logan's collection of minerals will be found to have vastly improved since former exhibitions; and the fact of Murchison dedicating his main edition to Logan is the best proof of the advances made by the Canada survey of late years, not only in local but in general discoveries. Mr. Richardson, of Sir William's staff, is very busy getting up his branch, and when the great map arrives it will be the first complete demonstration yet made of our mineral riches and resources. In former exhibitions our trophies of woods were usually in pyramid shape; this time they are arranged in the form of an immense Doric portico, the lint stone being represented by a "stick" of yellow pine fifty feet long and weighing about ten tons.

"Canada is represented in class IX (photography) by eight exhibitors; in class XXVI (leather and fancy work) by sixteen exhibitors; in class XXVIII (linen, yarns, flax, and hemp) by eleven exhibitors; in class XXX (woolen yarns and fabrics) by twenty-eight exhibitors; in class XL (mineralogy) by six exhibitors; in class XLII (products of the forest) by twenty exhibitors; in class XLIII (agricultural products not used as food) by forty-two exhibitors; in class XLVI (leather and skins) by nine exhibitors; in class XLVII (agricultural apparatus) by eight exhibitors; in class XLVIII (machines) and class XLIX (machine tools) by fourteen exhibitors; in class L (textiles) by four exhibitors; in class LXI (carriages) by eight exhibitors; and in the next class (saddlery and harness) by seven exhibitors. Of cereals and other farinaceous products used as food (class LX)

The Duty of the Hour.

(From the Toronto Telegraph.)

The franchise should be regarded not as a possession that we can use at our will or dispose of at our pleasure, but as a sacred trust committed to us, to be sacredly used for the advancement and welfare of our country. Always sacred, that trust was never more sacred than now. In its exercise, the present epoch in our history, we should ignore the selfish claims of political candidates, fling aside hobbies of party politics, to which we have too long lound ourselves, and vote truly as freemen and not as the flunkies of any political leaders. "A good beginning is the half of it," says an ancient writer; and our success or failure in the future will in no slight degree be determined by our conduct now. If we chain ourselves down to our Mazeppa hobbies of party race and creed, and choose our representatives not on the ground of fitness and worth, but at the dictation of party or the mean bigotry of race, we shall discover ere long to our sorrow, that the desertion of country for partisanship, of true principle for the hollowness of political fiction, ever brings with it a bitter punishment. We should know nothing of any party nor of the flunkies of any political leaders. It is really dead, and should be buried. None but political ghouls will care to keep its decaying and offensive carcass out of its grave. Let the petty party squabbles of our children be forgotten, and let us rise above them to the new and nobler destiny that is now within our reach. This should be our ambition: the ambition of both our private and public men. But unfortunately there are among us those who have no higher idea of patriotism than self-aggrandizement, and whose dearest wish is to co-ign the guardianship of our country into the hands of a few of mankind legislators, known only for their incapacity and shameless political flunkyness.

This duty of selecting our representatives both for the Local and Confederate Parliaments is of the highest moment. 'Tis not an easy task. "Young countries are rarely overstocked with talent. The leisure which wealth enjoys and which favors education and culture in older countries, is denied to us. Even in our single Parliament when we had to furnish but sixty-five members, our resources of capacity and talent were heavily taxed. Now a call is made for one hundred and sixty-four Legislators, and not a little anxiety is felt as to where we shall find them. From the ranks of brazen-faced impudence, concealed mediocrity, and ambitious ignorance we can draw shoals of political nobodies who will be only too glad to sacrifice the repose of privacy and the interests of private life for the public good. Of political liars, swindlers and mountebanks there is always, in every country, a plentiful supply. But to those we are not eager to entrust the destinies of our young Confederation. But when the men of judgment and honor, into whose hands we can with confidence deliver the control and guidance of a new nation. It must be clear to every one that their discovery will be no easy task. For this reason it behooves every man among us to cast aside all the prejudices of partisanship and unite in an earnest effort to discover and return to our Parliament men, no matter what the accident of their political birth, who are worthy the honor of sitting in the first Parliaments of the Confederation.

We wish we could impress on electors the grave responsibility that now more than ever rests upon them, and of the serious results that will follow the use or abuse of their power. In the course of a few months they will be called to choose the men who are to set in harmonious working order the untried machinery of our new Constitution. To prevent discordant jarings, we want few raw practice hands and many master workmen of thought and experience, who are able to adjust its most delicate details and harmonize all its workings. We may not be able to secure for our representatives such men as we should have for the legislators of the Dominion, but free from the blinding influences of partisanship, we are more sure of success than if slaves to its control.

Another inducement to care, and an unbiased use of the franchise, can be seen—On the character and tone of the first Confederate and Local Parliaments will greatly depend their reputation for the future. If, by capacity, true patriotism and integrity, we make the mastery in our first Assemblies, incompetence and dishonesty will shun the places that ability and honor should always monopolize.

SLEEPING WITH THE HEAD TO THE NORTH.—Her Dr. Julius Von Fischewer, an eccentric German physician, recently died, leaving in his will what he considered a legacy for increasing the years of our life. His own age was 100, and he attributed it to the fact that he always slept with his head to the north, and the rest of his body as nearly as possible in a meridian line.

By this means, he thought, the iron in his body became magnetized, and thus increased the vital principle.

The Intelligencer.

BELLEVILLE, TUESDAY, MAY 7.

CANADIAN BANK OF COMMERCE.—The Toronto Evening Telegram says that this bank was opened for the transaction of business on Monday for the first time.

CARR & JOHNSTON, of St. RICHMOND, et al.—The Defendant's solicitor in this case desires to say that the Bill to which we referred yesterday for an injunction was dismissed with costs, and that to has been paid said costs.

GOLD NEAR SYDENHAM.—The Kingston Whig of yesterday says:—Yesterday a specimen of gold in quartz, said to have been taken from a farm in the township of Loughboro', convenient to Sydenham, was brought to the city, and being practically tested showed a yield of gold of one grain to the pound!

PROVINCIAL EXHIBITION.—The Kingston Whig says:—Exhibitors of sheep at the next Provincial Fair, to be held in Kingston in September, will have to bear in mind that all sheep intended to be shown must be shorn close after the 25th ult., and none shorn before will be admitted for competition. This is an admirable rule, and will have the effect of giving all a fair chance. It should have been adopted long ago.

BLACKWOOD'S MAGAZINE.—The contents of the April number just received are: "Elizabeth and Mary," "Herman's Ancient Christianity," "The Moral and Political Revolution in Japan," "The Army," "Manhood Suffrage and the Ballot in America," "A Letter never sent," "Brownlow," "The Ministers and their Measures," republished by the Leonard Scott Publishing Company, 140 Fulton St., N. Y. city at $3 a year.

THE EXPRESS.—It will be seen by advertisement that another steamer has been placed on the route between Trenton and Montreal. The Express which formerly plied between Ogdensburg and Montreal, will run Trenton every Wednesday, making the round trip once a week. She has an upper cabin, is one of the finest boats on the Bay and River, and is commanded by one of the most experienced sailors on the lakes.

DRILL ASSOCIATION.—We notice with great pleasure that a Drill Association is intended to be formed in this Town. The advertisement in another column requests Volunteer Officers and Military School and Military Board Certificate men to attend a meeting on Thursday evening next at the Drill Shed. We hope the Association will be a success. It is well known that a man without constant practice soon becomes "rusty" at drill, and although the Hastings Volunteers, more particularly the 15th and the Rifle Company, have already established a name for themselves, as to efficiency, we have heard from more than one officer complain of the want of opportunity to keep up to the mark. This is a step in the right direction, and it is to be hoped that it may become one of our "institutions."

The Richardson Mine.

A special telegraph to the Montreal Gazette dated Belleville, May 4, after giving the particulars of the shipment of the four barrels of quartz, states "that the same not having been properly shipped under a Consular certificate, the Consular agent where was informed of the fact, and he telegraphed to the authorities at Rochester, where the shipment lies in bond, to have the same seized and held until examined and valued. The public will therefore soon be in possession of all the facts as to the richness of this celebrated mine upon the most undoubted authority. This clever move on the part of Messrs. Diamond and Dickson, solicitors for the Belleville Company, was of course not made for the purpose of proving that the mine was no humbug, but to make the Chicago men account for the property they have removed in contempt of the injunction and with the intention of ulterior proceedings."

We may as well state that the facts above given were known to the writer, but he was not permitted to make them public.

We learn since that the barrels have been seized at Rochester, and that two parties in the interest of the Belleville Company are now in Rochester, waiting the action of the Customs authorities, and to ascertain the value of the quartz and dust.

We may also state that within the last two days propositions have been made to the Belleville Company by Messrs. Lombard & Hardin, with a view to effect a compromise, and have the case taken out of court. It would be very gratifying to have the case settled in some such manner, for then there would be a likelihood of having the Richardson mine developed at an early date.

—The Paris correspondent of the New York Tribune, in order to give his readers an idea of the size of the exhibition building, asks them to imagine a structure 100,000 yards square set in a park three times that size. As this makes the building cover an area of 75,000,000 square yards and a park in proportion, we submit that it is asking too much of the imagination.

The falling off of incomes in New York is remarkable. In May, 1890, the average income was $70,000 to $80,000, this year almost nothing. Mr. Claflin, whose income last year was something over half a million, this year returned twenty-five dollars. Mr. Stewart, who passes for a wealthy man generally, is still worse off, having no income at all. Where is the revenue to come from? where the money to pay other taxes?

THE INTELLIGENCER.

What They Will Do.

It is amusing to watch the variety of methods the Brown party have of creating political capital. They go the full figure for the doctrine that the "end sanctifies the means," even to taking dead men from the tombs, and placing their names on prominent Committees. They take a renegade Conservative and pitchfork him into a prominent position, because he bows the knee to the great Ontario, and because they hope to split the ranks of the Conservative party, while they know they can cast their entire vote for him. They throw overboard the constable Reformer, because he has a mind of his own, and will not consent to be dragged into the mud, whenever it suits Mr. Brown's pleasure. In fact they do all sorts of extraordinary things, are guilty of the most monstrous inconsistencies, and resort to the most contemptible subterfuges, to carry their point. As we said, they go to the tombs for great men's names, to swell the list of their Reform Committees.

The Tender has a case in point, which shows the length this party will go to in order to make political capital. It seems that a short time ago, a meeting of the Reform Association of Toronto, was held in that city, and in order to make a show of respectable names, parties who were hundreds and thousands of miles away, were made to appear as being present, and one of them—Peter R. Lamb—who has been in the cold ground for two years. Committee making material must be scarce when a man who has been dead two years, is made to swell the list of the re-organizers. The Tender says: "There is always a peculiar appropriateness in this sham of setting up dead men to fight dead issues over again; for if we are to have a resurrection of questions that have been dead and buried years ago, why not use dead men's names for counters? If the party resurrectionists are to go back to legendary politics, why not make use of the names of dead men? The parading of the name of a man that has been dead for years is another bit of 'inspiration of the dishonesty of the mode' in which the names of the pretended committee were selected. The thing was made all the worse by the meeting being represented as one of this very committee. Many of those who were made to appear to have been present were hundreds and thousands of miles away; in England, in the United States, here, there and everywhere; in all at least 'had long been in the cold grave.'"

The Tender makes a capital suggestion in closing as follows: "We observe that one of the Miss Foxes is again going in to the spirit rapping business; and we would suggest that before using any more dead men's names on his committees, Mr. Brown should employ this medium to ascertain whether the defunct approved of the reorganizing movement before taking liberties with their names and memories."

From the Maritime Provinces.

From our exchanges in the Maritime Provinces received this morning, we gather the following items:

The leaders of the Union party in Nova Scotia are preparing for the election campaign in real earnest.

The Halifax people are now moving vigorously in the matter of a Provincial Agricultural and Mechanical Exhibition.

The Newfoundland Legislature has passed an Act empowering the New York, Newfoundland and London Telegraph Company to raise an additional $300,000 for the purpose of laying a submarine cable to Sydney via St. John's, and erecting a new line between the country to Cape May. This has been rendered necessary by the increase of the Atlantic Cable traffic.

We clip the following from the Halifax Colonist: "A leading Anti-Confederate from a western district, a tutor, who has been long in his declarations of the ruin that the Union with Canada was to bring upon the Province, was somewhat astonished while in the city a few days ago, to receive from the agent of a Canadian firm an order for three thousand dollars worth of upper leather, it having been ascertained that that article can be manufactured better and cheaper than in Canada. The leather is to be finished by the first of May, whether it shall be subject to duty or not."

The Prince Edward Islander in noticing the Governor's speech, says it is entitled to notice by reason of what it does not contain. On the subject of Confederation His Excellency said not a word, and the Islander takes him to task for ignoring such an important subject. The Islander admits that large majorities of the members of the late Houses of Legislature declared against union upon any terms; and that the people of Prince Edward Island have never had the matter submitted to them; and the Islander believes that they would assent to Confederation upon what they might consider fair terms.

—The March report of the Commissioner of Agriculture dwells upon the ravages committed by dogs among the sheep in the United States. In 1890, 500,000 sheep were killed by dogs, and in 1891, their annual expense $10 per head, and the sum total of their subsistence $5,000,000—an immense sum to bestow upon the destruction of animals the use of which are worthless, and many of them causing great mischief to the farmer.

Board of Common School Trustees.

MONDAY, May 6, 1897.

The regular monthly meeting took place this evening. The chairman, Mr. M. Powell, and Messrs. Thompson, Smith, Walton, and Shepard were present.

The monthly reports of the Teachers were laid before the Board and examined. It being found that reports from schools Nos. 2 and 3 were not complete, on motion they were referred back to the Teachers or correction.

A petition from P. R. Covert, asking for remission of taxes, was not granted.

The Local Superintendent's report for the month showed the total and average number of scholars for the month ending 30th April, to be as follows:

No.	Scholars.	Average
1.—Mr. Macdonald	197	141
2.—Mr. Jeffery	101	156
3.—Mr. Ashby	180	135
4.—Mr. McKinnon	101	131
5.—Mr. Pollock	92	40

The chairman reported verbally respecting the school lot on Taylor's Hill, stating that the Finance Committee of the Town had failed to agree upon recommending an appropriation for the purchase of said lot as required by the Board, and had also reported to the Board, but the Council had taken no action. Several members of the Board stated that constant complaints were being made as to the state of the No. 4 school, owing to its unsuitableness for school purposes, and urging the building of a new school house. After some further conversation in reference to the subject, it was decided to hold a special meeting on Friday evening next, before which time the Council would again meet, and to dispose of the question in some way.

The Board then adjourned.

NEWS FROM MADOC.

From our own Correspondent.

Rain and Mud—Lombard & Co., will sink more shafts—Where does it come from—The Potash Strata—Petersburg Company—The Potash Strata—Assault—Court of Revision—Honest Joe—Hotel Keeper at El Dorado—Post-Office Wasteful—Pete's Exorcer.

MADOC, May 6, 1897.

Still it rains, and mud is everywhere, and as a matter of course, the roads have not improved much of late.

We have not so many strangers around as usual to-day, but those who are here seem to be quite satisfied as to the prospects of the country, and are inclined to invest if a fair opportunity offers.

Lombard & Co. are preparing to sink two shafts outside of the "disputed territory" on Richardson's lot. The result is looked forward to by the El Doradoists with a great deal of interest. Said a resident of El Dorado to me to-day, "there is enough gold in that hill to make the whole place rich." I hope so, but am inclined to think that the amount got by outsiders will be given for value received.

The report is that "Cariboo" Cameron & Co., have purchased Samuel McMahon's farm, which is a part of 18, in the 8th concession, and intend to proceed at once to develop it. It is said they were induced to do this upon the result of the examination of the Richardson mine.

By the way, some beautiful specimens of gold were being exhibited as from the Richardson mine within the last few days, and some of the parties are not inclined to say how they were got.

The story of the four potash barrels full of quartz, &c., being shipped at Brighton, is supported by many to be true, others, however, think it a "canard."

Hon. Sidney Smith was here on Friday and Saturday looking after the interests of some Peterboro Company. About the time he was leaving he was introduced to Mr. Lombard, who said if he had known that he was in the vicinity of the Richardson mine, he should have been happy to have given him an opportunity to see the inside of it. I wish he had; it would do more to satisfy the public than half a dozen raids, for even now there is a report among strangers that the whole thing was bogus, and intended for the benefit of the Hotels at El Dorado and these lots outside. While I do not believe there is any truth in such a report, knowing as I do the facts in connection with the richness of the Richardson mine, still it is just what might be expected from the course taken. Breaking the law never brings any good results to those who break it.

A party was arrested here to-day under a warrant from W. H. Tunney, Esq., for threatening to assault a Mr. Lumby. Before it came to trial Mr. Lumby withdrew the complaint, by the prisoner promising "never to have anything to do with him again." Two dollars and fifty cents costs were paid, and the prisoner was discharged a poorer and to be hoped a wiser man.

The Court of Revision closed their sitting on Friday, and adjourned until the last Thursday in May. The Assessors' report was read at the Court, and the parties who were involved in the matter of the "Hotel Keepers" at El Dorado are feeling rather glum over the $5 a month levies on the gold seekers, and are anxious to get rid of shutting shop, so much the better for the rest if they do.

A Post Office is badly wanted at the mine, either in Upper or Lower El Dorado; both villages are anxious to get it.

The "Express" carried by Messrs. Powell, Austin, McGregor & Co. is a very great convenience to this community, and from their enterprise and energy, we are sure the Company have won the good wishes of the country for their success.

QUANTITE.

From Bridgewater.

Mr. Burton.—It may not be interesting to your readers to know that we are still finding shows of gold in Elzevir.

On Lot 8, 4th Concession, Messrs. Harrison and Breese have begun sinking a shaft, and have taken from crushed quartz two shows of four gold; they are down about nine feet and the indications are getting better as they proceed. From this shaft I hope we shall be able to report more fully next week.

On Lot 1, 4th Concession Elzevir we have found a fair show of gold in Quartz Rock taken from a vein twelve feet wide. This vein is traceable for near half a mile, and on the topmost peak there are evident signs of an upheaving of the quartz, which is greatly shattered. A short distance south-west of this point there has evidently been a great depression of the rock and earth; at this place the rock appears equal to that at the Richardson mine, and from sounding, it appears to be hollow underneath. There is a chimney in this part which drains off the surface water from the hole, and shows conclusively that there must be a large cavity or pocket in the rock below.

It is my intention to work into this cavity as soon as possible, and from present appearances I feel confident we shall make a good strike. There are some ten distinct veins of quartz between this vein and Bridgewater, all within three-quarters of a mile, several of which are a foot in width, all of which are traceable through the clearings from ledge to ledge as far as can be seen for the woods. There are parties working on Lot 3, 1st Concession. The person in charge informed me that they had found a show of gold on that lot. He also informed me that he found gold on Lot 2, 1st Concession Elzevir, which he declared to be good.

Robert Barry, Esq., informed me that more gold had been found on his lot 5, in 3rd Concession. This lot has not been worked for some time, owing to the accident which happened some few weeks ago, but I understand work has again been commenced.

I am informed that parties commenced to work to-day on Lot 4, 1st Concession of Elzevir, where there is a fair show of quartz. This lot with No. 3, will be worked by separate companies.

On Lot 3, 2nd Concession Elzevir, Mr. Maxwell has leased a portion of land for mining and the parties are to commence work this month. From the appearance of the earth and quartz, I believe they will be successful. Owing to the heavy rain there can be but little done; the earth is full of water and with the present rain must continue for some time longer, which makes it bad for prospecting.

I am pleased to hear that all doubt as to the richness of the Richardson mine, has vanished by the late raid upon it. While it gains confidence, it also removes the doubts from many a mind as to gold being there at all, many having believed the mine played out. It is, however, in this law-abiding country, that the parties who made the raid are highly culpable. Yours, &c.,

BILLIE FLINT.

FROM TREWED.

From our own Correspondent.

Gold not all in Madoc—Stages—How gold may be obtained—Gold at Downey's Rapids—Powell at work—More Gold—New Shaft—Taxation—Cheese Factory.

TREWED, May 6, 1897.

Although the land in this part of the country does not lie exactly in the range of the Richardson Mine, yet many farmers and others are working on the belief that all the gold was not placed in that one spot, and finding that their land abounds in quartz veins, are digging with right good will, and in the business of the village it has already created a decided improvement. The mail line of stages, formerly run by sunshine and his shadow, has been superseded by a first class four horse line of stages. We have also a first-class line of stages running from the Village to Belleville daily, and also an accommodation line. The greater part of the gold-seekers were amateurs at the business, and imagined that gold was to be found in abundance lying on the top of the ground, and chunks of the metal of less than a pound were to be discarded by all except the poorer class of miners; so when they found that gold was to be obtained only by hard digging, backed up by perseverance, most of the gold-seekers were discouraged and gave the thing up in disgust, but since gold has been found in this immediate neighborhood the thing has received a fresh impetus.

A quantity of sand was brought to the village Saturday, said to have been taken from a claim near Downey's Rapids, about 5 miles from the village, and upon its being washed a fine show of gold was the result. The party who brought it in the morning saying that if any person doubted about the gold coming from where he said it did, they might come and examine and satisfy themselves; as much were the people convinced of the party's truthfulness that for the adjoining fifty acres $5,000 was offered, and as the writer thinks, foolishly refused.

Mr. Powell of Richardson mine notoriety, being against the Vandy mine, about two miles distant from the Village, next week. He appears to be sanguine of success, as he says outside of the Richardson mine, he would rather dig there than any place in the country.

A quantity of gold was shown in the village a few weeks since, said to come from a creek on Lot No. 4, in the 10th concession of Elzevir, on the old Kalaral road.

Messrs. Wright, Shaveron & Co., intend opening on Lot No. 18, in the 11th concession of Haverford, next week. An old miner has offered $2,000 for 30th share.

A large number of others are digging in all directions, but I think very few are rewarded as yet anything but good prospects for their labor.

Considerable dissatisfaction is evinced by the farmers in this Township that the taxation should be so much increased, which fact year, and the Court of Revision, which lasted for two days, was beset by a large number of clamorous applicants for low taxation.

The farmers through this part of the country have just begun to find out that they have a gold mine on all of their farms, in the shape of quartz, if they only use their eyes. Stimulated by the high price of Factory Cheese, and also by the success of similar undertakings during the last year, they are erecting a Cheese Factory near the Village, and Mr. Jamieson informs me that they expect to manufacture the milk of three hundred cows. We wish present enterprises like these were so successful that in less than five years Cheese Factories will be as thick as school houses throughout the country. What it has done for farms in New York State it will do for us, and there we find farms that average but a few bushels of wheat to the acre, when used as dairy farms bring from one to two hundred dollars an acre, and ready sale at that.

Cheap Railways.

In a new and undeveloped country, where money bears a high, or comparatively high rate of interest, it will generally be found advantageous to make improvements, such as the building of railways for instance, in an economical manner as is consistent with a fair degree of permanence. If a railway be built through an unsettled tract of land
at a cost which necessitates delay in constructing, and subsequent high rates of freight, the opening up and cultivation of that land, though rendered more easy than if there were no means of communication to still retarded, compared with what would have taken place had the railway been earlier built and its charges been more moderate. Under such circumstances, it will be found better to construct a narrow gauge, light rail road, rather than a broad gauge road with rails of Bessemer steel.
The rolling stock, also, should not be of the most expensive kind, on the contrary,
of the most economical, but so long as it does
not fall below the point of serviceability, ness. Before the cheap road shall have worn out, it will, probably have earned money enough to gradually re-lay it in a more permanent manner, and settlers will have been attracted to lands which previously had been almost valueless, but which, by being brought within reach of a market, have become highly profitable to their cultivators.

Mr. G. Laidlaw, of Toronto, has published as a pamphlet a letter addressed by him to the people of the Counties of Bruce and Grey, showing the advantages, practicality and cost of a cheap railway through those counties; and in so far as he confines himself to his text, we think his proofs and arguments are, for the most part, incontrovertible. From the testimony of the various engineers, including Mr. Fitzgibbon, Chief Engineer to the Government of Queensland, Australia; J. E. Boyd, New Brunswick;
C. Phil, Chief Engineer of the Norwegian Government railways, and the English firm of Sir Charles Fox & Son, it would appear that the first cost of a narrow gauge road, say 3 ft. 6 in. gauge, is fifty per cent. less than one of a 4 ft. 6 in. gauge, the gain being made on every single item almost, in the construction of the road; in earth,
masonry, rails, chains, engines, rolling stock, &c. A narrow road can also be built with sharper curves, and can, therefore be adapted more readily to the country through which it is to run. And although a high rate of speed may not safely be resolved
on this style of road, still a uniform speed of 15 or 20 miles per hour, very well maintained. On this point, however, Mr.
C. Phil is of opinion that, were it necessary,
there would be no danger in running at a much greater speed. He says he has run an engine at "upwards of forty miles an hour
with as much feeling of ease and security
as I have felt when running any engine on a broader gauge." It would also seem that, should the traffic of the road increase so much as to exceed its carrying capabilities,
it would still be no more costly to build a second line on the cheap principle in addition to the one already laid, than it would have been to have built a broad gauge road
in the first place.

In portraying the advantages to be gained from a railway, Mr. Laidlaw appeals to the common sense of the people, derived from the shipping of cordwood to Toronto and a market, instead of farmers being obliged to spend much time and money in clearing their land and destroying the wood on which they depend for fuel.
No doubt that even a small profit per cord on fuel sent to Toronto and there sold would flop up to be a very large total in favor of that section of the country through which the railway is intended to pass.

We should be glad to see this railway in course of construction; and we have no doubt that if the cheap system be proved to be as well adapted to this country as it has been in India, Australia, Norway and Sweden, it will be introduced generally throughout the rich and undeveloped sections of the Province, whose progress would be thereby stimulated and increased in a ratio equal to that of Canada at large under the benefits derived from the great but expensive railways in existence.—Montreal

—Her Majesty's screw corvette, Waterloo, 21 guns, which left Halifax on the 30th ult., arrived in Quebec on the 6th inst.

—The French crew cutters are shown in the Paris Exhibition; the cases in which they are placed being lowered in the ground every night.

—The Queen proceeds to Balmoral on the 20th
May, and preparations are being made for her residence during the summer months at her highland home.

—The Journal de Bruxelles attributes the following words to Marshal Niel, Minister of War:
"Let me know the day when the English Bal-patria wishes to have five hundred thousand men on the eastern frontier, and they shall be there."

—Ida Lewis, daughter of the keeper of a light-house at Lima Rock, R. I., is a second Grace Darling. On Sunday last she rowed out a season miles and rescued a man who for hours had been lying upon the rocks wet from the storm and exhausted in body, but whose condition, there being no means of rescue possible. The brave girl took up the half-lunatic from the harbor to Newport. The Providence press says this is the fifth instance in which the intrepid young woman has rendered valuable assistance to persons in peril of a watery grave.

FIRE AND LIFE.

LIFE DEPARTMENT.

THE principles on which this Company is founded contain all the elements required to develop the benefits of Life Assurance, and afford every facility to intending assured.

One of the advantages secured by those who insure their lives with this Company is that the outside expenditure for Management is absolutely restricted by the Deed of Settlement to Ten per Cent. of the Net Life Income. This most important restriction shows that the interests of participating policy holders are closely watched and carefully attended to by the Company. Attention is especially called to this point, as the proportion of premiums expended for Management Must Largely Influence Profits and Bonuses.

The next division of profits takes place in 1888, and all those who wish to participate in the profits should insure at once.

The Valley of the Shadow.

There's a stream in a desolate valley,
A stream that is sombre for aye;
No bark on it blissfully daily,
Nor winds o'er it wistfully play;
No bird dips a wing in its waters,
Nor tree, save the cypress, a spray.

But a ferryman grim in that valley,
A ferryman wrinkled and gray,
Roves o'er the crowds that there rally
Forever, by night and by day—
Bows all of them over the river,
Through thillars that as they may.

Like pilgrims, down into that valley,
From over the hills far away,
By many a pathway and alley,
Aweary, incessantly stray
The young and the old, bearing with them,
Fetters that they have lived but a day.

A mystery hangs o'er that valley,
A shadow of gloom and decay;
No echo there from the valley,
There none are light-hearted and gay:
The chill of the grave falls upon them,
As frost on the blossoms of May.

Above the dark stream in that valley
Float clouds, like vague phantoms of woe;
Below, the old boatman keeps tally,
And, willing or not, they must go
With him, every soul, o'er the ferry,
And back they may never return.

Some gladly, 'tis said, reach that valley,
Discourse of a glory to come,
And thence, if they could would not sail;
But others with horror are dumb,
And vain would retreat o'er the mountains,
But are powerless, motionless, numb.

Far off, we have dreams of that valley, Strange dreams, that haunt, ghost-like, our soul.
When from it a mist, magically—
A vapor mephitic—outrolls,
And the sound of our hearts in their throbbing
Seems that of a bell when it tolls.

For ever tend all to that valley
Who breathe this still faltering breath;
In vain on the way you may daily,
An inner voice warningly saith:
For the valley is the Valley of the Shadow,
And the name of the ferryman—Death.

The Queen as a Peacemaker.
The Springfield Republican, one of the most respectable and influential journals in the United States, says:—"The cable brings the welcome news that the impending war
in Europe has been averted, and that Queen Victoria of England is the peacemaker."
Her proposition for a conference of the great powers in May, to settle the Luxemburg question on the basis of guaranteeing the neutrality of the duchy, has been accepted
by the parties most interested."

The New York Commercial Advertiser,
edited by the veteran journalist, Thurlow
Weed, quotes the above and adds:

"Nor is this the first successful effort in the same direction of the good Queen Victoria. It was by her thoughtful and timely interposition, upon the Trent affair, that a war between England and America was averted. England meant war, and made instant preparation for the emergency.
The ministers, if they did not mean it, took a step which would have provoked war—a step which, by the Queen's interposition, was so modified as to result amicably. The details to which we refer are most interesting, but for the present, confidential. We hope, ere long, to be at liberty, by disclosing what came to our knowledge, in London, at the critical moment, to render just praise to the suggestive wisdom and womanly sympathies of that eminently good Queen."

"Nor should history be left without mat-terials to make up a truthful record of the action and feeling in France and England towards this government during the rebellion. Our good Queen, for a long time, our government, trusting to traditional recollections of amity with France, and of collision with England, were misled. While England seemed more unfriendly than France, and while English capital provided vessels to burn our ships and destroy our commerce, the English government rejected the repeated offers and efforts of the French Emperor to acknowledge the independence of the Confederate States."

A SENSIBLE GIRL.—A gentleman, feeling a strong partiality for a young lady whose name was Noyes, was desirous to ascertain her sentiments. For this purpose
he said to her one day, with that kind of air and manner which means either jest or earnest, as you choose to take it—"If I were to ask you whether you are under matrimonial engagements to any one what part of your name (No yes) might I take for an answer?"—"The first," she said, in the same tone—"And were I to ask if you were inclined to form such an engagement, should a person offer who loved you, and was not indifferent to yourself, what part of your name might he then take as an answer?"—"The last."—"And if I tell you that I love you, and ask you to form such an engagement with me, then what part of your name might I take?"—"Oh, then,"
replied the blushing girl, "take the whole name, as in such a case you would cheerfully relinquish it for yours." It is almost needless to add that they were soon after married.

Some men keep very savage dogs around their houses, so the hungry poor who stop
to get a bite, may get it outside the door.

POLICE COURT.

DRUNK.

The Police Magistrate held a levee at his of five yesterday for the purpose of settling the case of Miss Emily Johnston, from Rochester, who was presented by Police Constable Allen, who found her inebriated at a public house on the previous night. She pleaded that the quantity of the syrup was badly mixed, that the bottle was not properly sealed, and that the States "Lange" was, and that it permitted to the worthy matron of the "County Hotel" to any unnecessary trouble. Her feminine pleading proved too much for the leader, bearded Caid, and he sent her away with a reprimand.

FUGITIVE.

Two very frequent occupants of the cells were then favored with an interview, and not "all the tears that sorrowing maidens shed" could prevent the Magistrate from committing Miss Mary McMillan and Miss Ellen Green to 30 days free lodging in the County House. They left the Court threatening to assault the "Police" on their release from captivity.

LOOKING FOR LEAVE OF ABSENCE.

Mrs. Sophia Blanchard sought permission to make a trip to Colorado, at the expense of the worthy Chairman of the Poor Committee, but Mr. Bartlett declined to grant her leave for travel, although she procured the following strong recommendation in her behalf from a well known genius in town:

DEAR SIR:—This will be handed to your Honor by an exile from Erin. She is a widow with fifty-five small orphans and is in most deplorable circumstances. She is an unbeliever in Pope Pius IX. and is desirous of visiting her friends in Colorado. I ask it as a personal favor for you to guarantee her passage and I swear by the Holy Toe of St. Simon, she is not a Fenian. Yours, &c., HENRY HINCH.

LIFE DEPARTMENT.

THE principles on which this Company is

founded contain all the elements required

to develop the benefits of Life Assurance, and

afford every facility to intending assureds.—

One of the advantages secured by those who

insure their lives with this Company is that

the outside expenditure for Management is absolutely restricted by the Deed of Settlement

to Ten per Cent of the Net Life

Income. This most important restriction

shows that the interests of participating policy

holders are closely watched and carefully attended by the Company. Attention is especially called to this point, as the proportion

of premiums expended for Management

Must Largely Influence Profits

and Bonuses.

The next division of profits takes place in

1868, and all those who wish to participate in

the profits should insure at once.

oir, and the Kitchen. Everything, in fact,
to make a complete Lady's Book.
THE LADIES' FAVORITE FOR 37 YEARS.

No Magazine has been able to compete with the Lady's Book enables every lady to be her own bonnet maker.

MARION HARLAND, Author of
"Auntie's Path," "Moss Side," "Ne-tles," and "Miriam," writes for Godey each month, and for no other Magazine. A new

A Clergyman in the Divorce Court.

In the Divorce Court, the case Boot vs. Boot was heard. This was a petition by a wife for a judicial separation, on the ground of adultery. The respondent, who is a clergyman of the Church of England, denied the charge. The Queen's Advocate and Dr. Tristram appeared for the petitioner; the respondent conducted his case in person. The petitioner is the daughter of Mr. G. Smith, a magistrate and a gentleman of property in Cornwall, and she married the respondent, the Rev. Richard Webster Boot, in January, 1859. They afterwards lived together at Penzance, near Dudley, the respondent being the perpetual curate of that place, and they had three children. Mr. Boot got into difficulties, and in October 1865, he was obliged to leave Penzance, and has never since returned to his family. Mrs. Boot and her children have since lived at her father's, in Cornwall, and have been supported by him. The adultery was alleged to have been committed with a girl named Eliza Brinton, who went into the respondent's service in August, 1863, as a nurse-maid being then thirteen or fourteen years old. In January, 1865, she left his service and the respondent afterwards put her to school, and from time to time from that date to the present he has travelled about with her to London, to Paris, to Brighton, to Havre and other places. They lived together in these places in lodgings and hotels, passing as father and daughter, and occupying separate bedrooms. On two occasions, however, they had occupied the same bedroom, and according to the evidence of a French chambermaid, they had on one of these occasions, at Havre, slept in the same bed. Several letters were found in the respondent's cash-box after his departure, written by him to Eliza Brinton while she was at school, and before he left his home, and they were produced. They were all in the most affectionate terms. She addressed him as "My very dear, dear minister" and "My dearest Eliza," and signed herself "Your devoted and affectionate lady." Several well-written letters by the respondent to his wife since he left were also read. They were full of expressions of affection and piety, and contained some solemn denials of the truth of the charge of immorality which had been brought against him. The only witness called by the respondent was the girl Eliza Brinton, who is now between seventeen and eighteen years old. When in the witness box she addressed him and spoke of him as "Papa," and he called her "My child." She positively swore that no impropriety had ever passed between them, and said that he had adopted her as his daughter, paid for her maintenance, and had never since her father's death, and that whenever they were travelling about together they occupied separate bedrooms, except on two occasions, once at Havre and once at Chislehampton, when, in consequence of the hotel being full, they were obliged to sleep in double bedded rooms. In cross-examination she detailed the various places they had visited together, and said that they were now living in the Waterloo road. The respondent, in addressing the jury, appealed to them on behalf of his aged mother, who was now offering up her prayers for her only son, and on behalf of the poor girl whose character would be blighted by a verdict of guilt. He had promised her father on his deathbed to watch over and protect her, and he would never desert her. The Judge-Ordinary, in summing up, said that the respondent, whether he was innocent or guilty of the charge, had himself effectually blighted the girl's reputation by the manner in which he had taken her about with him during the last two years. If he were guilty what a monstrous outrage it was that he, a clergyman of the church of England, should put into the witness box the girl whom he had seduced, and obliged her to commit perjury for the purpose of protecting himself! But they must not allow their judgment to be disturbed by those pious lies. They must examine the evidence carefully and calmly. They had heard the story told by the girl and the explanation of it given by the respondent and they must say whether it was possible, taking as charitable a view of it as they could, to reconcile it with innocence. The jury immediately found that the respondent had committed the adultery charged. Judicial separation and the custody of the children given to the petitioner.—London Times.

Too Late Repents.—The moment a friend, or even a mere acquaintance, is detected how surely there starts up before us each instance of unkindness of which we have been guilty towards him. In fact, many and many an act or word which while he was in life did not seem to us to be unkind at all, now "bites back" as if it were a serpent, and shows us what it really was. Alas! 'twas thus we caused to suffer him who rose up just and yet we did not pity or reproach ourselves. There is always a bitterness beyond that of death in the dying of a fellow-creature to whom we have been unjust and unkind.

"Now boys, I want you should tell me what you most want to have when you grow to be men. Think a moment before you answer. Up came several hands and he called the first boy for his hand, and "Whiskers!" shouted the boy, with such emphasis that it put an effectual stop to any further questions.—Albion.

GREAT FRESHET.

NEW YORK, May 10.—There is a great freshet along the Erie rail road. At Oswego the bridges were carried away. As Macony the track was covered with sand and two or three feet deep.

EUROPEAN CORRESPONDENCE.

NEW YORK, May 10.—The Herald's Paris correspondent referring to the same building is the extensive Sewing Machine Manufacturing of C. E. Irwin & Co. This useful article has become indispensable in the domestic circle, in the shop and in the factory, and you can scarcely go into any large well-to-do family without hearing their cheerful click strike on your ear. Instead of the pale-faced sewing girl, wearing out her fingers, dimming her eyes, and wearing out the little life she has, in the never-ceasing stitch, stitch, stitch, you see rosy faces and laughing eyes, and hear the musical click of the magical instrument. It is only a few years since this firm established their factory here, and it was not until a year or two ago that the extent or value of their business was made known. It was not until the firm had made their machines as perfect as skill and ingenuity could make them that they introduced them into the market. The best evidence that they have got a good machine is seen in the fact that at both the Provincial Exhibitions in Canada East and Canada West they have repeatedly carried off the first prizes, and had one of their machines purchased by the Canadian Commissioners, and sent to the Paris Exhibition. And there is no reason why just as good Sewing Machines cannot be made here as in the United States or in any other part of Canada. Any one going into the factory of Messrs. Irwin & Co., and witnessing the various machines in operation, examining the material of which they are made, and knowing that none but first-class workmen are employed, may very easily satisfy themselves that just as good, just as durable, and just as highly finished machines can be made here as elsewhere. This firm employs twenty men in the factory, and have besides twenty agents in different parts of the Province. During the past year their business has about doubled. At present they have four hundred machines under way, and they can turn out about twenty a week. With in the last year or two they have added certain descriptions of machinery by which they now make everything connected with the Sewing Machine, on the premises. All the castings are made by Messrs. Walker & Co. Their business is a gratifying evidence of Canadian enterprise, and we wish the firm every success.

WRECK.

TOMAS RIVER, N. J., May 9.—The Herald's Tomas River, N. J. correspondent says the schooner Joseph Holmes, from Virginia, came ashore at Long Beach, on May 8th. The Captain, Holmes, and two men were lost.

JEFF, DAVIS AGAIN.

NEW YORK, May 10.—The Times's special says Chief Justice Chase had nothing to do whatever with the issue of the writ of habeas corpus in the case of Jeff Davis, and that his name was attached as a mere matter of form. The commander at Fort Monroe, will put the prisoner in the hands of the United States Marshall, who will be responsible for his custody. Mr. Davis will be furnished rooms at Spotswood House, Richmond, until after hearing of return to the writ. Thus the Government does not release its hold upon the prisoner, and the matter of bail has not been thought of. The case is now merely as to why Government holds the prisoner.

RIOT AT RICHMOND.

RICHMOND, Va., May 9.—A serious riot occurred this morning. A fight took place, and a negro was arrested. The mob of negroes rescued him, but he was again captured. Three policemen were injured with passing stones. The mob swelled to nearly one thousand blacks. A company of soldiers charged bayonets and drove them away. The riot is not likely to be renewed.

ACCIDENT TO D. B. SOLMES, Esq.—The Piton Gazette says: We regret to announce that D. B. Solmes Esq., was the victim of an accident on Saturday evening, which well-nigh deprived him of life. He was returning home from Green Point, and when in the vicinity of Walter Slicker's opened his carriage, at which the horse took fright, ran away, and threw Mr. Solmes several feet. When found he was insensible, with a severe contusion above the right eye, and remained in a state of semi-consciousness for some 10 hours. From the best information we have been able to get, he is gradually improving, and will likely be "all right" in a few days. His friends will be rejoiced to learn that the accident, although a severe one, will not long prevent Mr. Solmes from prosecuting his business with vigor, and in the meantime let not the vigilance of his supporters slumber, but rather let more determined action be put forth to make up as far as possible for the time lost in consequence of the accident.

WALKER & CO'S FOUNDRY.

The firm of J. M. Walker & Co., occupy the premises formerly in the possession of the Messrs. Patterson and carry on the same description of business. Although established but little over two years, they have worked up a trade which extends over the whole of our County, and a considerable portion of the Counties adjoining. Their manufactures comprise everything in the Foundry line, and they enter largely into the manufacture of Agricultural Implements, Mill Machinery, &c., &c. Within the last year their business has more than doubled, and now reaches to between $20,000 and $30,000 a year. A steel plough, combining some valuable improvements, which they manufacture, is much sought after by good farmers, and indeed all the Agricultural Implements are made of the best material, have the latest improvements, and are obtaining an extensive sale throughout the country. Their machinery, of which they have a large quantity, and which embraces all the modern improvements, is run by water power, of which they have an ample supply throughout the greater portion of the year. Within a short period this machinery has been added to, and judging from the amount of business done, they will soon need to largely increase their facilities. The firm of the Messrs. Walker is composed of practical men, who act in the capacity of foreman for each department, and thoroughly understanding their business, they must succeed. They cast about two tons of iron a week, and use a large amount of steel which they import direct from England. They give employment to twenty-five men, whose wages average from $175 to $200 a week.

IRWIN & CO'S SEWING MACHINERY.

In the upper part of the same building is the extensive Sewing Machine Manufacturing of C. E. Irwin & Co. This useful article has become indispensable in the domestic circle, in the shop and in the factory, and you can scarcely go into any large well-to-do family without hearing their cheerful click strike on your ear. Those Barrels.

The Rochester Union of May 4th, contains the following account of the raid on the Richardson mine, and the contents of the new famous potash barrels. This story is a fair sample of how news travels; whether the Union is misleading or serious, we know not, but one thing is certain, it is most egregiously mistaken:

The steamer Corinthian brought to this port last night, four barrels containing mud from the Richardson gold mine, Madoc, C.W. This mud is on its way to Boston to be subjected to a close assay for the purpose of determining how much, if any, gold it contains. This Richardson mine is located and has been excavated for a considerable distance from the surface. The Canadian party owning this mine sold it to a Chicago Company, which failed to pay as agreed. A Boston company then entered into a contract for the purchase of the mine. These Boston people did not intend to purchase a gold mine, but a mud mine. They went to Madoc, C.W. since with a large force of men, and took possession of the mine. After pumping out the water they scraped up four barrels of mud and shipped it for Boston, as stated above. It is reported that their operations were quite satisfactory, and that they would take the mine on the terms agreed upon for the purchase.

ANOTHER VERSION.

The Rochester Democrat of the 8th, also contains an account, and through not so far astray as the Union, it is still wide of the mark as to facts, still we give it to show what others say:

"One day last week the Corinthian brought to this port four casks of earth and sand, supposed to be richly impregnated with the precious metal. It was intended to be sent to Boston for assay, but there is a hitch in the matter which may change its destination. It appears that Mr. Richardson, the original owner of the land on which the mine is located, sold or agreed to sell the mining privilege to parties living in Boston, Mass., and Belleville, C.W. But afterwards he received a more advantageous offer from Leonard & Hardin, of Chicago, and sold to them also. The latter caused the four casks of "glittering earth" to be mailed, and shipped it off. But a consignment certificate arrived with it, and the Boston and Belleville owners have come on, protesting against the removal of the property. They are accompanied by the United States Consul at Belleville. What interest he has in the matter we cannot say. At any rate the four casks of earth are now in Rochester, in possession of Collector Kelly. What disposition of them will finally be made can only be conjectured. The contents of the casks are asserted to be worth $150,000. We haven't faith enough to believe. They are worth one quarter or one eighth of that sum in themselves; but there may be very good reasons why certain parties are not anxious to have their value tested by a scientific assay. Mind, we do not say that there are any such reasons."

SPECIAL TELEGRAMS.

FROM MONTREAL.

MONTREAL, May 10.

A sad tragedy occurred on the Nestorian on her way to this port. A lady, name unknown, discovering a former husband on board was seized by remorse and sprang overboard and was at once lost to view. The vessel was heaved to and the life buoys sent over, but in vain.

A company of the Royal Canadian Rifles is to be transferred from St. Johns to Kingston about the 14th.

A lad about 15, son of Mr. Gibson, Clerk in the locomotive office, Point St. Charles, was accidentally struck by a passing car while he was on the track, and killed.

BELLEVILLE CHURCH CLUB.—At a late meeting of the above Club the following officers were elected: President, C. J. Stirling; Vice-President, A. Robertson; Treasurer, C. Henry; Secretary, E. R. Benjamin; Committee, J. Reeves, W. C. Nunn, Wm. Mills, S. S. Larier, F. Bogart, C. Miller and James Albion.

PARTY LINES.—The New York Albion says: "Oppositionists in Canada West who would, if they could, revive old party lines and issues, must find new men to aid them in their plans, for we are convinced that the Western Canada Delegates are too well pleased with their work to lend a hand in undoing it just now."

THE CURRENCY QUESTION.—At a meeting held on Monday evening by a number of citizens, it was decided to purchase John Bell's lot, in the Front of Sidney, and form a Joint-stock Company, under 22 Vic., Cap. 67, and a Committee of five from each Protestant Church was appointed to ascertain the number of lots that can be sold at the present time, and report at a meeting to be held on the 27th inst., at 7½ o'clock, at the office of C. L. Coleman, Esq., lots not to be less than 100 feet (superficial).

GRAND TRUNK, BELLEVILLE.—For some months there has been an increase in the traffic at Belleville Station. We have been favored with the receipts for the month of April, which show an increase over corresponding months of last year of $104.65 on passengers, and $904.41 on merchandise received. The receipts on freight forwarded are the same as last year. This looks very favorable and speaks well for the increased activity of business in this town and locality.

THE DOMESTIC SPINNER.—This is emphatically the age of labor-saving machines. Go where you will, into the dairy, the domestic circle, in the shop, in the counting house, in the factory, or in the field, you find the latest contrivances of man have revolutionized labor, and lessened the cost of production fifty and a hundred per cent. The sewing machine has taken the place of the needle, the reaping machine of the sickle, the spinning jenny of the old spinning wheel, and a hundred other machines have supplanted the old-fashioned custom of doing business. Among the new labor saving machines we have recently examined, is the "Domestic Spinner," of Mr. John Laxer, which is one of the simplest and most ingenious contrivances for the kind of work it performs yet introduced. The "Domestic Spinner" was invented by Devereux Hart, and the inventor has just introduced them into the market. It spins, reels, doubles and twists, and is adapted to all custom cards. The rolls are placed on an ordinary spool, holding about two pounds of wool, and the machinery is so Winding Operations. More shows of gold. Lumber Changing. Modest Demands. Gold. Mining. Where Companies Organizing. Mines. Shanty. Chinese. Cradle. Want For Weather.

FROM OUR OWN CORRESPONDENT.

BRIDGEWATER, May 9, 1867.

Rain, rain, rain, and still it rains even when I write, everything looking dull, cattle looking low spirited, farmers rueful, and miners in the dumps, as all operations of course cease in such weather as we are having now, but we hope for the best.

Mining operations have been carried on with vigor when the weather has permitted. The mine I mentioned as having visited in my last, is being worked by Messrs. Harrison and Breeze. They have had a further show of gold and are expecting soon to find more, the indications becoming stronger the deeper they go, but nothing will be done of any moment till the weather is more propitious; then many who are now idling their time away will become vigorous miners, and we shall really see what this section can produce; and I shall be both surprised and disappointed if it does not turn out quite equal to any of the districts where gold has been found. I am strengthened in this by sundry conversations I have had with men from California and other gold countries, who one and all agree that there is every appearance of the precious metal being beneath our feet; certain it is that the Esplanade Lots have changed hands at a high figure, where the prospect no gold could have been purchased for three dollars an acre or less, and to men who were not likely, judging from appearances, to sink any funds unless there was a pretty sure prospect of a good return for the outlay. As a proof of this, I have been told of a good authority, of one lot of a hundred acres close by here, which the owner was offering for one hundred dollars before the gold excitement commenced, and two gentlemen from up West visited here and went away highly delighted at having purchased this lot at an amount much higher than told me, but both buyers and sellers were perfectly satisfied with their bargain. I saw two gentlemen from Belleville here to-day who are representative of a company, were in search of mineral lands. One lot of one hundred acres, they will, I think, purchase, the price asked being two thousand dollars. Some of the gentlemen who caused by the modest manner in which the land owner asked seven hundred pounds an acre for his lot; but as the prospects were known to be good, they have made a bargain the result of which is not at present known, and they are inspecting the lot now. Several representatives of companies have been here and all express themselves satisfied with the general indications.

I told you in my last of a company having been located here, had, or were about to purchase a lot; they have made a purchase of land of Mr. B. Cornell, who lives just outside the village, and have commenced work—but, being stopped by the weather, have only got about two feet from the surface; but so well satisfied with what they have seen, and having inspected the quartz myself, I think they have every reason to expect a successful issue to their undertaking. Another company has been formed here also, and is about to purchase the land that they are about to purchase, they have not thought it prudent to make known; but success to them say I, for it looks like business when people in the immediate neighborhood are not afraid to invest their capital, it shows to say the least, that gold seeking has honor in its own country.

My attention has been called to two useful articles, one an invention, and the other an improvement on an invention by Mr. George Wolfe of this place; the first is a miner's shanty, this is a very complete affair, it is movable, requires neither nails nor screws, but is grooved together, has a door and window, is twelve feet square inside measurement, and makes a very neat looking house, beds can be so arranged inside as to give four men separate sleeping places, and leave a space ten feet by twelve for cooking and other purposes; he tells me two men can put the house up in half an hour and take it down in less time; the whole building contains one thousand feet of inch lumber only, and the price is such as would induce any miner to become a purchaser.

The second is an improvement on the "Chinese Cradle," which consists of one strainer instead of two, and by arranging this one in a particular manner, he claims that it can be washed better and more effectively than by the original, and with no possibility of loss.

I said in my last, that I heard there were some good prospects back of this—the daily reports go to strengthen the previous rumors, but I will defer saying any more till I have certain information on this subject. In my description of the village, I ought to have mentioned in addition to the factories I enumerated, the extensive cabinet manufacturing owned by Messrs. Frost Brothers, and the large iron works, belonging to Mr. Garrett, the machinery of these establishments is worked by steam power.

Should the weather prove favorable, the miners are preparing to go to work with will, and then I hope to be able to report a "pining" show of the precious metal.

The Bridge ("Canadian") tells the story of a man from the country, who called at a hardware store in that city, and after being shown a large assortment of shovels, turned to the clerk, remarking, "my wife's patty said, that if I don't even thing it she gets any better; give I my wife any shovels?"

THE NEWS HERE BY THE DAILY about the detention of the "barrelled gold" at Rochester has given general satisfaction. Now say the people—will the public know, if these barrels are opened just how rich the Richardson Mine is. Sharp practice all round. If the act interferes with the injunction it may be something serious for the parties who carried the gold away.

I have not seen it mentioned in the Daily, but it is reported here, that as injunctions are the order of the day, that an embargo has been laid upon these barrels of gold going to say gold, but scarcely dare use the word quartz, lest, decomposed "field" "chit" and other kinds of "spare" would be better, that contain gold—that in short two gentlemen of the Belleville Company followed the barrels to Rochester, employed a Yankee lawyer, sued out a writ of attachment, injunction, or something else of that kind, by which the barrels and contents are held in "chancery" until our own dear Chancery shall in its wisdom decide the knotty point, as to the ownership. If this is so, it is not a proof that Canadians are quite capable of taking care of themselves. This case is truly "Canuck" re. "Yankee," and no fear, notwithstanding the showiness for which Boston's machinery gets credit, I am now of the opinion that in business, as well as war, "Canuck" is quite capable of taking care of himself.

The Bitterness of Falsehood.

A dying father once stretched out his hand to his little white-headed boy, a youth of seven years old, and said affectionately—
"My little boy, I am very sick, and wish you to run down to Mr. B's, and get me the medicine written on this paper."

The druggist's store was about half a mile distant, but when the boy got there he found it shut; and although Mr. B. lived but a quarter of a mile off, he concluded not to go and find him, but to return home. On his way back he contrived what he should say,
and in doing so, called in the aid of falsehood.
At length he arrived. His father said—
"My son has got the medicine; I hope, for I am in great pain."

The boy then replied to his father, who thought little of what he was doing—
"No sir; Mr. B. says he has none."

The dying man answered—
"My little son, will then see his father suffer much pain for want of that medicine?"
The child went out of the room and wept bitterly.

Soon after he was called back to take a fond farewell of his best earthly friend; for the little boy's mother was dead; and as the dying father told his son that in a few hours he would be a fatherless orphan; that he must make God his father, and obey him; that he should always keep the truth, because the eyes of God was always upon him; with many other admonitions, accompanied by prayer, it seemed as if the child would sink
he felt so guilty. Sobbing, he rushed from the bedside and wished he could die.

The dying man could speak no more, and O, how much that little boy would have given to ask his father's forgiveness for the lie he had so wickedly told him! O, how his heart ached! He ran to the druggist's, got the medicine, and rushed to the death-bed, some crying—
"O here, father!" but he was hushed—his father was dead. And the little boy never spoke to him to tell him a lie. O bitter, bitter falsehood! gail and wormwood are sweet compared with thee!

Twelve years afterwards, and while at college, this little boy, now a young man, went to the grave of his father, and as he stood over his tombstone he seemed to see his pale face again, and to hear his voice.
Hear what he says—
"O, the thought of that sin cuts me to the heart. It seems as if that world would not be too much to give could I only call loud enough to him to ask forgiveness. But it is too late, and I must live and die weeping over that falsehood."

The Sabbath a Loving Day.
"Mother, I suppose one reason why they call the Sabbath a holy day is because it is a loving day," said a little boy, as he stood by his mother's side, and looked up into his mother's face.

"Why, is not every day a loving day?" asked his mother. "I love father, and father loves me, and we both love you and the baby,
every day as well as Sunday."

"Well, but you have no time to tell us so on week days," said the little boy. "You have to work; and father has to go off early to his work, and in so long a time as he comes home!" but on Sunday he takes me to his knee and tells me Bible stories; and we go to God's house together; and oh, it is such a loving day!"

"Yes my child," said the father; "it is a lovely, loving day. God gave it to us in love, that tired men might rest from their hard work, and fathers, who see how steadily their children on other days, might teach them and enjoy them on that day. God is love, and Jesus Christ is love, and the Sabbath is a gift of love."

Are there any parents whose duties will not allow them to pay special attention to their children on Sunday? The above question of the little boy contains a hint so suggestive of what might be done to make children love the Sabbath that earnest attention to it by parents would well repay them.

Power of Christianity.
So have I seen the sun with a little ray of distant light challenge all the power of darkness, and without violence and noise climbing up the hill, hath made night so retired that its memory was lost in the joys and brightness of the morning. And Christianity, without violence or armies, without resistance and self-preservation, without strength or human eloquence, without challenging of privileges or fighting against,
without alteration of government and scandal
of princes, with its humility and meekness,
with tolerations and patience, with obedience and charity, with praying and dying, did in-sensitibly turn the world into Christian, and persecution into victory.—Jeremy Taylor.

A Fable.
A young man once picked up a sovereign lying on the road. Ever afterwards, as he walked along, he kept his eye steadily on the ground, in hopes of finding another. And in the course of his long life, he did pick up at different times, a good amount of gold and silver. But all these days as he was looking for them, he saw not that heaven was bright above him, and nature beautiful around.
He never once allowed his eyes to look up from the mud and dirt in which he sought
the treasure, and when he died a rich old man, he only knew this earth of ours as a dirty road to pick up money as you walk along.

"For what do you thank me, sir?" said
a beautiful young lady, angrily, to a stranger,
at a party, an evening or two since. "I beg your pardon, madam," which he thought winked as men do looking at the sun—your splendor dazzled my eyes."

NEW YORK, May 11th.—The Herald's London special says, The Fortress of Luxemburg will be evacuated by German troops and razed to the ground. No troops will be retained within the territory of Luxemburg, except a force which may be necessary to maintain order and preserve peace. The pressure which was exerted on the plenipotentiaries in the Congress by the defiant attitude which the opposing Powers maintained towards each other, combined with the knowledge which the members had of the great war preparations which were being carried on at the continent led to a very speedy action on the part of the confederate representatives.

In the House of Commons on the evening of the 9th, Lord Stanley congratulated the House and Country at large on the fact that the good sense and moderation of the powers primarily interested in the Luxemburg difficulty had the effect of arresting the unspeakable calamities which would ensue to the people from a European war. With respect to the part taken by Her Majesty's Government in the matter, the Cabinet acted in accordance with constitutional usages on their ministerial responsibility as the official advisers of the Crown and Sovereign, whose responsibility as well as the reasons which induced them to undertake it, they were ready to vindicate in Parliament and before the country. The matter had become very critical, ministers were informed every moment by telegram and otherwise of the increasing gravity of the case, so he (Lord Stanley) would not take upon himself to postpone or delay an arbitrament desired by all the parties interested, and imposed on the Conference, when by so doing he would most likely prevent altogether the maturing and giving expression to the sentiment. With reference to the guarantee of the neutrality of Luxemburg he (Lord Stanley) regretted to observe that the House of Commons should show a susceptibility with regard to the action of the Cabinet. The members of the House were aware that England, and what was an uncommon occurrence, the remainder of the Great Powers who were parties to the Luxemburg and Helgo-Holand Treaty of the year 1869, had absolutely guaranteed the territory of Luxemburg to the King of Holland at that time. What the Government had now done was to adapt that guarantee to the present circumstances of the case and render it efficacious in view of the changes that had taken place in the German Confederation. Ministers had not extended, but on the contrary had rather limited the guarantee incurred in 1869, and by that action conferred the responsibility which the country sustained under it.

The present negotiations were brought to a conclusion within the space of a few days, and then the whole of the papers connected with the proceedings of the London Peace Congress of 1867 would be laid before Parliament. Lord Clarendon followed the close of Lord Stanley's speech.

During the close of the debate in the House of Commons on the Disraeli compromise reform amendment, Mr. Gladstone said, the Government bill was a "paltry, transparent and disingenuous pretence of a measure for the extension of the franchise, and he deplored it of its even being made a good or beneficial one, by amendment in the House. Mr. John Bright delivered a speech in which he declared that the Derby bill was the most unjust and offensive measure ever submitted to the Commons of England.

Mr. Roebuck and Mr. Disraeli defended the Government bill and plan. The debate closed after the speech of the Chancellor of the exchequer.

Strangers were then excluded from the House and the division taken, when the doors were opened, it was declared the votes were for the Government bill thus:—For Government, 323, against 350. Majority for Government 67. The announcement of the result was read amid loud and protracted cheering from the Ministerial benches.

MONTREAL, May 11th.

PERSONAL.—The Hon. A. Bryan, who has held various official positions in the United States, under Presidents Buchanan and Lincoln, paid our town a visit during this week, on his tour through Canada. He speaks in the highest terms of Canada and the Canadian people. He proposes visiting Montreal and other points of interest, before returning home. Let us hope he may carry with him many pleasing recollections of his visit to this country.

THE EIGHT HOUR SYSTEM.—The strike on the part of the employed in Chicago, on account of the refusal of employers to accede to the demand made that a day's work should consist of eight hours only is resulting in favor of the strikers, who collected workmen from other places, and so many arrived that there was reason to fear the strikers would be permanently thrown out of employment, and to prevent this some of them have gone to work. The Tribune says the only place where work has not been resumed, are the Railway shops. This system of strikes never accomplishes any permanent good, but creates much dissatisfaction and loss to both workmen and employers.

Two Weights and two Measures.

Under this caption the Intelligencer and Leader are striving to make a virtual capital out of the fact that Mr. Greely yielded at the Convention that he would have preferred a Legislative Union, and intimate that he will follow Spain like or be driven where and whenever Mr. Brown pleases. Both the Leader and the Intelligencer know that the time, during the past four years, has not schooled Mr. Brown; and they both make this statement when they have known that Mr. Greely, before his nomination said that "he could not be carried through the drive by any political party." Be truthful gentlemen.

So says the Picton Times, and we are glad to find that Mr. Greely has so soon after becoming a Candidate for the local legislature in Prince Edward, found it necessary to disavow any leanings to the Brown party. Let him continue this course, and he will soon find Mr. Brown's organ directing its thunderbolts at him.

We know well that the Times has been a consistent opponent of Confederation from the beginning, and we know that Mr. Greely as the Editor of that Journal, stated that fact at the Reform Convention, and that he would prefer a Legislative to a Federal Union, thus echoing the sentiments of the Hon. John H. and Mr. C. Cameron; and that notwithstanding the Globe accepts Mr. Greely as one worthy of support and countenance, in whom the future destinies of the New Dominion can safely be trusted, but opposes the election of the others though holding the same sentiments, as dangerous enemies to Confederation. It was this point that we wished to point out, showing the inconsistency and no-principle tactics of the Globe.

Of this the Times has no cause of complaint. If Mr. Greely and the Times for the "past four years have not echoed Mr. Brown," it is to be regretted that in the fifth year they have returned to their old love, and are now following "Spain like" the dicta of that journal, in endeavoring to establish a party cry without party principles and adopting a name without at the same time, informing the electors what it means, and what are the distinctive points which are to guide them in their future legislation. So far the following is complete. What does Mr. Greely mean by declaring, if he did so, and we accept the declaration, that "he would not be carried through the dust by any political party?" Are we to understand that he wishes to be considered what is styled an "independent member," eschewing both sides of the House? Or does he mean that he will support a coalition in future? Or that he is in favor of a continuance of the present coalition? Or in fact that he has no party, belongs to no party, and does not intend to be identified with any party? If any of these positions he has, why did he accept a nomination from what was called a Reform Convention, and declare his adhesion to that party name, though holding views diametrically opposed to those of the leaders of that party? The whole thing is a broad farce, for him to talk about not being "carried through the dust by any political party." We venture to predict, that if the electors of Prince Edward give him a four year lease of a seat in the Legislature of Ontario he will be as humble and docile a follower of the great Ontario as any man in the West; unless indeed we are to understand that the declaration of not being "carried through the dust by any political party," on the part of Mr. Greely, is an intimation that he intends to use the mighty and gigantic intellect with which he has been blessed, in the moulding and chiselling into shape a party of his own, of which he will become the wielding power in the State. If this be his meaning we admire his ambition, and shall be delighted to see him soar above his fellows, and leave in the shade the now aspiring aspirant for the dictatorship. We cannot help expressing our belief, however, that a much less praiseworthy object is in view. The electors of Prince Edward are not over and above fond of George Brown or his antecedents, hence the necessity of disowning him by Mr. Greely, until elected. This game has been played successfully before in that County, and no doubt it is thought can be again, but we mistake the character and honesty of the electors, if they are humbugged by any declaration on the part of Mr. Greely, that "he will not be carried through the dust by any political party." His acceptance of a nomination by purely one party, shows its absurdity. Mr. Ross, who declared himself always a Reformer at the same convention that nominated Absalom Greely, is also playing a little game in the same way, of which we may have a word to say hereafter, when it will be seen that he is not the immaculate he professes to be, but quite as trickily as similar politicians.

LAUNCH AT MILL POINT.—The Andino, a new schooner built for Messrs. Rothbarn & Son, at Mill Point, by Mr. Tate, at a cost of $7,000, was launched a few days ago, she is pronounced a first class vessel, and will trade between Belleville and Oswego.

Hastings Drill Association.

Last night the adjourned meeting of this Association was held at the Army of the 10th Battalion. The Minutes of the preceding meeting were read and in accordance therewith Col. Campbell, 15th Batt., was appointed President; and Lieut. Colonel Brown, 40th Batt., and Capt. Nunn, 3rd. Batt., G. T. R. Vice Presidents. Lieut. Crowther, G. T. R. B., was appointed Secretary. The following gentlemen were present, and from such a commencement we may well hope that the Association will be a great success:

15TH BATTALION.—Lieut. Col. Campbell, Lieut. Col. Suberland, Major Wallbridge, Capt. and Adj. Hume, Capt. Stephens, Capt. Wills, Capt. Holton, Lieut. Holston, Lieut. L. Crozier.

40TH BATTALION.—Lieut. Col. Brown, Major Bower, Capt. James, Capt. Hambley, Ensign Cartwright.

3RD. BATTALION, G. T. R. B.—Capt. Nunn, Capt. Murphy, Lieut. Crowther, Ensign Hennessey.

MILITARY BOARD.—Mr. Terwilliger, Mr. Stevens, Mr. J. Thompson.

MILITARY SCHOOL.—Mr. E. Harrison, Mr. J. Crozier.

Steam Fire Engine.

Notice was given that the Steam Fire Engine "Moria," would be tested at 5 o'clock yesterday afternoon, under the supervision of Mr. L. Button, the manufacturer; but owing to the heavy rain that prevailed, it was considered advisable to postpone the trial until 5 o'clock, when the steamer was brought out, and at 20 minutes past 5 "fired up." Coal formerly purchased for the engine and pine wood were used, and in nine minutes after the lighting of the fire, steam went up to 20 lbs., and in 15 minutes 50 lbs. of steam were raised, and the water propelled to the height of three stories, through 350 feet of hose. Mr. Button then put on all the pressure that the steamer could produce with the steam at 60 lbs., and threw water to the top of Mr. Vail's building, when the hose burst near the Engine and stopped. Further experiments were stopped.

Mr. Button went before the Committee and stated his conclusions as follows: That he considered the coal an inferior quality, and would only produce an ordinary amount of steam, and could not keep it up beyond 50 lbs.; that for the purpose of testing the Engine he considered the coal as worthless. In view of these facts, and to give the Engine and Mr. Button every opportunity of testing her capacity, Mr. Robertson, Chairman of the Committee, directed Mr. Button to proceed to Toronto and procure the requisite coal, called the "Erie Kent," and give the Steamer another trial on Monday. We understand that Mr. Button proceeded to Toronto by the 7:30 train last evening. It is still contended by practical parties that the Engine has no boiler surface sufficient to generate the proper quantity of steam; and by others, that it is wholly the fault of the fuel. Another trial with the proper quality of coal will decide these points.

FROM MARMORA.

From our own Correspondent.

Effect of opening the Richardson Mine—Gold discovered—How secured—Native productions—Exports and Imports—Railway interest—Emigration and British Capital.

MARMORA, May 8th, 1867.

The recent developments of the Richardson Mine, by putting the question concerning gold out of the region of doubt and of uncertainty, will act as a renewed stimulant to exploration, and will excite speculators to more intense activity.

It cannot be supposed that this is the only rich deposit of gold in that part of the country, for the operation of the same causes on the actions of the same material law, would produce very similar effects, no doubt, over a great extent of country. The discovery of such a rich deposit of gold by a mere accident must be followed by a succession of similar discoveries, as the result of well sustained efforts and researches, wherever outward appearances seem to warrant such an expectation.

The probability or possibility of obtaining, by some fortunate speculation, that which under ordinary circumstances could not be procured by the labor of a life, must exercise an overwhelming influence over the minds of hundreds and thousands of the community. Metals and minerals, being for the most part hidden from view, and belonging to the region of uncertainty as to their value, quantity and quality, must excite speculation and produce continual excitement, unknown to the common pursuits and ordinary prospects of mankind.

Our native productions, such as grain, lumber, potash, &c., are now supplemented in an extraordinary manner. The imports of this Province, hitherto continually liable to be in excess of its imports, will now (after a certain time) be decidedly in the other side of the scale, and this great North ern Confederation begin to possess a position of importance amongst the powers of the world. The want of capital, the high and continuous rate of interest on money, will now be in a fair way of yielding, as it were, to the operation of natural causes, or the supply of native productions. Emigration and British capital will now be in direct or driven from former channels and from foreign investments of a more than doubtful character, and will find an outlet in the direction of the great Confederation of the Colonies of the Western Continent.

FROM BROOKLIN.

SPECIAL CORRESPONDENCE.

ONTARIO CONFERENCE.

Brooklin again in a state of excitement, but not this time with an ill fever. For the information of our readers I may state that about three weeks ago the citizens of Brooklin were thrown into a state of wild excitement. As the frost began to leave the ground a person discovered an oil spring in the banks of a little creek that runs through the village. The oil seemed very pure, and for a time flowed quite freely. Properly begun to rise in value, and men were rich in anticipation; but, mirabile dictu, wonderful to tell, when they dug and traced it to its source they found their way into a Mr. Warren's cellar, and here had been stored a barrel of oil, and it had leaked away and filtered through the ground and oozed out of the creek bank. Now the oil speculation is very dull.

But now, they have another kind of excitement, for here are upwards of a hundred black coats. Last Wednesday morning the Ontario Annual Conference of the Methodist Episcopal Church of Canada commenced its fifth session in the M. E. Church, Brooklin. Bishops Philander Smith, D. D., and James Richardson, D. D., preside alternately. Bishop Smith, who is the senior officer, bears the impress of time in the increased force of infirmities. Not long will the good old Bishop remain here. Bishop Richardson, the loyal old warrior, looks still fresh and vigorous. Long may they live to serve their church.

This Ontario Conference was created about five years ago from parts of the old Bay Quinte and Niagara Conferences. Its bounds embrace the eastern portion of the Upper Province, beginning in the East at Belleville, and running West to Wellington Square, the division line running from there in a North-westerly direction until it reaches Lake Huron. The Conference is divided into three Districts, which again are divided into upwards of fifty Divisions.

The ministers have come up with their usual gathering looking well and cheerful; death has not entered into the ranks the past year. The missionaries this year are looking well, rather better dressed than usual—this is a good sign of temporal and spiritual prosperity of the church and country.

The business of the Conference has passed off very well, the Conference funds and membership are increasing, and the members of the South Ontario, the people are certainly satisfied with the ruling Confederation. North Ontario has moved and had a convention, and selected their local Candidates.

Brooklin, May 11th, 1867.

For the Intelligencer.

ADDRESS OF THE EXCELSENT DEGREE MEMBER OF SOUTH HASTINGS, TO THE ELECTORS.

As we are about to enter upon a new era in our political history, we think the present a fitting time to address the public in reference to the character of those who are to represent us in our future Legislature.

We contend that such representatives should be strictly sober men, and men who would assist in all proper Legislation, by which the evils flowing from the use of alcoholic liquors, may be lessened.

The following may be given as some of the reasons for urging the friends of peace, sobriety, and government, to elect only such men to represent them—

- 1st. We require sober men, because brains which are looking well and cheerful, are very dull in the morning, and cannot perform the mental labor required of them.

If we hesitate to employ drunken workmen to perform bodily labor, much more should we hesitate to employ drunken men to think for us, and to enact laws to bind us.

2nd. Because the County requires better laws in respect to the manufacture and sale of alcoholic liquors.

No man is to sit in the Legislatures of this County, who is not prepared to vote for every proper measure by which that traffic, which causes three-fourths of the pauperism and crime in our Country, may be decreased.

3rd. Economy requires such men. Drunken men are proverbial for lavishness, and waste is one of the most potent means of corruption; hence we want sober representatives.

Our Country requires the productive labor of its 10,000 habitual drunkards; their families require their earnings; their neighbors require the peace and security for which they now pay but do not get; hence we want a temperance legislation.

4th. Because the friends of whistkey are already organized under the name of the "Licensed Victuallers Association," for the avowed purpose of electing only such men as will base measures to abolish even the restrictions by which they are now bound.

They demand that even the Sabbath shall be given to them, so that they may get to change for their drink, the hard earnings which properly belongs to the drunkards family.

In conclusion dear friends, we place the issue before you, as usual by the tavern keepers themselves. Will you assist the rum-sellers in hunting their prey; or will you assist us in securing peace, sobriety, and good legislation. Let the polls decide.

—Capt. King, who lost his foot at Fort Erie, is said to be at the polls.

—A party of Fenians in Cleveland boarded a British steamer on Monday, and tore down her colors.

—Whipping has been gradually abolished in the schools of France, Prussia, Holland and Germany.

Charge of the Light Brigade.

New York, March 17th, 1867.
"A POKE" IN YOUR GASTRO.
By Alfred Tenney's son—The Post Laureate.

Painfully your trayeth how Pat-riotism is propagated, also The Pictured Progress of Filtering Flagellants; otherwise, the Charge of the Blatant Blat-guard Brigade, or how Ireland was Liberated.

Half a square, half a square,
Half a square upward,
Straight for a whiskey shop
Bashed the six Hundred;
Eye at a rapid rate,
Corn in a liquid state,
Into their gubbing maws, Foamed the six Hundred;
"Charge it," quoth Captain Post;
"Charge!" echoed back the host.
"Roberts will pay the shot,
For the 'soft corn' we got,"
Cried the six Hundred.

SHOWETH how out of "pure cussedness" and
"spelling for a sight," each ditty fanatic furiously fought forty, lightened foes, and most meticulously mulctivated many meddling Metropolitans—the true oppressors of Ireland.

Up from the whiskey den,
Six Hundred drunken men
Battered and blundered;
"Be dornes!" to right of 'em,
"Be Jabberes!" to left of 'em,
Metropolitan front of 'em
Traumatised and wounded;
Savage the raid they made;
"Roberts will pay the shot,"
After the trembling "Meas," Rushed the six Hundred.

Mourish of Penny Whistles. Inter Horace Gresly, as chorns reciting an original
"Pome" entitled "Horatius Variations"
—(See N. Y. Tribune of the last four years)
—consisting of charges rung upon "Ireland's wrongs," "Fenians rights," "Make me State Governor," "Echoes in the distance," "Wait till you get it," How are Horace?" "Also, poor York!" Retirement of Chorus in dignat.

Touchingly telleth how those that thrived for glory, getting glimmeringly gutted, got gloriously gobbled by brass-buttoned burghers bearing business; that they thereupon involved to the Tomb, (Nora at rue Foxe);
They thereafter turned towards the town
tumble to toll there, reading respectful resolutions referring to retired Col.
Lynch and his staff, M. P. P.'s (Members Provincial Penitentiary).

Fenians ransomed at last;
And when the fight was past,
"I hope that had tumbled
Calmly sleep in the mud,
As all true heroes should,
Deceased of their laurels won,
Muttered and mumbled.
Gathered the fallen ones
Of the six Hundred;
Gobbled the gay brigade,
Blatant Blat-guard Brigade
All that was left of the Irish Republican (Mighty Guevins)
Scoured the six Hundred.

Contemneth the "More Als" and sheweth that too much ale is an agent that causes much siding. Also tactlessly allude to a certain voracious viper, and expatiates
the position of the "Polek" who sling on a stump and tagging his hands, cryeth,
"Stick 'em!" "Stick 'em!"
When will their black eyes fade?
When will the dues be paid
Of the less lucky ones
Of the Six Hundred?
A viper once, warned, they say,
But—let 'em bite, we say;
Bite every one of 'em,
"Atch" mother's son of 'em,
Till brought Jonathan
Learns who has blundered.

High Salaries.
"I am afraid," said a very good member of a Church to a ministerial friend, "that those high salaries are going to injure the ministry."
"Ah!" said the minister, "how much
did you give your minister twenty years ago?"
"Four hundred and seventy-five dollars."
"What did you charge him for wood then?"
"A dollar and a half a cord, and drew his wood every winter."
"How much would you charge him now?"
"About six dollars."
"How much did you use to charge for butter?"
"A way from Singapore to a shilling."
"How much would you ask now?"
"I should want fifty cents."
"That tells the story," said the minister; "a thousand dollars now is worth only about four hundred dollars twenty years since."
How ministers are to be injured by doubling old salaries, even were it done, it is difficult to see. Think of it, Church members!

A Texas Judge writes that there will be no court held in this county this spring, because the Indians have stolen all the horses, and lawyers and clerks cannot procure conveyance.

THE PEACE CONFERENCE.

FRENCH, GERMANY, RUSSIA AND GREECE ARMING.

English Intervention.

MILITARY CONSCRIPTION IN GREECE.

MARKETS.

BY ATLANTIC CABLE.

LONDON, May 12.—The treaty which was signed yesterday by the members of the Peace Congress, has been ratified by their respective Governments. By the terms of the settlement, the Port of Luxembourg is to be vacated by the Prussians within a month from the date of treaty.

BERLIN, May 12.—The French Cabinet has made satisfactory explanations to Prussia in regard to recent warlike preparations in France.

NEW YORK, May 12.—A cable despatch to the Mercury, dated May 11th, says. Notwithstanding the satisfactory solution of the Luxembourg question by treaty arrangement, fears are entertained and generally expressed that war has been only postponed by the work of the diplomatists. Warlike preparations are still actively carried on in France, Germany, Russia and Greece. It is said that before the close of the peace congress, a proposal is likely to be addressed by England to all Powers inclined to belligerent action, in which Queen Victoria will recommend and urge a general disarmament. Should this proposal be entertained, another Congress will probably assemble in London to second its formal adoption and uniform execution by all the great Powers; but it is thought that even this proposition will not be successful in securing the maintenance of peace.

The fourth military conscription during this year has been put in force in Greece, by which the Greek army has been increased thirty thousand men. The construction of the navy is also engaging serious consideration of the Greek Government. Large enrollments of seamen are now in process of completion.

JEFF DAVIS IN RICHMOND.

RICHMOND, May 11th.—The crowd around the Spottwood House dispersed after vainly waiting to see Mr. Davis. This evening he received visits of nearly a hundred prominent citizens, there was no restraint on his movements and he has the liberty of the house.

RICHMOND, Va., May 12.—The following is generally understood to be the programme in court to-morrow. The prisoner will be produced by Gen. Patton, and the judges will discharge him, he will be immediately re-arrested on a bench warrant, to answer to the indictment found by the Grand Jury at Norfolk. Mr. O'Connor, his counsel, has stated to his friends that he will insist on immediate trial. Another of his counsel states that if the trial is not granted, a motion for bail will be taken. The general opinion is, no trial will take place now and perhaps not until June. Horace Greeley and A. Sechell of New York, and A. Welch, and Gen. Jackson of Philadelphia, are here to go bail. It is generally believed that Davis will be held in custody until his trial.

RICHMOND, May 12.—Jeff Davis has been admitted to bail in the sum of $100,000. Horace Greeley, Augustus Schell and Judge Jackson of Pennsylvania, becoming bondsmen.

IRISH TENANT BILL.

FRENCH GRATITUDE.

QUEEN OF SPAIN SOLD HER JEWELS.

FRENCH PREPARATIONS FOR WAR.

PRUSSIA, TURKEY AND CANDIA.

FRENCH TERRITORIAL AGGRAVATION.

THE "TORNADO."

GALWAY STEAMERS TO BE SOLD.

Fenian Prisoners.

FRANCE ENCOURAGING THE SULTAN.

NEW YORK, May 12th.—The Palmyra from Liverpool and Queenstown, and the Benjamin and New York have arrived.

The Irish land tenant Bill has been discussed at length in the British House of Commons. Mr. Gregory moved an amendment declaring that no bill of the kind could be acceptable which did not provide for the adoption of a term of leases in Ireland.

Warm gratitude is expressed in French circles to Queen Victoria, whose personal intervention would prevent the great calamity of war; it would tend to draw ever closer the unity between the two countries.

The Queen of Spain sold almost all her jewels in London. A single diamond watch and chain brought $24,000, sterling.

It is stated that France continues to prepare for war, and that troops are arranged so that they can be concentrated almost immediately; but the organ generally favored peace.

The King of Prussia and Bismarck are expected to visit Paris after the close of the Prussian Chambers. The King's speech at the opening thereof, said they met to ratify the national unity.

Omar Pasha and another Turkish general were moving to surround the insurgents in Gallipoli, it is reported that Ross Bismarck became known.

Duke Gramont, the French minister at Vienna, said to Baron Bunsen that France gives up all ideas of territorial aggrandizement.

Lord Stanley had expressed to the Spanish government, the satisfaction of England at the solution of the case of the Tornado.

The Galway line of steamers Liberia, Columbia, and Anglo are advertised for sale. Twelve Fenian prisoners were brought from Thurilo, Tipperary, to Newgate, April 29th and lodged in jail for trial.

The Invalids Russ has an editorial on the Eastern question, hinting plainly that France with at least one other of the great powers secretly encourage the Sultan to disregard the demands of the insurgents and disregard the counsels given on behalf of the Christians.

BARONET EXETER.—The only surviving son of the late Sir L. H. Lafontaine died at St. Lawrence Hall, Montreal, on Friday, the 10th inst. He was only four years old, and the title dies with him.

LINE OF STEAMERS.—It is stated that the Cabinet on Saturday last, sanctioned the establishment of a weekly line of steamers from Quebec to the Lower Provinces, which means, we suppose, that a subsidy will be given.

THE NEW SENATORS.—It is stated in the Toronto Leader on the authority of a telegram from Ottawa, that the names of the Senators for the Province of Ontario and Quebec, have been sent to England, by the Atlantic cable, for the Queen's approval.

MINERALS AND METALS.—To-day we publish the first of a series of letters on the metals and minerals of the rear townships by Mr. James T. Bell. From Mr. Bell's intimate acquaintance with his subject we anticipate that these letters will be useful to many of our readers and acceptable to all.

THE COTTON CALIFORNIA MINISTERS.—By reference to our advertising columns, it will be seen that the above mentioned troupe will appear at NEWMAN'S HALL, on Tuesday EVENING, the 14th inst. The Hamilton Spectator, of the 4th, says:—The troupe is unquestionably the best that has ever visited our city; the jokes are free from vulgarity, the delineations of character exceedingly natural, and the dancing and songs are much above the average. The troupe will perform in Belleville but one night.

Mining Intelligence.

THE COOK FARM.

We have been informed upon reliable authority that on Thursday last Mr. Donald McGregor went to the Cook farm, lot No. 10, in the 2nd concession Madoc, to see whether gold could really be found in the Creek. He tried one pan full dug from out of the centre of the creek at the foot of a bluff, and on washing it, found from 50 to 100 colors of gold.

DESPERADO MINE.

The Desperado mine on lot 10, in the 5th concession, is now being worked, the shaft is sunk some 30 feet, and we are told that every painful guess a show of gold.

GOLD IN LOR.

Mr. David A. Welch, formerly of this town, now of Ottawa, informs us, that he took last week from his lot in the 6th concession of Tudor, a substantial show of gold, one of the specimens being a nugget weighing nearly one pennyweight. The gold has been assayed by Mr. J. T. Bell and found to be of fine quality. It was within four feet of the surface. Mr. Welch has already sold one claim to Mr. E. Miles of Ottawa for $300.

LOT NO. 28, 2ND CONCESSION MADOC.

We have been shown some sand taken from a creek on Lot No. 28, 2nd concession of Madoc, by Mr. Wm. Foot and D. Anderson of Quebec, from which we picked a number of colors, which were pronounced good gold by Mr. McFee, Jeweler; since which Mr. J. T. Bell has assayed the sand, and found one grain of gold in one ounce of sand.

Mineralogy.

NUMBER I.

To the Editor of the Daily Intelligencer.

SIR,—As the chief interest of the community, both in town and country, centres at present in the gold mines of the North Riding, I have thought that it would not be inappropriate to the time, or unacceptable to yourself or your numerous readers, to give you a few loose notions on the "mineralogy" characteristic of the district, so far as I have yet ascertained them, and from time to time as I have the opportunity of making myself more thoroughly acquainted with its leading features; more especially with respect to the metallic ore, and minerals which have such an economic value as to render their pursuit a profitable occupation.

I shall not attempt to convince those persons who still disbelieve, or pretend to disbelieve the existence of a rich gold mining country in our rear townships, but merely say in passing to those who are honest in their disbelief.

"Can't you be wise?"

To those who from envy or any other cause, wilfully reject the evidence which meets a candid person at every turn, and loudly proclaim their conviction that the whole affair is an imposition, "a gigantic swindle," I would say that they surely do not consider how much the mischievous absurdity of their conduct might injure their own prospects and circumstances as well as those of their neighbors, were the facts which they pretend to dispute not too well established to be shaken or obscured by their breath. To both classes of doubters, I would also say, that it is an unhappy circumstance that they travel from Dan to Beersheba, and then cry "it is barren."

Expressing at the same time my own deliberate opinion, that as yet no one has the most remote idea of the actual riches which are waiting their development within a circle of some 50 miles in diameter, of which Madoc, Elzevir, Tudor, etc., may be taken as the central portion. I shall proceed with my "loose notes" without further preamble or delay.

Gold, being at once the chief object of research, and the most valuable of the metals, is entitled to the first notice; and as I have daily proof in the various substances which are submitted to me for assay or for my "opinion," that many persons are engaged in searching for gold who do not know that metal when they see it, I shall begin by teaching the unpractised miner who may read these notes, how to distinguish "the real stuff," should he be fortunate enough to find it.

When a miner, then, finds a piece of bright yellow metallic substance, resembling gold in his opinion, let him lay it upon a piece of iron or steel, the handle of his crow-bar, or the face of his sledges, for instance, and strike it a smart blow with a hammer. If it breaks to pieces it is not gold; but if it flattens out without breaking, it has stood the first test, it is nallable.

Let him then apply the edge of his knife to the side of the metal, and if he can cut it as he can cut a piece of the rim of a silver coin, but rather more easily, and the piece cut off does not crumble, it has stood the second test, it is scilicet.

Let him then drop a small quantity of nitric acid (aquafortis) upon the metal. If it is base, the surface will in a few seconds turn green, and small bubbles of gas will begin to rise through the liquid, but if it is "real gold" the acid will have no more effect than so much water, and it has stood the third test, and its character may be considered as fully established.

In my next, I shall treat of what are commonly called "indications of gold."

Your obs. servt.

JAMES T. BELL.

Belleville, May 13th, 1867.

Out at Night.

For The Daily Intelligencer.

On my way home a few evenings ago my attention was attracted by a noise which I heard in the vicinity of the Lower Bridge, and when I reached there was much surprised at seeing a bunch of five or six persons whose attention was apparently absorbed in looking at a brace of caddises, whose tempers were getting "a better of their judgment. Having a prying curiosity to ascertain the cause of the squabble and not wishing to be seen, I, as the asses in Ireland do—I do not mean those of the human species but the quadruped—bucked up into the doorway of Mr. Pretty's shop for concealment and shelter from the night wind to watch what was going on and might happen, thinking as I did, that so much powder would not be expended, without having somebody kill. And what do you think I saw just as quick as you could say "Jack Robinson" the right arm of one of the combatants was compelled with such force by that portion of his body which stands at right angles therewith when it is in an outstretched position, that it came accidentally in contact with the nasal organ of the other and down he came flat as a pan-cake on another earth—on, but on the side-wall, making such an indentation therein—he being heavy and the board on which he fell rotten, that an old lady coming along shortly afterwards, unfortunately happening to step on the identical plank, it gave way, spraining her ankle very badly. The jokers looking on thought it time to interpose, and having placed their "cubens" on their respective heads, and turning the slaughter that might ensue if they were allowed to remain in "battle array," advised them to strike for their homes and their liberties, their lives and their families—If they have any such luxury as the latter—we have heard and read of the battle of "Bull's Run," but it was not a patch compared with this so far as speed is concerned. When they reached their respective homes—which are about half a mile apart—one got possession of an old house which his Great Grand Father used in 1812, and which has not seen day-light since, and the other of an old cavalry pistol, but as they were not in a hurry to get home, and no other person being worth powder and shot, they fired them in the air and got "knock" into a cocked hat for their pains—the fire-arms like themselves being repulsive and disposed to kick. The next day I saw the two caddises together as loving as Doves. It is beside my purpose to tell what they quarreled about, but there must have been cause, otherwise they would not do so unless for a bit of diversion. I thought much of the matter, and was glad that arms did not result in having Coroner's run themselves out of breath next morning at day-break, thereby, resulting in many instances in heart disease—a disease to which young ladies and gentlemen as well as older persons are very subject. I am told that a legal question is likely to arise as to who is responsible to the old lady for the injury she has sustained. It will be argued no doubt that it was he who broke the plank of the fence, but on the other hand if it were not for the right arm of his friend he would not have fallen, while if the Town Fathers be sued, my friend Mr. Grant, who will be called as a witness will say that due and proper diligence were used in keeping the plank of the fence in proper repair, that the lumber was sound and built the length of a harrow tooth used to hold it.

Active Military Preparations in France.

Paris (April 24) correspondence of the London Times.

There is now no doubt of the extensive war preparations by the French Government, in spite of all denials to the contrary, official and semi-official. I heard yesterday, from an officer of high rank, that twenty battalions of Chasseurs, and the whole of the Infantry of two corps d'armes are actually armed with the Chassepot (or, as the men love to call it, the Pierrepain) musket. As this weapon is supplied by competent judges to be superior in every respect to the Prussian musket, and as the men seem convinced of the fact, there is no fear of any panicking on that score. The commands are said to be tactically arranged, in case of the worst; the Emperor, it is said, will take the Command-in-Chief, with Count Palikao (Gen. Montauban) for his Major-General, and Marshals McMahon and Bazaine as, as might be expected, to have important positions. It is certain that the war spirit is beginning to pervade the troops, who have learnt to hate the Prussians more than any other enemy they ever came in contact with. A change, too, seem to be gradually coming over the population—the masses of an unwarlike people. Paris is a great advantage when we hear then say the Emperor is in the right when he insists not on the annexation of Luxembourg, but on its evacuation by the Prussians. The visit of Prince Napoleon to Prangins, his seat in the Canton of Yverdun, and which the Monitor announces in rather an unusual manner, is supposed to mean something political—in fact, that he is to meddle there, or in some other place near the Italian frontier, an agent of the Italian Government.

Letters from Toulon mention that the engagement of volunteers for the crews of the fleet, which has been previously suspended, has now been re-established, and on most favourable conditions by Ministerial instructions, which order that no great rigour should be exercised in selecting the volunteers who may present themselves. It is hoped by this measure to man the ships without having recourse to any levy of the seamen on the maritime inscription, who would in that case be reserved for cases of urgency.

Life in San Francisco.

The following is a translation of an article by J. S. Hittell, published in Philby Jacoby's "San Francisco German Almanac" for 1867.

San Francisco, styled figuratively the Golden City, has a population of one hundred and twenty thousand. The people are mostly Americans by birth, but there are also many Irish, English, French, Germans, Italian, Spanish-Americans, Scandinavians, Dalmatians and Chinese. There are French, German, Italian and Spanish newspapers; French German and Chinese Churches; and French, German and Chinese theatrical companies, which perform occasionally. The religion in which public services are generally held are Jewish, Buddhist, Catholic, Protestant and Spiritualists. If the rites of the Mohammedan, Mormon or Pagan worship are celebrated, the fact is not generally known.

The matter of public amusement the city is destined to lose. The mild winter and cool summers are favorable to out door life. The people spend much of their time in the open air. Provisions, picnics, excursions and public displays are frequent. Theaters are in fashion throughout the year. Two theatres are open almost constantly, and we have an opera every year, besides numerous concerts and lectures. Those who wish to go out to a baggy usually drive to the splendid ocean beach, on a romantic road, over the hills west of the city. The chief summer resorts are the various towns and warm springs of the valleys near the bay, the Geysers, the Big Trees, Yosemite and Santa Cruz.

The number, however, of those who come to San Francisco for pleasure is much greater than those who leave it. Every body who lives on the Pacific coast wants to make a home in this city, or at least to spend some time here. The miner who has made a successful strike, the farmer who has had a golden crop, the lawyer who has accumulated a nice property by practice in the interior, looks forward to the day when he can enjoy the fruits of his labour in the metropolis of the Pacific. There is a multitude, a variety, and a rapid succession of entertainments, amusements, and sports of the New World save New York. The most costly productions and the greatest delicacies of all quarters of the globe are here collected. Montgomery street, although shorter than Broadway is not less brilliant. Our hotels are palatial in size, furniture, cost and management. When we see city not yet out of its teens rivaling in luxuries the capitals of Europe, what grandeur may we not expect for her mature years?

There is a vast number of benevolent and social associations in the city. That is no alms-house in the city, or for that matter none in the State.

San Francisco is, in proportion to its size, the busiest seaport in the world. No other city twice as large has so large a trade. The annual exports are about $70,000,000, the imports nearly as much; the manufactures are worth nearly $20,000,000, the real estate sales amount to about $12,000,000, and the value of the property in the city is about $200,000,000, although assessed for taxation at only $80,000,000. We send away about forty tons of silver and six tons of gold every month—the former metal in bars fifteen inches long and five inches square; the latter in small bags about six inches long, three inches wide and two inches thick. Waggon loads with precious metals are seen in the streets every day.

The profit of merchants and the wages of mechanics and laborers are high. The general style of living is luxurious. Travelers have observed that in no place do the masses of the people live in more comfort than in San Francisco. Miserly habits are very rare, and even prudent regard for the future is not so common as it should be. One of the evidences of the common extravagance is observed in the fact that many persons refuse to take any money with them. Half dimes, which are the smallest coins in use, are less prized here even by the poorest than cents are in New York. The draymen carry gold watches; the washerwoman dresses in silk; the chambermaid is unhappy if her bonnet is not of the latest Parisian fashion.

EXTRAORDINARY RITUALISTIC FUNERAL IN LONDON.

The Rev. Warwick Reed Wroth, incumbent of St. Philip's, Clerkenwell, for about twelve years, was buried at Highgate with great Ritualistic pomp, under the auspices of the "Provost and Guild of St. Albans." The body left Mr. Wroth's house for the church at ten o'clock. At the church the body was met by the choir, and the procession was headed by a cross-bearer, the choir each having a crape scarf over the surplice; then came the clergy, two and two, followed by the three officiating priests and the mourners. The funeral service was preached by the Rev. A. R. Mackenzie, incumbent of St. Albin, Essex, Holborn. During the preliminary service the coffin was in the centre of the chancel, three large burning tapers on either side of it, pots of beautiful flowers laid round it, wreaths laid out. The coffin was of polished oak, with coped top, and a large cross extending the whole length. Over the coffin was a handsome violet pall, with a white cross over the length and breadth of it, and rich borders embroidered with white silk. The incumbent's stall was hung in black, decorated with flowers.

—English paper.

A California story tells of a man who resolved to quit drinking, and went to a notary to get him to draw up an affidavit to that effect. The document was drawn, read, and proved; the party held up his hand and murmured the usual "ship me." It was properly sealed and delivered. "What's to pay?" asked the notary. "To pay to pay?" exclaimed the party; "nothing of course—this is a labor of love." "Nothing to pay?" retorted the notary, but very forgetful of himself. "You're a brick. Let's take a drink!"

The Fenian Outbreak.

"General" Massey Turned Informer—Extraordinary Disclosures of the Fenian Ramifications.

According to "General" Massey, who has turned informer, the Fenian conspiracy in Ireland forms but part of a more general organization, extending not only to America but over the whole of Europe. Massey, who faints on hearing of the rising, appears to have thought it better to become informer
and from the high position he held in Fenian circles, has been able to impart most valuable information concerning the great secret of the conspiracy. He was the principal witness for the Crown before the grand jury, he gave what, if it be true, is considered most important information,
which would tend to the belief that Fenian-
ism has received encouragement from several parts of the continent. The Crown have also been put in possession of what are alleged by him to facts relative to the part taken by some persons of high authority in the United States assisting the society.—
He has been removed to comfortable quarters while the detectives are engaged inquiring into matters sworn to by him. His evidence is expected to be surprising, and it is likely that the list of prisoners will be enlarged.

THE ESCAPE OF KIRWAN.

No trace of Kirwan has been discovered.
The policeman who had charge of the prisoner had been promised a draught by the resident pupil on the previous day, and when he went into the ward he saw a woman rekindling the fire. He then went out again, shutting the door behind him. Kirwan immediately requested the woman to leave the room, which she did. A few minutes after his escape was discovered.

By an almost accidental circumstance Kelly, who had charge of Kirwan on the night of his escape from the Meath Hospital, has been identified as a person who had been in the habit of attending Fenian meetings in Dublin, and he is the first member of the constabulary force against whom a charge of Fenianism has been brought. All the untold prisoners in Kilmalmain Gaol,
where Kelly was confined, were paraded before an informer, with a view to having an individual charged with attempting to seduce soldiers, identified. The object for which he was brought was not gained, but he pointed out Kelly as one who had attended several meetings of Fenians with him. This led to close examination.
Upon the evidence of this witness the prisoner, who had been in custody on suspicion of having assisted Kirwan, has been remanded on a charge of complicity in the movement.

THE ROSE OF INFORMERS TO GIVE EVIDENCE.

The Irish-Americans who lately came over with the intention of forming treason, will feel a little surprised when a copy of the evidence to be used against them is given them. They could hardly have believed that some who had come over with them, and took part in the Fenian meetings
and, a few days prior to the movement,
combined to levy war against the Queen,
would have been the first to betray them.
One of these Joyce, was brought up charged on the information of a person who came over from America with him, with being a member of the Brotherhood, and having
combined to levy war against the Queen.
Joyce was in custody of one of the detectives. The informer gives his name as Lieutenant J. J. Cullen, of the Federal army.
Cullen occupied a seat under the bench,
and appeared perfectly indifferent to the game of those whose curiosity was excited by his presence. Several times he complained of the treatment he was at present receiving,
and of the character of the food supplied to him. When pressed in the witness box he verified his information respecting the prisoner. All the Fenian informers have been brought to Dublin to have their evidence prepared for the commission. But the Government now feels a difficulty in dealing with the number of informers that are so rapidly coming forward, and they will be obliged to decline the services of a great many, for it has turned out that in their eagerness to save themselves they have sworn too much, and the police have recommended that they be sent back to their prison cells. It is now stated that the chief informer, Massey, is none other than Patrick Corcoran, who held the rank of colonel in the Federal army.

THE INDICTMENT AGAINST THE PRISONERS.

Those prisoners whose connection with the conspiracy dates from the earlier part of its existence, are likely to be the first arraigned. General Burke, Captain McCafferty, Edward Duffy, and Flood, will be amongst
these, and fourteen others will be indicted for having conspired last July and since, to depose the Queen. The overt acts consist of consultations, agreements, and plans
entered into with Stephens, O'Mahony, Kelly, Doran, Kirwan, McDonnell, and a host of other Fenians, some of whom made their appearance in Ireland last month, and are now in custody. It is charged that they assembled a large number of trained and armed men, and that they were in the habit of carrying out their whenever they might effect their purpose.
The remaining over acts relate to the armed assembly at Tallaght, to commit a cruel slaughter of the faithful subjects of Her Majesty to the assault of the police.

HINTS ON GRASSING.

The earlier cattle can be put on grass the better. Cattle never forget an early bite of new grass, and it is wonderful what improvement a good straw yard bullock will make in four or five weeks at the beginning of the season. But much depends on the weather. During the whole of April, and the early part of May, the weather is so unsatisfactory, and the cold nights, when the animals are exposed in the fields, take off the condition which the grass put on. The grazer will find it of great advantage to house his cattle at night during this season. In Aberdeenshire, the 10th May is about the earliest period when cattle should be put to grass. Where there is new grass, it is necessary to be careful, at the beginning of the season, if much rain falls, not to allow the cattle to remain on the young grass. They must be shifted immediately, and no one can get the proper advantage of such grass who is deprived of the power of shifting the cattle into a field of older grass till the land again becomes firm from the cattle. A field of new grass has sometimes been trampled in one night when heavily stocked with cattle. When wet and cold the cattle wander about the whole night, and in the morning the fields are little better than ploughed land. In fact the fields so injured will never recover till broken up again. Mr McCulloch's own practice is to pasture almost all the new grass; but the moment the cattle's feet begin to injure the grass, they are removed. New grass fields are difficult to manage in other respects. The grass comes very rapidly about the 10th of June, and if the grazer is not a good judge of what he is about, it will get away, in a few days become too rank, and will lose its feeding qualities during the remainder of the season. By the middle of July, it will be nothing but withered herbage. Young grass ought to be well eaten down, then relieved for two or three weeks, then the cattle allowed to return. It requires practice to know the proper time to put these cattle, to secure the full benefit of the new grass. Three days miscalculation may cause a heavy loss.

WHEN A HORSE IS UNSOUND.—Any of the following defects constitute unsoundness in a horse: Lameness of all kinds and degrees; Diseases of any of the internal organs; Cough of all kinds, as long as it exists; Colds of catarrhs, while they last; Raring; broken wind; grease; mange; fary and glanders; nequims or staggers; founder; convulsions; coughs; foot rot; spasms; and ringbones; enlargements of the sinews or ligaments; catarrhs and other defects of the eyes, impairing sight.

The following may or may not occasion unsoundness, according to the state or degree in which they exist: Corns; splinters; thrushes; bone spavins; through pins; wind calls; crib-biting. Cuts are unsoundness unless the horse has worked with them for some months without inconvenience.

Cutting, particularly speedily cutting, constitutes unsoundness when it can not be remedied by care and skill. Quidding, when a confirmed habit, injures the soundness of a horse.

Defects called blemishes are: Scars from broken knees; capped hocks; splints; bog spavins; and thorough pins; loss of hair from blisters or scars; enlargements from blows or cutting, and specks or streaks on the corner of the eye.

Vicarious Restlessness, shyness, jolting, running away, kicking, rearing, weaving or moving the head from side to side, strutting, quidding, slipping the halter.

Farmers should not neglect to give their horses proper exercise. Do not suffer the horses to stand the whole week in the stable but give, at least, one hour's exercise daily. Give sloppy food at least twice a week, and throw a lump of rock salt in the manger.

BOXES.—The Massachusetts Farmer gives the following directions for dissolving boxes: Take a few barrels—sift sugar cakes up as good as any—and first put in the bottom a layer of wood shavings, then a layer of bones, and then upon it another layer of wood shavings, and so on alternately till the barrels or casks are filled. If the boxes are particularly broken with an axe or otherwise, it will facilitate their dissolution. These ashes now must be kept moist by adding water from time to time, and if they stand out doors under the shade of some old tree on the north side of a building, they will require less frequent attention. An occasional wetting with chamber lye is beneficial.—In from ten to six months, according to the size of the boxes and the care with which the ashes are moistened, the boxes will be dissolved and the compost is fit for use. This is the most economical method of reducing them, and if every farmer would pick up the boxes that are scattered about his premises and treat them in this way he would show signs of thrift.

A cynical journalist says the reason so many marriages occur immediately after a great war is that bachelors become so accustomed to strife that they learn to like it, and after the return of peace they enlist in matrimony as the next thing to war.

Since the Government was established, the United States have acquired the following territory, on the terms annexed: 1. The purchase of Louisiana and Mississippi Valley, in 1803, from France, for $15,000,000. 2. The purchase of Florida, in 1819, from Spain, for $5,000,000. 3. The annexation of Texas, in 1845. 4. The purchase of California, New Mexico and Utah, from Mexico, for $15,000,000 in 1848. 5. The purchase of Arizona from Mexico, for $10,000,000, in 1854. 6. The purchase of the Insular and Mexican possessions, running down on the California line from the North Pole forty four north latitude, at which line it strikes the British possessions, for $7,200,000.

Debts and Taxation in the States.

An idea of the burdens laid upon the people in the United States is given in the following from the New York Evening Post:

"If borrowed dollars the edge of husbandry," the financial police of this state is in and need of the grindstone. Our state debts amounts to over fifty millions of dollars. The debts of the counties are at least seventy-five millions. This city owes nearly or quite forty millions. All these debts are growing.

"With these very intelligible figures before them, it was not unreasonable to expect that the Albany legislators would examine appropriation bills attentively, and would be chary of raising the present rate of taxation. Indeed, to do them justice, they did reject four or five bills which involved that unpleasant consequence. But the bills which passed have raised the rate of state taxation to over seven cents on every dollar of valuation. This is a serious advance from the three mills levy of ten years ago.

"Of the taxes paid by the people of this state, this year, about sixty millions of dollars will go to the national treasury, thirteen millions to the state, and thirty-
seven millions to the several counties.

"The population of the state in 1865
was 3,851,777. Estimating the present population, in round numbers, at four millions, every man, woman and child in the state must pay this year $27.50. The largest vote ever polled in this state was 731,010. Estimating the present number of electors at 750,000, each elector must pay this year $146.66. The number of landowners in the state in 1865 was 379,998.
If the number has now reached 400,000, every landowner must tax his $375. The last census gave the number of families in the state as 780,831. If there are now 800, 000 each family is taxed this year $137
50.

"It is perhaps some poor consolation to know that some of our neighbours are not much better off. The state debt of Massachusetts is nearly twenty-eight millions of dollars, and the debts of the towns amount to about twenty-seven millions more. The legislature is now engaged upon a bill which will add five millions more to the dismal total."

NEW PRINTING PRESS.—There has just been completed and put in running order
at the government printing office at Washington one of the most wonderful pieces of mechanism in the shape of a printing press that has ever been exhibited. The press is of the Bullock patent, and as an exhibition of some of its powers we will mention:—
The press will print in one hour 30,000 sheets of 64 pages of document matter.—
While doing this it feeds itself, the paper going in in rolls, while the paper, cuts the sheets, folds them, and, by a dial attached to the press, keeps tally of the number of sheets printed. Only two men are required to have entire control of the press, thus doing away with the necessity of persons to supply it with sheets (or as it is called feeders). The invention is certainly a wonderful one, and has been visited by a large number of persons who could not realize
the power and utility of the machine.

A young man, seventeen years old, has been arrested in Lexington, Mass, charged with five murders. The Lexington, Mass, Advertiser, speaking of his arrest, says:—
"The premises of the case were surrounded, and in a short time he was discovered emerging from an open field, endeavouring to reach the woods, some distance off. He was hotly chased, and was captured after one of the pluckiest (or as it is called feeders). The invention is certainly a wonderful one, and has been visited by a large number of persons who could not realize

RIOT AT MOBILE—A NUMBER SHOT.

NEW YORK, May 15.—The Herald's Mobile special gives the following additional particulars of the riot last evening:

Judge Kelly had been speaking a quarter of an hour when there appeared a disposition to create disturbance. Cries of "put him down" was now heard. Mr. Kelly replied, "you cannot put me down, the 15th Infantry are at my back, and it they cannot keep the peace in Mobile the United States army can." The tumult suddenly broke out at this point by a sudden rush towards the platform and a general scattering of the crowd. This rush seemed significant for a while; a cry of "fire" was then raised and instantly a perfect fusillade of pistols were opened on the crowd, who occupied the platform. Some friends succeeded in getting Judge Kelly away unharmed. The firing was directed right and left among the crowd in the streets who were flying in all directions. It is impossible to tell how many were shot. It is known that two negroes and one white man were killed. It was evidently a preconcerted affair, and was probably stimulated by incendiary articles in the rebel press for the past few days. Col. Shepard at once despatched a body of troops to the Brattle house where Judge Kelly is stopping. They are now on the ground in front of the Hotel. It is stated that several white men who had no part in the attack were shot in the melee.

If any disposition to renew riots is shown, it is probable the city will be placed under martial law. The whole military force who are encamped about a mile from place of meeting have been ordered into the city, and are now posted at different points prepared for any attempt of renewal of riot.

MISCELLANEOUS.

NEW YORK, May 15.—12,826 steamer passengers have arrived at New York since the 1st inst., from European ports.

The steam train Dunderberg, the most powerful engine of naval warfare afloat, has been sold to the French Government for $3,000,000.

The Times special says—No truth what ever in the statement that the United States Grand Jury at Richmond has indicted Judge Thomas and J. C. Breckenridge for treason.

NEW YORK, May 15.—The steamer Juno, from Queenston on the 5th, arrived today.

FROM OTTAWA.

OTTAWA, May 15.

The officials of the Crown Lands Department have received orders to prepare for removal on the 30th June, one half of the department to Toronto, the other half to Quebec.

The changes in departments will involve the removal of some seventy families from this city; their places will be more than filled by the arrival of about one hundred families of officials from the Maritime Provinces.

PENNA.—A telegram from Montreal states that the Government have received information of another intended Penian raid.

GOVERNOR'S RESIDENCE.—It would appear from the following that the Governor-General will not reside at Ottawa, at least for the present. The Quebec Chronicle says: "It is reported that orders have been received to put the Vice-Royal residence at Spencer Wood in order for the early reception of the Governor-General and family."

Our Mineral Wealth.

While every one is talking about gold, dreaming about gold, and digging for gold, it is well not to lose sight of the fact that other metals besides gold are to be found in great abundance in the back country. Metals, too, which when fully developed will be as great a source of wealth and prosperity as another California or Australia would be. Look at the iron mines of Pennsylvania and Ohio, and see what towns they have built up, what cities are dependent upon them for their prosperity, what they have done for the commerce of the world, how many hundreds of thousands they clothe and support, and then remember that we have inexhaustible mines of the same metal, and of a quality from 20 to 30 per cent better. If we were to be dependent alone upon our iron mines to make Belleville one of the first cities of the Province, and the County one of the most wealthy and prosperous in the new Dominion, we should have no misgivings about our future. For there is enough of iron in the back country to build up a dozen cities like Pittsburgh. But iron and gold are not our only metals found in abundance at our very doors. We have Lead, and Copper, and Silver, and Antimony, and then we have Marble and Lithographic Stone, all of which have been found in considerable quantities.

The Copper Mines in Belmont, in Lake, in Madoc, and in Elzevir, have not been worked to an extent to warrant us in saying that they are inexhaustible, but sufficient is known to warrant miners and capitalists extending their explorations for this metal. Of Lithographic Stone developments long since made prove that we have an abundance, and the quality is amongst the best in the world. Of Marble we have the white, the gray, and variegated, of excellent quality, and enough of it to supply the Dominion of Canada for a thousand years. The Lead Mines of Tudor have been worked enough to satisfy us that there is a large supply, and that it is as rich as any on the Continent. This valuable mineral is not confined to Tudor, but has been found in other Townships, and in some instances associated with silver and Antimony.

Several discoveries of Silver have been recently reported, one of the most promising of which comes from Elzevir, lot 18, in the first concession. This lot is owned by a number of gentlemen, residents of Belleville, and in prospecting not long since, a large vein of galena was discovered, from which some specimens were taken and given to Mr. J. T. Bell, of this Town, to assay. The following is his report:—

"Assayed May 6th, 1867, from Lot 18, 1st Concession Elzevir.

An impure galena containing
Sulphur, 12 per cent.....	lbs. 12.00
Antimony, 25.....	25.00
Lead.....	55.00
Silver.....	0.50
Earthy impurities (slag & loss).....	7.50
	100.00

PER TON OF 2,000 LBS.
Sulphur.....	lbs. 240.00
Antimony.....	500.00
Lead.....	1100.00
Silver.....	6.00
Earthy impurities (slag & loss).....	150.00
	lbs. 2000.00

Silver, 6 lbs. Avordupois, equal to 87 oz. 12 dwts. Troy of Silver per ton of 2000 lbs.

JAMES T. BELL, Assayer.

It will be noticed by this assay that the yield of silver alone is over $87 to the ton. If the vein turns out to be as large as anticipated, this will be one of the most valuable mines yet discovered.

PERSONAL.—E. W. Holton, Esq., Mrs. Holton, Mrs. Flint, wife of the Hon. B. Flint, and Robert Bird, Esq., of Sidney, left Belleville today, and will sail on Saturday next in the Neptunian for Europe. We wish them a pleasant voyage and safe return.

MILITARY CERTIFICATES.—We see by the last official Gazette, that sergeant Jeremiah Thompson, No. 1 Company, 15th Battalion, obtained a 2nd class certificate from the Military Board of Examiners, lately held in Kingston. The same officer contains the names of Messrs. Matthew M. Thompson, William M. Anderson, and Allen T. Kennedy, as having obtained second class certificates from the military school at Kingston.

THE LUMBER TRADE.—The Quebec Chronicle through the courtesy of a gentleman thoroughly acquainted with the lumber trade, gives statistics of the quantity of red and white pine manufactured upon the Ottawa and its tributaries, and the St. Lawrence, during the year. The amount of white pine manufactured upon the Ottawa, and tributary streams was 15,745,000 feet, and on the St. Lawrence, 5,000,000 feet, making a total of 17,745,000. With respect to red pine, the grand total for both the Ottawa and the St. Lawrence is set down at 800,000—being much less than last year; a large quantity having been left over on the market last autumn. These figures will therefore show about 18,545,000 feet as representing the manufacture of both sorts of pine this year, being an increase of a million feet, or thereabouts, over the previous year. The quality, we are assured, is much superior to that of the lumber taken out during the preceding year.

Board of Trade.

At a meeting of the Board of Trade, held last night in the Town Hall, Robert Tanhill, Esq., in the absence of the President, was called to the chair. Mr. John A. Philip was admitted a member of the Board.

Mr. Howell gave notice that at the next meeting of the Board he would move a resolution making certain amendments in the Constitution and by Laws of the Board.

On motion of Mr. Ritchie, seconded by Mr. Vair, John Parker Thomas, Esq., was appointed an Official Assessor for the County of Hastings, and the meeting adjourned.

Town Council.

MAY 15th, 1867.

A special meeting of the Town Council, called by his Worship the Mayor at the request of the Chairman of the Fire, Water and Gas Committee, to take into consideration the question of the efficiency of the Steam Fire Engine, was held at 11 o'clock this forenoon.

PRESENT.—His Worship the Mayor; Messrs. A. Waters, G. E. Henderson, James Kennedy, A. Robertson, Capt. Melancton, W. A. Foster, Jas. Brown, R. Tannahill, J. Sutherland.

Mr. Robertson, Chairman of the Fire, Water and Gas Committee, stated that his object in requesting his Worship to call to gether the Council was that they might express their views respectively upon the Steam Fire Engine, and conclude what was to be done with it, as the Committee did not wish to take the responsibility of deciding the matter themselves; that he had requested Mr. Button to be present before the Council, but that he had replied that it was his intention to proceed home this morning, and visit Belleville again soon with a better quality of coal, than the proposed satisfying the people.

Mr. Robertson produced the guarantee, stating that the Engine would throw water through 2000 feet of hose, 60 feet.

Messrs. Henderson, Kennedy, Waters and Melancton contended at some length that the Engine did not come up to the guarantee, and considered that a first-class engine should be procured and this one returned, and that it should first be tested through 2000 feet of hose.

Mr. Tannahill believed the Engineer, Mr. Rankin, was incapable of working the Engine, and that she did very well in the morning under the control of Mr. Button, but not subsequently.

Mr. Brown defended the Engineer and if the Engine played as well in future as she did yesterday morning, considered it would come up to the guarantee. In reply to Mr. Sutherland as to whether better fuel would make any difference in working the Engine when 60 to 70 lbs of steam could be raised with the present coal, said that if the coal were suited to the steam could be regulated more steadily.

Mr. Blacklock was examined. He said he was not prepared to make a report, that the Engine was ready to handle, and in respect to the distance would do good service at a long distance it would not come up to the guarantee; does not know much about steam engines.

Capt. Mason said that he considered Mr. Button would work the engine up to the guarantee, and if a party could be procured to do the same work, the engine would be satisfactory; it should have a fireman and hose cart.

Mr. Rankin contended that the boiler was too small. Mr. Button told him to say to Mr. Robertson that he would be back in June with good coal, and would satisfy the people or take the engine away.

The Council requested the Chairman of the Committee to write to Mr. Button, asking him what he proposed doing with the engine, stating that they were not satisfied with yesterday's test; the Council to take such further action as they may deem necessary after receiving his reply.

BURGLES TOOLS.—While Mr. A. L. Hogart was superintending the removal of some lumber from the yard in rear of Robertson & Stewart's law office, yesterday evening, he came across a carpet bag, which contained a full kit of burglar's tools. Amongst the tools were a brace, several bits for boring iron, some cold chisels, two iron jimmies, a dark lantern, and a large wallet. The tools were all new, and well made. The carpet bag had evidently been secreted there some time, and the tools were doubtless those used in the attempt to blow up the safe of Robertson & Stewart some time since. The smaller tools were wrapped up in a copy of the Smaller Gazette, a paper which circulates largely amongst thieves and prostitutes. The tools were given to Capt. James, Chief of Police, who has them in charge.

Hon. John A. Macdonald is to be received by his constituents on his arrival in that city on Thursday night, the 16th inst., when he will give them an account of his stewardship.

The population of Hamilton, exclusive of the military is 21,456. The value of real estate $5,240,225; taxable income $1,025,000; personal property $1,094,150; non-resident lands $194,040; total $9,162,545. Live stock in the city, cattle 474; sheep 2; horses 169; dogs 570; pigs 300.

The New York Tribune is very angry with Earl Russell for having expressed the opinion that Canada would be defended, and intimates that if we do not believe ourselves the Yankees will show us whether we are not afraid of them and liberties against their or not. A free and united people however need not fear what a divided faction dares people can do.

The Hamilton correspondent of the London of the 10th inst., says, after detailing the results of the anti-slavery convention in Hamilton, "I have it upon unquestionable authority, that it is in order to carry the nomination of a man who will not be afraid of the Yankees, a man who received the nomination of 1000 dollars each to a number of persons, who, in consequence of the numerous members of the association, and voted for Mr. Williams in the convention." If this were done by any other than the press and leading statesmen, it would call them reformers. It would be denounced as corruption and all vile names.

FROM MADOC.

From our own Correspondent.

Sale of Gold Land—In the 3rd—Report about Sunday Working—The Gold Mining Act—The Gold Inspector.

MADOC, May 14.

It is reported, and I think can be relied on, that Mr. John Cooke has arranged for the sale of a part of his lot on which gold was found last fall and this spring for the sum of $4,000 and one twentieth of the gold found. A Mr. Benson is the party negotiating, and the late. Sidney Smith is one of the company for whom the purchase is made. As there is no doubt that gold has been found repeatedly on this lot, (W. Hall 19 in the 3rd concession), the price is certainly very reasonable, and when compared with the prices asked by many for lands, where there is scarcely any appearance of quartz, let alone gold, it is cheap.

Mr. Amstee, who has charge of the Richardson mine on behalf of Lombard, Hardin & Co., asserts in the most positive manner that the report that the mine was worked on Sunday the 28th of April is not true, and that the letter of your correspondent to that effect should be corrected. If the report is not true, all I have to say is that the community thereabouts fully believe it, and several parties at Eldorado have stated to me that they heard the reports of the blasts several times during the Sunday referred to. Mr. Amstee says people were out shooting and that the reports of the guns may have been mistaken for blasting. I hope this is so, and as Mr. Amstee who was here, there all that day, might know, his statement will carry weight. However, your correspondent was not the first to put this report in circulation, for you will see by the "Chronicle" of the 1st May, that the information received direct from the mine on Monday, by the "Belleville Company's" solicitors, was to the effect that the mine had been "worked all the day before."

I mentioned in my last communication that a meeting had been held at Hodgins' Hotel, to take into consideration the provisions of the Gold Mining Act, and the result is, to-day a memorial is being circulated for signatures to the same effect.—The Gold Inspector so far has won the good opinion of all with whom he has come in contact in his official capacity, and no blame is attached to him for carrying out the provisions of the law; on the contrary he is believed to be acting in the most careful and prudent manner, but after all he will be obliged to enforce his provisions even though they may be distasteful to himself.

I think the Government will on consideration, use the power the act gives them, and moderate some of its provisions.

GRANITE

To the Editor of the Daily Intelligencer.

DEAR SIR,—In that admirable novel, "The Devil on Two Sticks," the hero is carried into mid air, and the roofs of the houses in Madrid removed, that all the various scenes enacted underneath might be presented to the observer.—It has often struck me that in our small town of shingled roofs, could a similar movement be performed, some amusing traits of Belleville life might be similarly displayed, but as the days of romance have fled, and not even spiritualistic humbug is believed in, we must abandon fiction for facts, doubts for realities, and give to "airy nothing, a local habitation and a name."

You know I am, or was, the favorite bird of Minerva, and that the amount of wisdom attributable to our family was principally picked up in midnight wanderings and daily reveries. How my ancestors ever immigrated to this continent is a matter of historic doubt, but there is a tradition amongst us that Captain Miles Standish, the Puritan leader, brought two of our family in the good ship Mayflower to New England; that a branch settled in Acadia, and their descendants, travelling southward, soon spread through Canada, and at this day the old red rock, overlooking the Meira from Meyer's orchard, contains the cradle of the Belleville branch of my beloved ancestry. I often spread my wings for a flight over our interesting Town, and as those wanderings must necessarily be at night, I observe some strange incidents, some of which I will trouble you with from time to time. "The grave and gay—the gentle and severe" will be presented to your readers, and I will have the satisfaction of sustaining the family character for deep observation and time honored wisdom.

Yours sincerely,

TIE BELLEVILLE OWL.

Butter Packing.

To the Editor of the Daily Intelligencer.

SIR,—Knowing your valuable paper to have a good circulation among the country merchants, in the town and around it, I have taken the liberty to address you a few lines on the subject of "Butter Packing." Too little care is generally taken in assorting the various colors, in order to make the package uniform, and therefore free of sale in other markets. If the dealers were to keep, say three tubs open at a time, and pack the butter as they receive it, they would be well repaid for their extra trouble by the extra price that would be paid for it for shipping purposes. For the English market butter is carried in tubs, and it is almost impossible to get anything like a fair price; Canadians are so very indifferent in this important particular that the English cannot rely on them, and French butter is fast—prevalent that which comes from Guiney. I have very recently returned from England and find it to be the case, for every day steamers arrive from France with clean, neat and good tubs of butter which the grocers readily buy, seeing, as it does, the families they supply, better than any they can procure elsewhere. Again, it is not filled with salt (too much of which, alas, Canadian farmers use), but it is just tempered with it to such a degree as to render it wholesome and palatable. The result, sir, are we to be outwitted by the French; are we to allow the English to buy their butter in preference to that which comes from here; from a colony they ought to support? Certainly not, but most assuredly it will be unless the farmers are reformed. And how shall they be reformed, but through the medium of that great engine of instruction and progress—the Press? It behooves the Press of Canada to agitate this subject until farmers and country merchants awake from their indifference and take their stand for either good or evil, care or neglect, attention, advancing the interests of the country and community in which they live, or letting them droop to a premature grave, when Canadian latter will be regarded in the home markets as unworthy of the attention of the people, for the reason, that in the first place so little of that virtue was bestowed on it by those whose duty and interest it was to do so. As a sporting and trespassing on your time and columns, and trusting reformation may soon commence its great work in the butter trade, I beg to subscribe myself, sir,

Your obedient servant

"EXCELSIOR,"
Belleville, May 14th, 1867.

Ritualism to be Abandoned at Kingston.

The deputation named by the congregation of St. George's to wait upon the Bishop, to consult with him on the propriety of doing away with recent changes in the mode of celebrating divine service in the Cathedral, met his Lordship on Friday; and to-day met to make public the result. Mr. Ross reported that having met the bishop, the deputation stated that they did not wish to discuss the objectionable points on their merits, but merely to state them as being distasteful to the congregation, and ask that they be discontinued. The main points were, first, "the officiating clergymen turning to the East when the creed was being said"; second, "one of the clergymen facing the table when kneeling"; third, "some of the congregations bowing at the gloria patri"; fourth, "the trained responses of the choir"; fifth, "singing at a certain part of the Communion service in the middle of a prayer"; sixth, "chanting the psalms at evening service"; and lastly, "we were any further changes contemplated?" The Bishop stated that he did not turn to the East himself, but that he could not instruct his clergy not to do so; that the trained responses of the choir were not to be discontinued. He said that he entirely disapproved of Ritualism as practised in England. No further changes, he assured them, were contemplated. The deputation expressed themselves satisfied, so far as the points conceded were concerned, but it was understood that the remaining objections should be further pressed; and, if not done away with before that time, they should be laid before the synod.—Kingston News.

Newspaper Boasting.

Prentice of the Louisville Journal thus "takes off" some of his contemporaries, who are constantly boasting of their "infinite business"—

"The daily circulation of our paper—to actual bona fide paying subscribers—is just five million six hundred and twelve thousand and forty-two sheets. We have employed upon the paper five hundred compositors and one hundred and eleven proof readers, and a staff of three hundred and twelve mailing clerks, and other aides too numerous to mention. We have taken especial charge of the falls of Ohio and use them exclusively for 'wetting down' our paper. We have eleven paper mills in constant operation, and it is understood that the remaining objections should be further pressed; and, if not done away with before that time, they should be laid before the synod.—Kingston News.

It is proposed to open in London a new Museum, to be devoted exclusively to the exhibition of articles from the Isle of Wight.

Seven burly gars, and one of garroting, are reported in the Lancashire Press as having occurred in that City within a few days.

A contemporary says that small, neat gutta percha cars are now generally worn by the ladies whose own cars are coarse and excessive. The natural ears being easily concealed under the heavy masses of false hair now so fashionable. This is but another instance in the way of which the female sex is running in pursuit of what Lord Lytton would style "the deceptive."

The Sunday schools of the Wesleyan denomination have carried out a very interesting and useful plan. The last educational report shows that of more than 500,000 children in the Wesleyan Sunday schools, 127,000 during the past ten years; whilst in the same period the number of teachers, now numbering 331,000, have increased by 67,000.

The New Confederate Cabinet.

(From the Scottish American Journal.)
While the completion of the Confederate Cabinet must ultimately be determined by the completion of the first Confederate Parliament; while the pure and sound system of British responsible government is to be carried out in the new dominion; and ministers held to a strict accountability to the Legislature, it is well known to be the strong desire of the friends of the Confederation, to have the Government-General select his first set of advisers from among those who have stood honestly, faithfully, truly and steadily to the principles of Union, and who have contributed most directly to the consummation now reached.

We do not see how the wisdom of this course can be called in question. While it is possible enough (and from present appearances even probable) that in some of the provinces, especially in Western Canada, the old dividing lines of parties may be and will be restored, it cannot be said that the coalition of parties formed to give effect to the Confederation has fulfilled its mission. It has laid the foundation, with Imperial help, of the new structure. It has got the whole outline of the new system drawn out. It has overcome all the preliminary difficulties of organization; and it has up to that extent completed the provisional task assigned to it. But those members of the coalition who did most of the preparatory work are those, we must believe, best fitted at least to get the new machinery in motion. The delegates from each separate province know each other. That is an important point. They are likely to be able to enter into a new executive council with something like harmony of purpose. They can each speak with more or less confidence for the particular part of the Confederacy which they individually represent. They enjoy the entire respect of the Crown, and to sum up, their prolonged and arduous labors entitle them to the additional honor of beginning the new order of government, and to the gratification of trying their hands as statesmen upon a larger scale than they have ever before had an opportunity for.

A fearful story of a murder was artlessly told by a child, ten years of age, in the Manchester Coroner's court. The boy's mother was the victim; his father the murderer. This was the narrative:—"Last Tuesday, I went with father, (Woods, as old soldier), to Salford Barracks, where he was drawing his pension, father called at several public-houses, and got drunk. We got home at ten minutes to four o'clock. Father made mother go upstairs. He was cross with her because she had had half a cognac of whisky. Mother went upstairs, and father ordered me to draw the blind of the lower room window, to lock the door, and to bring the key. I did all this, and went to bed, as father told me. When I got up stairs mother cried under the bed, saying, 'Don't tell him where I am.' Father came up in about ten minutes, and ordered her to come from under the bed. She refused. Father sent me for two penny cakes. When I brought them father was sitting on a chair. Mother was still under the bed. Father afterwards said several times, 'Elizabeth, come from under the bed,' but mother would not move. Father then sent me downstairs for a knife to fetch it, gave it to father, and got into bed. Father had then in his hand a stick, with which he kept milking mother. I and two little sisters crept beneath the bedclothes because we were afraid. We heard mother scream several times, and we dared not get up until after the scuffling. When we did look, we saw father undress and get into bed. Afterwards we heard mother say, 'Give me a drink of water.' I got up and saw mother on the floor, with her head upon the hearthstone. She asked me to put a pillow under her head. I did so, and saw blood on the hearth. Later on mother said to father, 'Give me a spoonful of water before I die.' Father got up and gave her some. He raised her head, it fell back, and he got into bed again. Before father gave her the water, I said, 'Mother, when are you going to die?' She said, 'Soon.' Shortly afterwards the murderer got up, and called in the neighbors, said his wife had cut her own throat. The woman was then lying dead, covered with blood, with her head on the hearthstone and her feet beneath the bed in which the three frightened children were lying.

In a snow storm at Pittsfield, Mass., the other day, a bag of netting was found, filled with moss and hair. A local paper adds: "The bag was found in a field, and proves to be a lady's waterfall. How it became detached from the wearer is unknown, but the conjecture is that the owner, caught in a storm, was obliged to throw overboard her ballast in order to make headway."

Milton was asked, 'How is it that in some countries a king can take his place on the throne at fourteen years, but may not marry until he is eighteen?' 'Because,' said he, 'it is easier to govern a kingdom than a woman.'

BELLEVILLE, THURSDAY, MAY 16.

American Despatches.

JEFF DAVIS ARRIVED IN NEW YORK.

New York, May 15.—The steamer Higara from Norfolk, with Jeff Davis and family on board, arrived this morning.

CUBA TO BE SEIZED—A HERALD STORY.

New York, May 16.—The Herald learns that England designs to seize Cuba, in the event of any difficulty with Spain, and endeavor to obtain the island as a basis of operations in the behalf of Mexico.

FEMIN REMITTANCES EMBARGOED.

New York, May 16.—The Herald's Dublin correspondence alleges that on the 10th, the Fenian Executive in New York, remitted sums of money to Ireland in shape of drafts, drawn by the Belmonts on the Rothschilds. The British Government embargoed the bills, and directed the Rothschilds not to pay them, which was done. A bill drawn for £2,000, said to be used for the defense of the prisoners, when refused payment in London, was returned to New York.

The Fenians in Ireland allege that the brethren here have never been able to recover the gold from the Belmonts.

The Fenian organization in Ireland is said to be in working order and unimpeded in force.

SOUTH AMERICA.

New York, May 16.—The Herald's Rio de Janeiro, April 9th, and Buenos Ayres the 28th March says, the new movement had been made by either party in the Paraguayan war. In Terra-Bona an open revolt is threatened.

MOBILE RIOT.

New York, May 16th.—The Herald's special says of the Mobile riot.—The leader Daniel Files who fired the first shot at the Chief of the Police is the only one arrested. He was held to bail in the sum $5,000. The excitement to-day is so great that the investigation is postponed, and the Mayor and Col. Sheppard will make a rigid inquiry into the matter.

MISCELLANEOUS.

New York, May 16.—The Stock market is dull and stagnant. Little is doing except in governments, which remain at yesterday's prices. Foreign exchange is firm.

The rumor current yesterday, relative to a defalcation in a bank in Broadway, has been explained. The bank is the Central National. The amount is about $60,000, and arose through the misconduct of the third teller, whose bondsmen and friends, it is said, will make up the loss.

Abraham McFarland, for over twenty years connected with the Commercial Advertiser, died this morning.

The Broadway Bridge was thrown open to the public this morning.

Jeff Davis was removed to the New York Hotel to-day. He is visited but by few friends.

The Cholera.

The Board of Health have issued a notice requiring all nuisances, foul sewers, vegetable refuse or offal of any kind, to be removed by the first of June. It is to be hoped that every household will promptly comply with the requirements of the Board. The history of the cholera and other plagues, clearly show that where these sanitary regulations are neglected, diseases of every kind abound, and there is where the cholera fatigues and thrives. And the experience of the past few years proves that those localities which have strictly carried out the well known regulations of the Provincial Board of Health, have been exempt from the ravages of the pestilence. It is, therefore, clearly to the interest of every household to have his yards and premises thoroughly purified, and we hope no time will be lost in having the work done.

An effort is being made to establish a uniform quarantine law for the whole American coast, to prevent cholera spreading from any ship that may bring it to this country. Dr. Marsden of Quebec, who has had large experience in connection with the cholera, believes that the true cholera is endemic only to the far East, and comes to Europe and America by importations, where it soon disappears and dies out, until followed by fresh importations. The profession in New York and Boston, and in fact generally throughout the United States, agree with the views of Dr. Marsden, and it is probable some uniform quarantine law will be established this season. Dr. Marsden says: "If our knowledge and experience can be carried into practical operation, Asiatic cholera will become an unknown disease to future generations on this continent."

The Richardson Mine Case.

The case of Carr et al. vs. Richardson et al. came up before Vice-Chancellor, Mowat, Toronto, on Wednesday. The Globe says a motion was made by the defendants to dissolve injunction granted by the Chancellor at Kingston, restraining the defendants, Lombard & Hardin, removing mineral from the mine, and on motion of plaintiff to continue injunction restraining defendants from working the mine pending litigation.

"For the plaintiff, S. H. Strong, Q. C., Mr. Hoskins and Mr. Dickson; for defendants, A. Crooks, Q. C., E. Blake, Q. C., and Mr. Holden."

"On the motion being called on, the defendants proposed to make no opposition to both injunctions remaining in force until the hearing, provided the plaintiff paid into Court to the credit of the cause, $35,000—the purchase money owing to Richardson and Powell."

"The matter was disposed of by the Court ordering that the plaintiff pay into Court $35,000 in seven days, and in case of default that both injunctions should be dissolved and the defendants relieved from them. This case and the case of Powell vs. Carr are ordered to be tried at Kingston at the hearing in June."

"Nothing was stated relative to the four barrels of mineral in Rochester, which Lombard & Hardin removed from the mine."

The Harbor.

Unless something is done very soon to clean out the harbor, we will have to suspend the shipping business here altogether. Scarcely a day but some steamer or vessel sticks fast, and time is lost and money expended to get them off. The large Lark of Montreal, laden with peas, stuck fast on a bar extending from Russell's wharf across the channel, on Wednesday morning, and is fast still. Her own tug, the Pierpont, was unable to move her; the Bay of Quinte tried to get her off this morning, but had no effect, and the only way in which she can be relieved is to lighten her. The suggestion to send an influential deputation to Ottawa to procure the use of a dredge is a good one, and we hope the Harbor Committee will take action at once in the matter.

CROPS IN THE WEST.—A Detroit paper has reports from several parts of the West concerning the grain and fruit crops, which are very favorable. It says, from all quarters the good condition of the wheat is noted, and hopes of an abundant harvest, and a consequent decline from the present enormous price of wheat and flour, may be indulged in with very much confidence.

TRADE RETURNS.—The British Board of Trade returns for the first quarter of the current year have just been issued. The total value of imports from that period was $24,381,048, against $26,467,728 in the corresponding period of last year, and $19,383,701 in 1885. The exports in the first four months of the present year amounted to value to $24,381,048, against $26,467,728 in the corresponding period of last year, and $19,383,701 in 1885.

A FIGHT.—A fight occurred last evening between Jas. Cummings and Allan McFee, on Front Street. A large crowd was soon gathered, and there was material for an ugly "mus," but fortunately for the peace of the Town, the combatants were soon separated, and those who were "spoiling for a fight" will have to wait for a more favorable opportunity. Cummings got the worst of it. McFee came out of the melee without a scratch. The case will come up before the Police Magistrate to-morrow, and then we will have the facts connected with the affair.

A THREATENING SYMPTOM.—An Albany paper says: Flour is $30 a barrel, we are shipping to-day flour to the West, which was grown in California, was shipped to New York, thence to Liverpool and back, and now goes through the canal to Rochester and Oswego. A short crop of wheat, owing to the frosts of last year, and an extra demand for corn abroad and at the South, account in part for these prices. But not altogether. That in a country where land is two dollars an acre four should command $20 dollars a barrel shows that something is organically wrong in the course of production or in the condition of the currency. Such extravagant prices always precede great monetary convulsions. In 1837 flour was imported from Odessa, on the Black Sea, and shortly after we had sweeping panic and bankruptcy all over the land. The same symptoms have preceded other monetary convulsions. It is likely to be the precursor of another now.

FROM OTTAWA.

Hon. John A. and Mrs. Macdonald left this morning for Kingston.

Five men of the 106th Regiment deserted Tuesday night, and one of you has been captured. Another deserter was reported last night.

W. W. Miller, late clerk in the Public Works Department, was committed for trial on a charge of forging endorsements of Messrs. Patton & Fuller.

THE DOMINION OF CANADA.—The second day of the late now mentioned in well-famed journey, when the constitution of the New Dominion will come into force.

—The Buffalo Harbor is not yet open.

—There was a large fire in Philadelphia on the 14th inst. Loss, $50,000.

—Hon. G. R. Cartier arrived by the Hibernian, which reached Father Point yesterday evening.

—A duty of 30 per cent, is levied by the unit of States authorities on peas.

—The emigration from the South of Ireland has set in on an extensive scale.

—Reliable reports estimate that 300,000 persons in the South are in a state of absolute starvation.

—Lord Lyons, formerly Minister to the United States, is appointed to succeed Earl Cowley as ambassador of Great Britain to Paris.

—Mr. Brydges, Managing Director of the Grand Trunk Railway, sailed for Canada on the 11th inst., by the Asia.

—The Brockville and Ottawa Railway earned last year $98,437; the working expenses were $55,493.

—The Ottawa St. Patrick's Society have expelled the Toronto Canadian Freeman from their Reading Room, and cut upon all Irishmen to discontinue taking it.

—A man named Wade who was operating against the liquor seller's interest in Ottawa, was drowned out of the village by a mob on Wednesday.

—Dr. Tupper and Mr. How will probably oppose each other as candidates for the representation of the county of Cumberland in the Confederate House of Commons.

—A large mass of rock became detached from the cliff of the mountain opposite the head of Catherine street, Hamilton, on Monday evening, and fell with a tremendous crash. Fortunately no lives were lost.

—A school of about two hundred whales made their appearance in the Frith of Forth, on the 20th of April, and the fishermen and inhabitants of the coast had a long and exciting hunt of them with harpoons, grappling hooks and rifles. "Twenty-one of the animals were captured."

—Detroit journals of Thursday edited their readers with reports of three highway robberies, one fatal homicide, one ditto wife, one case of infanticide, and one fatal accident, by shooting—where a boy of twelve, carelessly handling a pistol, it was discharged, causing the death of a girl of fourteen.

—A large number of monks and priests in Italy have taken advantage of the new privileges conferred upon them, and have lately protested, and have refused to wedlock with unexpected alacrity. Even the nuns have caught the infection, and the Pope has issued a decree to compel the abolition of the convents begun by the civil law. Human nature appears to be a good deal stronger than the most rigid of monastic vows.

—A country clergyman, who had a speculative turn, greatly shocked some of his good people by getting twelve per cent for his money. The shocked and indignant, and finally protested against the practice. "Is that all?" asked the clergyman when they had finished. "Be assured a lawyer will take twelve per cent again!" The deacons were delighted! But as they were deparing the complacent clergyman said to them: "Brethren, let me assure you that I will never after take twelve per cent, for I can just as easily get eighteen."

NUMBER II.

For the Daily Intelligencer.

In my last I endeavored to inform the unpractised miner how to distinguish gold from other substances which outwardly resemble it; I shall now attempt to instruct him where and how to look for that metal.

Gold is always found, when in such quantities as to be visible to the naked eye, in the perfect or metallic form, and no ore of gold, properly so called, are known to exist. Therefore, when engaged in searching for gold the miner is not obliged to hunt it through the various disguises which conceal iron, copper, lead or silver from any except the adept.

Gold is generally found in, or in the immediate neighborhood of certain rocks known as the Talcoses and Chlorite Slates, which Sir Roderick Murchison characterizes as the gold bearing rocks of the world, and particularly abundant where these rocks have been disturbed by volcanic action, altered by intense heat, and traversed by veins of Quartz, or other extraneous matter.

In seeking then for a favorable place to commence operations, the prospector should look for a place which gives indications of such action or disturbance, where the strata or bed of which the rocks consist, instead of lying flat in their natural position, are tilted up on edge, or at a considerable angle from their original level; where they are broken and shattered and mixed up with one another, or where they are contorted and twisted, and appear to have been at one time in a half melted state.

I told you in my last of two mining companies having been formed here, the first one is called "The Bridgewater Mechanics' Mining Company," and the second, "The Bridge Water Joint Stock Mining Company." The former has sent a gang of miners to work a lot about twelve miles back of this town, which is considered to have very favorable indications. The joint stock company had a meeting the other night to sign articles, and will soon be at work, that is, weather permitting; but no one cares to prophesy a fine day now, as it has been wet so long and no sign of clearing off. Several people have said this is the most backward year they have known, it makes everything in the way of business very dull.

There has been a quarterly meeting at the Wesleyan Methodist church, amongst other things it was stated that there were two other preaching places besides the church in connection with the circuit, that the average attendance at the church was about one hundred and seventy, that the members had more than doubled in numbers during the past year, the number attending Sabbath School was eighty-two, and the Bible class eleven, there were twelve officers and teachers, there was a library of three hundred and sixty-one volumes; and altogether the general progress made during the past twelve months appears to have given general satisfaction.

FROM MADOC.

Fire.—Ophir Company.—More Arrivals.—Weather.

WEDNESDAY, May 15th.

This morning the premises of Mr. Coulson, who resides near the Episcopal Methodist Church, caught fire and came very near destroying the building. He was mixing some combustible materials on the stove, when they exploded and set fire to the inside of the building, and it was only by the greatest exertions on the part of Mr. Coulson and family, and his neighbors, that the building was saved. Mr. Coulson and a man in his employ were both badly burned. Mr. Coulson's face being very badly blistered, and his arms and hands were seriously burned. All the furniture and material in the room were completely destroyed.

There would seem to be a great deal of carelessness in putting such dangerous stuff upon a stove, but Mr. Coulson says he was told by a druggist that there was no danger; as it is there was a narrow escape from loss of life and destruction of considerable property.

The "Ophir" Mining Company, Platts, Co. of Prince Edward, have commenced sinking a new shaft on Lot 15, in the 4th concession Madoc. They have in their employ an experienced Australian miner and are pushing on the work on Lot 23, in the 7th concession with a good deal of energy. The miner reports the "indications" of the most satisfactory kind on the last mentioned lot. The shaft runs in the side of the hill at an angle of about 45 degrees, and is 22 feet deep. The quartz lode struck has every appearance of being gold bearing, and the mine is the opinion of the practical men of the company is most promising. This lot is owned by Messrs. Holden and Forlin, who have leased five acres on which the shaft alluded to above is being sunk. The favorable prospects on this lot induced the company to commence operations on Lot 15, in the 4th concession.

There are still a great many arrivals and of a class that evidently mean to work, if there is any reasonable chance of investment. The stages are just arriving as I write and are full of strangers. Weather still dark and threatening rain.

GRANITE.

Mineralogy.

NUMBER II.

For the Daily Intelligencer.

In my last I endeavored to inform the unpractised miner how to distinguish gold from other substances which outwardly resemble it; I shall now attempt to instruct him where and how to look for that metal.

Gold is always found, when in such quantities as to be visible to the naked eye, in the perfect or metallic form, and no ore of gold, properly so called, are known to exist. Therefore, when engaged in searching for gold the miner is not obliged to hunt it through the various disguises which conceal iron, copper, lead or silver from any except the adept.

Gold is generally found in, or in the immediate neighborhood of certain rocks known as the Talcoses and Chlorite Slates, which Sir Roderick Murchison characterizes as the gold bearing rocks of the world, and particularly abundant where these rocks have been disturbed by volcanic action, altered by intense heat, and traversed by veins of Quartz, or other extraneous matter.

Having found a place which answers to this description, he must examine the rocks themselves, and see whether they are of the descriptions named above, as follows: Quartz is a very hard, and when pure, white or semi-transparent rock, which breaks into irregular shapely angular pieces, and which has an appearance as if the broken surfaces were smeared with oil. It is sometimes found in large beds or masses, but more frequently in the district it exists in veins or streaks, from the thickness of a sheet of paper to several feet in width, penetrating and traversing the other rocks in all directions.

Talc is a soft, leafy mineral, easily split into scales or plates, and soft enough to cut with a knife. It has a peculiarly smooth, greasy or soapy feel. Talc-slate is much harder and sharper to the touch when broken, but still retains something of the slippery look and feel of its characteristic mineral; its color is usually a pale greenish grey. Chlorite is a dark, olive-green substance, soft, but seldom leafy, more often massive or granular in texture. Chlorite slate is sometimes very hard, and sharp enough to make good whet stones; it is generally of a dark, greyish green or olive color, and breaks with a splintery fracture.

All these minerals are frequently replaced by long, slender, black crystals of Tourmaline, or green ore of Actinolite, and contain more or less manganic, or iron pyrites, a combination of iron with sulphur, one kind of which so much resembles gold in color as to deceive any but a practised eye; but on being struck with a hammer it will fly to pieces, as it will also do if rapidly heated, whereas gold melts without decrepitating.

There are also several kinds of limestone accompanying these rocks, one of which, composed of lime and magnesia combined with Carbonic acid, is frequently the matrix in which the gold is deposited. Its name is Dolomite, or when crystallized, Bitterspar, and in it is found the gold of the far-famed "Richardson Mine."

Having found a place answering in some degree to the above description, the miner should proceed to shovel off the surface earth, and having his pan at hand examine, by washing, a portion of that which lies above the rock. If he finds gold he can work the soil until exhausted, and then commence to the rock mining process. But it is of no use merely to make a hole and throw out the fragments, as is too often done; the debris of every blast should be carefully examined, more especially those parts where the different strata or beds of rock come in contact with each other, or where any foreign substance is imbedded in the stone, as it is in such places that visible particles of gold may be expected to be discovered. Some portions of the rock itself, especially of the talc or chlorite slates and the bitterspar, should be pounded, washed, and amalgamated, with mercury from time to time, and the mercury strained through a piece of chamois leather, when if any gold be present it will not pass through, but be left in the form of a small gum, from which the remaining quicksilver may easily be driven by heat.

In my next I shall pursue the subject still farther.

How the Levees are Destroyed.
The levees, which are great mounds of earth built to prevent the Mississippi from flooding the adjacent country, have an enemy
more powerful to destroy than man is to construct. It is the clayish, a little, insignificant creature, but who does a significant work. This destructive force is thus described:
The clayish is a dirt digger. Innumerable as the white ants, they live like troglodytes, in dark caverns, along the side of every stream, pool, lagoon or river, in the banks of which they scoop out their habitations—
Taking up their abode in countless millions
within the levee, where they find a secure retreat, they honeycomb in every direction, drilling out the clay, until the levee, which enlarged with the wants of the growing colony. The planter, congratulating himself on the solid bulwark that fences his property little fancies what a mere shell it has become
under the claws of these tireless workers, until some day the straining tide forces in the earth, the little rift widens, and with a sudden crash the embankment gives way, his fair fields are swept by the restless torrent
and houses, cattle, barns, sometimes himself
and family, are borne off on the boiling flood.

Mercantile Maxims.

The way to get credit is to be punctual.
The way to preserve it is to settle it much. Settle often—have short accounts.
Trust to no man's appearance—they are deceptive—perhaps assumed for the purpose of obtaining credit. Beware of gaudy exterior. Rogues usually dress well.
The fish are plain men. Trust him, if any one, who carries but little on his back.
Never trust him who flies into a passion
on being rebuffed; make him pay quickly, if there be any virtue in the law. Be attended, before you give a credit, that those there is anything to do. A man's affairs are never your goods at a small advance, and never misrepresent them, or those whom you once decide will be aware of you the second time. Deal uprightly with all men, and they will repose confidence in you, and
soon become your permanent customers.
Beware of him, who is an office seeker.
Men do not usually want an office where there is anything to do. A man's affairs are rather low when he seeks office for support.
Trust no stranger. Your goods are better than doubtful charges. What is character worth, if you make it cheap by crediting all alike? Agree beforehand with every man about to do a job, and, if large, put it into writing. If any decline then, quit
—or be cheated. Though you want a job ever so much, make all sure at the outset—
and in case of all doubtful cases, make sure of a guarantee. Be not afraid to ask it, it is the best of responsibility; for, if offence
be taken, you have escaped a loss.

EARLY NEWSPAPERS.—Newspapers are by no means so recent an invention as we have fondly imagined, as the following extract from a late French work proves.—As a specimen of novelty, in a field that was supposed to be entirely exhausted, a recent book by M.
Pelagoric is among the most interesting. It is entitled "Bulleins of the Grand Army of Italy," commanded by Charles VIII. 1494-1495; from rare or unprinted documents
drawn chiefly from the library at Naples.
The chief curiosity in regard to these documents is that they were printed, and constitute indeed the complete manuscript of the famous bulletin that Napoleon was accustomed to send from his grand army of Italy.
The battle of Fourmou had its journal, its official Monitor, in precisely the same way as the battle of Maratou. And this was less than fifty years after the invention of printing,
at a time when, according to current ideas,
the great art of printing was used for no other purpose than to make copies of psalm-books and of the ancient classics. This discovery of M.
Pelagoric proves on the contrary, that new-papers sprang into existence almost at the same cradle of printing, whose applicability to the diffusion of popular intelligence was perceived far earlier than has generally been supposed.

ADVERTISING.—On this subject the Louisville Journal has the following:—We have been carrying on the Louisville Journal
between thirty-six and thirty-seven years.
During all this time we have known no man
of business in the city to fail who advertised liberally. And we have known no one to succeed in any considerable way, if even in a respectable degree, who didn't advertise liberally. Do you tell us, oh candidate for the custom of community, that you can't afford to advertise because your business is small? Ah! why is it small? Listen! and we will tell you. It is small because you do not advertise, and do not advertise because it is dull. So the vacat circle is complete.
We tell you if you are doing well, advertise.
We tell you if you do better. Set high your business mark of success, and advertise up to
it. You can do it if you will, even in advanced times. A little nerve is needed in advertising. As it is in using every other effective means of success. You men who have no more nerve than a wet rag advertise little or none at all. You may suppose that you are giving advice that would benefit you. Yes, we do think that it would benefit us, but you far more. Think a little, and you will agree with us. Be wise enough to act accordingly.

The Paris correspondent of the New York Herald thus alludes to the new field piece which the French Army is now being armed with:

Mysterious hints are dropped that France is much more ready, and in a much better position, to make a sacrifice of her arms than generally imagined. Among the other new weapons which the government has adopted, and in which great confidence is placed, is a small portable gun, which is said to be a new invention of a French artillery captain, and a large number of which have been manufactured within the last year, although the peacemaker's construction is supposed to be of a secret nature. In fact, it is said, composed of three pieces manufactured separately in three different arsenals. It is claimed for this gun that a single charge will throw a shell to the front of a battalion of infantry at a distance of from eighteen hundred to two thousand yards, and that from forty to fifty shots a minute can be fired. Doubtless the French government has good reasons for it is evident that the military authorities have great confidence in its power.

CROPS OF 1867.—From statistics collected relatively to the amount of Wheat in store in the State of Wisconsin, it is estimated that there is a decrease as compared with last year of between three and four millions of bushels. The growing crops in the West, however, are stated to be unusually promising in appearance. The New York Financial Chronicle, from the best information at its command, estimates that from present indications, and if nothing unforeseen happens during the summer, the crop of wheat in 1867 will be the most abundant ever harvested.

The demonstration in Chicago on Wednesday of last week, in support of the eight hour movement, is estimated to have cost the workmen about fifty thousand dollars in wages, and for the procession, and the city and employers is much more. —It has been suggested that the day on which the Queen's Proclamation, declaring the union of these Provinces to be accomplished, is celebrated, should be observed ever after as a national holiday. The idea is a good one.

The review of the British volunteers at ter on the 22nd of April was a brilliant af-summarized by a single accident. The Duke Cambridge saw the troops march past,
among other distinguished persons present w Prince Teek and Earl Granville. The app
ence of the volunteers was all that could be ired, and the spectacle of the sham fight
ace. Several war vessels took part in the m attle.

We are glad to notice that the Volunteer Review has commenced the publication of a series of papers on the defence of Canada during the war of 1812-14. While earnestly hoping that we may never again be called upon to defend our homes against the attacks of our American neighbors, we cannot too often call to mind the glorious collections of that war.

The Americans saw that Great Britain was engaged in an arduous struggle against Napoleon's gigantic despotism, and in a base and cowardly manner took advantage of the moment with the view of carrying out their long cherished project of conquering Canada which was to have been followed by the absorption of the British West India possessions. They failed, however, in both their objects, and received the ward due to their perfidy in the capture of their principal city, and the destruction of their Capitol. Much as we may deprecate war with the States, it cannot be doubted that the American people cherish the same ideas and aspirations now which actuated them in 1812, and were the mother country engaged in a great European war, it is possible that we might be called upon like our forefathers to defend our hearths and homes from attack. The more therefore we keep alive the old memories the better.

Alluding to the ambitious designs of the Americans, it says :

"This scheme if successful, would have placed the United States at once in the most prominent rank of the Great Powers, and given her a prestige and influence, such as she has never since attained; for it is a noticeable fact, that from the day of the adoption of the Declaration of Independence until the outbreak of the late war, England had no other ally than France, and even France was often more ready to listen to the promises or diplomacy—respectable as they undoubtedly are. The mistake made in our political arrangements after the war of 1812, was not that we were too friendly to France, but that we did not discover—or discarded their national policy. France, from the total annihilation of her naval power, was unable to effect ever a diversion in their favor, and the victory went without its promoters securing a single advantage. It is true, that we have been engaged many of the objects from which it was so extensively undertaken. Its effects at the political level and military character were almost entirely disastrous. Ruinous to their commerce and disastrous in its prosecution, it opened up to them a new era of commercial competition, the policy for which it was undertaken nearly half a century. With Great Britain there was very different; having no ambitious projects to serve by the annihilation of the United States and possessed of no desire to acquire territory, she was able to keep her eyes were at no time directed to the destruction of the war with that vigor which such purpose should demand. In Canada it was expressly and decidedly defensive, and as such it will be reviewed in this address. It is thus seen that the object of illustrating the practicability of successfully resisting the invasion of the country

On the 18th of June, 1812, the American government declared war against Great Britain, and on the 12th of July, General Hull crossed the Detroit river and invaded the British territory. The British were rapidly concentrating on the Niagara frontier, under General Van Rensselaer, while their commander-in-chief, General Dear, was collecting an army near Albany. As the British were to be supplied by the valley of Lake Champlain, the lines of communication chosen were precisely those that the campaigns of 1758-9 at that Detroit being additional, and arising from the fact of the westward extension of population during the preceding century, and the war of 1812-14 periods. Those forces had been quietly concentrating for a considerable time before the declaration of war, and exceeded on the aggregate 25,000 men, well supplied with arms, and with the means of operating in their own country, without fear of effective aggression; for the Hudson river, the basis of their operations, was practically inaccessible to sailing vessels, and the American possession of the river was far greater than the defensive capabilities of Canada afforded to their opponent, even if equal in numbers, which was by no means the case. The population of both countries was increased at that period to 1,000,000 souls and the American amounted to about 5,000,000 of all arms. No military organization worthy the name appeared to have existed, and a very great reluctance to enter the ranks of the militia. "Embossed! Militia!" the force hastily organized on the declaration of war was mainly in consequence of the stringent provisions of the Militia Act of 1792, by which the federal government was commanded by officers of regular army, who were

The Reeper.

There is a Reeper, whose name is Death,
And with him I have been
He reaps the banded at a breath,
And the flowers that grow between.

"Shall I have nought that is fair?" said he,
"I have nought but the leaping grass;
Though the breath of those flowers is sweet to me,
I will give them all back again."

He gazed at the flowers with tearful eyes;
He kissed their drooping leaves.
It was for the Lord of Paradise
He found them in his arms.

"My lord has need of these flowers," said he,
"The reaper said, and smiled,
"Dear tokens of the earth are they,
Wherever he was once a child."

"They shall all bloom in fields of light,
Transplanted by my care,
And smile upon their garments white,
These sacred blossoms wear."

And the mother gave, in tears and pain,
The flowers she most did love;
She knew she should find them all again,
In the fields of light above.

O, not in cruelty, not in wrath,
The Reeper came that day;
"Twas an angel visited the great earth,
He found them in his arms."

To a Pretended Friend, and Real Enemy.

Thy besetting tongue and doubtful face
Show all thy kindness to be mere grimace.
Thou'st told the meek; at once be free or friend;
'Tis base to soothe a man whose malice is the end.
The rock that's seen gives the peevish soul a dread,
But double terror that which hides its head.

Cold Water.
Cold water—bubbling up in the cool spring,
Sparkling in the rill, gushing from the rock,
Shining in the dew-drops, and falling in the shower—how pure and how refreshing; and yet, dear blessing, very few of us realize what a great blessing our Heavenly Father has bestowed upon us in thus providing for our thirst; and, again, though it is so free and so bountiful, how seldom we return thanks unto God who gives us this, and all those good and perfect gifts which we receive so plentifully. How ungrateful is man, that he should invent and manufacture those vile drinks which poison and destroy life, when his Maker has given him such a life-giving drink as cold water—delicious, pure, sparkling, cold water.

And now, children, since God—who know all our wants and made ample and sufficient provisions for them—has in his great wisdom and love given us cold water as the source of the precious gift, and never desire any of those drinks which are so hurtful and deadly.

"The beautiful and innocent, of all earth's luxuries," Drink nothing but the crystal wave that gushes from the springs."

As a faint picture of what our condition would be without it, and how worth a drink of water, we give the experience of an African explorer:

"For twenty-four hours," says Burton, "we did not taste water; the sun parched our brains and the mirage made us see every turn. As I jogged along with eyes shut against the fiery air, every image that came to my mind was of water; water in the cool well, water bubbling from the rock, water trickling in steady streams, water in clear lakes inviting me to plunge in and bathe—Now a cloud seemed to shower upon me drops more precious than pearls; then an unseen hand seemed to offer me a cup which I would have given all I was worth to receive. But what a dreary, dreadful contrast! I opened my eyes to a heat-seeking plain, and a sky of that deep blue so lovely to poet and poet, so full of death to us, whose only desire was rain and temper. I tried to talk, but could not; I tried to write, but I had only one idea—water; water; water!"

"Water shoals a glad hosanna,
Bubble up the earth's springs,
Cheers it like the precious manna,
In the barren wilderness."

"To God be thanks, who pours out
Cold water from the hills,
In crystal springs and bubbling brooks,
In lakes and sparkling rills."

Hints to Business Men.
Keep good company or none. Never be idle. If your hands cannot be successfully employed, attend to the cultivation of the mind. Always speak the truth. Make few promises. Live up to your engagements. Keep your own secrets, if you have any. When you speak to a person look him in the face. Good blue so lovely to poet and poet, so full of death to us, whose only desire was rain and temper. I tried to talk, but could not; I tried to write, but I had only one idea—water; water; water!"

CHICAGO, May 17.—Kirk & Co's. Soap and Candelary was destroyed by fire this evening. Loss $100,000.

THE EASTERN QUESTION.

NEW YORK, May 18.—The Herald's Constantinople correspondence contains matters relative to the progress of the Eastern question to a war crisis which is of the highest importance, particularly when read in connection with cable despatches announcing the defeat of Omar Pasha in two severe battles in Candia, and the renewed representation of the Great Powers to the Sultan as to the advisability of the cessation of Crete to Greece.

Russia according to report, was gradually encroaching the Turkish provinces due east and south east, with her troops, and large bodies of the soldiers of the Czar were situated near Simporopol, between Kars and Tiflis, while the country between Kars and Erzerum was secured by Russian cavalry. Sebastopol is stronger than ever, and has 150,000 men in and around the city. Odessa was filled with troops and it is quite evident that Russia was prepared to administer at any moment to the effects of the "sick man" with profit to herself. Bankrupt almost in treasury and finance, she Suiza was surrounded with home difficulties, tending to open insurrection in the capital.

In a case of grievance to some Italian Eschermas, the Minister of Victor Emmanuel recently appeared in the Imperial presence and demanded redress in haughty and pre-emptory language.

The people subject to the Porte, grown under the heavy load of taxation which they are called to bear, while French officers travel the interior of the empire noting and reporting on its industrial capacities, products and mines.

The Canada Gazette contains the following Militia Order:—No. 1.—In future, whenever it may be desired to have a brigade parade of volunteer corps, the commandant or senior officer will be good enough to apply for the sanction of His Excellency the Commander-in-Chief before ordering the same.

The Marmora Railway.

Work is being rapidly pushed forward on the Cohoung and Marmora Railway, and it is expected that the road will be graded and the rails laid down early in the month of June. A correspondent of the Peterboro Review, who went over the line recently, reports that on the west end of the line "there are five miles almost graded, and it appears to be a durable piece of work. Part of the ties were laid on the 8th inst. under the superintendence of E. Waingate, Esq. The steamer Forest City arrived on the 9th, with two scow loads of railway iron. The track was commenced on the tenth. They commenced at the wharf, and have it laid into lot No. 1, in the 9th concession of Belmont; and by the time they get to where the graders are working, they will have those small pieces finished, and enable the track layers to lay five miles straight ahead. The road will be ready for the locomotive to draw the gravel train whenever it is removed to the track."

The correspondent says the Iron Ore Bed begins to have the appearance as if something was to be done to remove that silent but useful treasure. A gang of men are at work at the bed, and so soon as the road is finished, there will be plenty of business for the locomotive. "As for the wharf, at the Narrows on the River Trent, the wood-work is completed, and the contractor is now filling in the piers with stone. They are a good piece of workmanship; durable, substantial, and reflect much credit on the Company's Engineer, J. H. Dumble, Esquire, whose energy in pushing forward the whole work few men could surpass."

The Cohoung Sentinel of the 10th inst., gives us the following additional particulars respecting their road:—"Mr. A. F. Munson, the contractor for the building of the cars, has already turned out twelve of the dumping, and Mr. W. L. Payne, sub-contractor, has placed twenty flat bottomed cars upon the track ready for service. The remainder will be completed with all possible speed. The first of the new engines is expected here on the 6th of June next, and another on the 6th of July. The whole line to Marmora, it is expected, will be in working order by the 16th of next month. The pilot engine, which done such good service on the line last summer, is now busily engaged every day in delivering fence rails and ties along the line, and in bringing in lumber, flour, and other freight from the mill country. Iron ore is now commanding a very high price in the American market, and every effort is being made to make the Marmora mines available."

While we cannot but rejoice that the mineral wealth of our own back country is, by the means of this Railway, about being developed, this country has much to regret at the loss sustained in not having the American capital, now being expended in following and along the line of route to the Big Ore Bed in Belmont, spent among our own farmers and artisans. Hundreds of thousands of dollars will go into the pockets of others, which might have been ours.

A person lately died at St. Petersburg, at 85, called Count Louis Carlowitch, who is believed to have been lost Duchess of France. The story of his removal to Russia is circumstantially told.

Presentation and Supper to Major Bowell.

The members of No. 1 Company of the 15th Battalion, when they heard of Mr. Bowell's promotion from the Captaincy of that company to the Majority of the 49th Battalion, determined upon giving him a testimonial and supper. Yesterday evening was selected for the occasion. The supper took place at the Anglo-American Hotel, the large dining room of which was very respectfully filled. No. 1 company turned out in full force, to do honor to their late Captain, and the guests present swelled the number to over seventy. Amongst the latter were Lieut. Col. Brown, Lieut. Col. Sutherland, Major Levesconte, Captains Thos. Wills, L. H. Henderson, J. W. Thompson, S. A. Lazier, R. C. Hulme, P. Hamblin, and Geo. James; Dr. Lister, Dr. Burdett, Lieut. Diamond, Hon. Robt. Read, and N. B. Falkner, Esq.

The Chair was occupied by Color Sergeant Meredith, and the Vice Chairs by Sergeant Waters and Corporal Stevens respectively. After supper was over the Chairman proposed the usual loyal toasts. To the toast of "The Army and Navy," Capt. James responded in one of his happiest speeches. After referring to the deeds of heroism which for hundreds of years have covered with glory the British arms, he alluded to the influence of England, as exhibited in the late letter of the Queen of England to Prussia. A few simple words from our beloved Queen, had the effect of sending back to their peaceful homes millions of men. This shows England's influence amongst the nations, and any one who says that England's prestige is waning, has only to look at that little incident to prove that she stands foremost amongst the Nations.

In proposing the toast of the evening, the Chairman briefly explained the object which had brought them together. It was to do honor to a gentleman who had been their Captain, and whose promotion to be Major of the 49th, they could not let pass without giving him some substantial evidence of the esteem in which he was held by the Company. He would only say that the officers and men of the 49th would find in him an able officer and warm friend. He then read the following Address:

TO MAJOR MCKENZIE BOWELL, 49TH BATTALION, V. M. I.

SIR.—We, the non-commissioned officers and men of No. 1 Company, 15th Battalion, V. M. I., cannot allow you to take leave of us, without showing some mark of our esteem for your uniform kindness and unflinching zeal for our welfare, during the time that we were under your command.

We therefore, ask you to accept from us this sword and spurs, and we trust that this presentation will be the means of awakening pleasant reminiscences of days of our service with you. We also feel assured that if the day should come, which God forbid, when necessity requires the Volunteers of Canada to go forth to defend our beloved country, your sword will be unsheathed with more readiness than the one which we now place in your hand.

Allow us to congratulate you upon your promotion, with our combined wishes for your future happiness and prosperity.

On behalf of the non-commissioned officers and men of No. 1 Company, 15th Battalion.

W. MCKENZIE, Color Sergeant, No. 1 Co. JAMES WATERS, Serg't, No. 1 Co. J. E. STEVENS, Corp., No. 1 Co. W. M. HOPKINS, L. Corp., No. 1 Co. C. THOMAS, L. Corp., No. 1 Co. Belleville, May 17th, 1897.

At the conclusion of the Address, the Chairman presented to Major Bowell the Field Officer's Sword and Spurs. The sword contained the following inscription:

Presented to MAJOR MCKENZIE BOWELL,
 by No. 1 Co., 15th Battalion V. M. I.,
 As a recognition of the esteem in which he was held while in command of that Company.
 Belleville, A. D. 1897.

Major Bowell responded as follows:
 TO THE NON-COMMISSIONED OFFICERS AND MEN OF NO. 1 COMPANY, 15TH BATTALION, V. M. I. BELLEVILLE.

COMRADES.—With no ordinary feelings of pride and pleasure do I accept at your hands, this flattering address, and the valuable present accompanying it. That is enhanced by your warm expressions of approbation of my humble services while in command of No. 1 Co., 15th Battalion, and from the additional fact that with most of you it was my good fortune to be associated, when our soil was invaded by a band of marauders.

I assure you that this compliment, which I feel is more than I deserve, will not soon be effaced from my memory, and that the possession of the sword and spurs, with which you have now presented me, will ever awaken reminiscences of the days spent with you, in whom the utmost confidence can be placed, who are ever ready to do their duty—and whom it is an honor for any officer to command.

Allow me to congratulate the Company, on having for its non-commissioned officers, gentlemen so well qualified for the position, and under whose command I have no doubt, No. 1 will always sustain its reputation as one of the best Infantry Companies in the Province.

I thank you for your kind wishes for my welfare, and trust that nothing in my future life will give you cause to lessen the good opinion you have here expressed of me.

Yours respectfully,
 M. BOWELL.

Belleville, May 17th, 1897.
 The Chairman then gave the health of Major Bowell, to which that gentleman briefly responded. He referred his connection with No. 1 Company, the Captaincy of which he had accepted with pleasure and regret. With regret because the young gentleman who was then in command was compelled, by circumstances over which he had no control, to remain in charge of the Telegraph Office, but who was at the same time anxious to go with his comrades wherever his country called. He knew his position, he appreciated his sterling worth, and could testify to his undying loyalty and attachment to his Queen and Country. Mr. Thompson was, however, ordered to remain by the Adjutant-General, where his services were most required, and which he performed with satisfaction to the department and to the country. He accepted the command with pleasure because he knew the Company was in an efficient condition. It was composed of men of intelligence and education, men who knew their duty, and all he had to do was to give his orders and they were obeyed. He congratulated the Company upon the promotion of Lieut. Holton to the Captaincy, and he would take occasion to say that a young man of more sterling worth was not to be found in Belleville. Major Bowell concluded by proposing the health of the Captain and officers of No. 1 Company.

Captain Holton, Lieut. Malloch and Ensign Thompson acknowledged the toast.

Mr. Falkner as an ex-Lieutenant of No. 1 Company, was called upon to respond, which he did in a twenty minutes speech, detailing his experience and the exploits of the gallant 15th at Prescott, and keeping the company in a remarkable state of good humor during its delivery.

Vice Chairman, Sergeant Waters, next gave "Our Guests."

Hon. R. Read had great pleasure in being present to do honor to an old friend, who was in every respect worthy of the high compliment paid him to-night. The Hon. gentleman referred at some length to the volunteer system, the changes which had been made in our system of Government, and what we needed to make us a great and prosperous Nation.

Lieut. Col. Brown, of the 49th Battalion, felt great pride and satisfaction in being present with his honored guest. He was proud that an old esteemed friend had received such a substantial and worthy compliment. They had been associated together in the volunteer service for a number of years, and he need hardly tell those present that Major Bowell had always been an efficient officer. Referring to the two Battalions he trusted that they would always be found shoulder to shoulder, doing their duty faithfully and efficiently. The 15th is spoken of as one of the most efficient Battalions in the Province, a position he hoped it would always maintain.

The Mayor and Corporation, in the absence of the Mayor, was responded to by Major Levesconte, who took occasion to express his gratification at being present to do honor to their guest.

Lieut. Col. Sutherland, also responded on behalf of the Corporation, regretting that the Corporation had neglected one most important duty, and that was to pave Front Street; but he trusted they would mend their ways by mending the streets.

The Ladies were appropriately acknowledged by Captain James W. Thompson.

The Press was responded to by Lieut. Diamond, Mr. Mason, and Mr. Shepard. Mr. Diamond took occasion to concur heartily in the flattering compliment given to their guest, remarking that he showed what commanders often failed to show—that he could be a strict disciplinarian, and at the same time be kind and gentlemanly to the men.

Second Vice-Chairman, Corporal Stevens, then gave the two last standard toasts.

The Bar was ably responded to by Capt. S. A. Lazier, who was proud of his connection with the volunteer force, and who had great pleasure in being present to give this compliment to their guest.

Mr. Falkner was again called to his pins, and kept the company in roars of laughter by his humorous description of the most distinguished characteristics of the profession.

The Dominion of Canada, the last regular toast, was briefly acknowledged by Hon. H. Read.

Several volunteer toasts followed, and the company broke up shortly after midnight, having spent a most pleasant and agreeable evening.

GRAND TRUNK VOLUNTEERS.—We understand that the order recently issued to have Nos. 7 and 8 Grand Trunk Rifles, Belleville, go to Montreal, on the Queen's Birthday, has been cancelled. We are glad these companies are not called away from the 24th. They will probably turn out in connection with the 15th Battalion.

NEWSPAPERS OF OLD.—The following extract from an old Worcester newspaper of 1175 at Leeds, a curious illustration of Journalism and credulity in those days: "Aynry, 4 miles from Leamster in Herefordshire, Aug. 30. A strange Dragon of a vast magnitude, having Wings, 4 Legs, a long Tail, large Scales, of a brightish Colour, has been seen several times. It inhabits about the Black Hill, a mile from hence. We hear it has this day destroyed 300 sheep. People are in such fear that some dare pass that way. They have bought Powder and Ball to endeavour to destroy it, but it most commonly keeps in the Caverns of the Rocks."

Mining Intelligence.

The Major Mercury of to-day contains the following gold items.

"Mr. Lombard has commenced to work another mine on lot 26 in the 4th concession of Mulder."

"James Morrison, Esq., of Morrison, Taylor, & Co., Toronto, on Thursday visited the 'Cariboo' Mine, at Bannockburn, in company with Mr. M. S. L. S. of Mulder. A part of the earth from the mine was washed in their presence, and yielded the very satisfactory result of 20 particles of gold."

"Mr. Olmstead Johnson has shown this week a very fine specimen of gold in a small piece of quartz, which he broke off from a boulder lying within a few rods of the Richardson mine. There can be no doubt of the richness of that locality."

"There is now more inquiries on the part of speculators for the purchase of mining lands, with more moderate views on the part of holders of real estate."

A Good Arrangement.

The Hamilton Spectator says:—"Our readers will be glad to hear that the two great Canadian Railways have at length come to a mutual understanding for the adjustment of rates and fares and the avoidance of that injurious competition which has long prevailed to the detriment of both, as well as to the injury of the country—by preventing the full development of traffic which the localities traversed by the two lines would be otherwise calculated to promote. The Railway News, from which we obtain our information, congratulates the proprietors of both roads on the fact that the fortunate presence in London of the general managers of those two important colonial undertakings, actuated by a spirit of concession and conciliation, has concurred to produce so important a result. Esto perpetua."

An Extraordinary Person.

From the Mercantile Gazette.

Certainly one of the most extraordinary persons whom that extraordinary conspirator, the Fenian, has produced is "General Massey." The General, though fully informed about Fenianism, is singularly ignorant of his own history. In the first place, he does not know what his name is. He presumes that he was baptised, but cannot say by what name. He has assumed many names and played many parts.—At one time he was Pat Condon, of the Land Transport Corps, at Portsmouth, where, he says, he obtained his discharge, but the discharge was not forthcoming a month after his return, and he cannot tell whether he lost it or not; a piece of forgetfulness which would tell rather bad against him if the "General" were being tried by court-martial for desertion. He went to America in 1856, and when the civil war broke out joined the Confederates as a Private. Yet soon afterwards we find him an officer, and he "thinks" he was a lieutenant, but is not sure. A little later he was a colonel under General Smith, but unfortunately lost his commission as he lost his discharge in England. After the war he became a commercial traveller. Next he took up with the Fenian business, and attended the meetings at New Orleans. He constantly urged Stephens to excite a rebellion in Ireland. He was sent over to Ireland to carry out his own suggestion, swooned away directly he was arrested, and then turned informer. The only creditable part in this confession was when the "General" said that "he was only sorry that he ever recovered from the swoon." We suspect a good many other persons are no less sorry.

Mining Intelligence.

We learn from Col. Campbell Gold Inspector, that within a few weeks he has issued 40 Private Lands Gold Mining Licenses, 18 Crown Lands Gold Mining Licenses, and one Free License. The Free License was given to Mr. J. F. B. Morrice, who made a new and valuable discovery of gold last week on lot 16 in the 11th concession of Madoc. The gold was found in white quartz, two feet from the surface; in one piece of the quartz can be seen twenty distinct pieces of gold. The Inspector pronounced them the best specimens yet obtained outside the Richardson mine. Morrice made an affidavit that the discovery of gold was made by himself, previous to obtaining the license.

Eight Tavern Licenses have been issued by the Inspector, in pursuance of the provisions of the Mining Act. The Inspector reports that a considerable number of persons are arriving within the 10th District, and that work is being resumed at several of the mines, but the weather is still unfavourable for prosecuting mining operations extensively.

Mr. Strong, interested in the Barry mine, Elzevir, informed us this morning that they continue to find gold in small quantities in that mine. An old California miner is superintending operations at this mine, and he reports the prospects exceedingly promising. They are following the crevice between the Pale Slate and the quartz, and from the ochreous substance taken therefrom gold has been repeatedly washed.—This is the mine at which the accident occurred early in the spring, and at which operations were resumed only about ten days ago.

We are also informed that at the "Cariboo mine," on the Gardiner farm, near Bannockburn, gold is being continually washed from the sand found in the crevice. Experienced miners anticipate a rich deposit there when they reach the bed rock.

The "Cooke Mining Company" have complied with the terms required by the Act, and are now a corporate body. They will commence operations at once, and from what we have heard of this locality by experienced miners, we anticipate rich developments from that quarter.

Stations of Ministers.

The Ontario Conference of the Episcopal Methodist church closed its annual session on the morning of the 15th. The reports of the various schemes of the church show that the conference has had a prosperous year. The following are the stations of Ministers in this vicinity:

Sidney.—Rev. S. W. La Du and S. G. Thompson.

Stirling.—Rev. A. Campbell and R. Campbell.

Madoc.—Rev. J. Q. Adams.
Brighton.—Rev. P. L. Sparrow and S. Norris.

For Tudor and Marmora, Ministers will be supplied.

Saw Logs.—The slides on the Moira have been opened during the week, and saw logs and railway ties are coming down in considerable quantities.

THE SNIDER RIFLE.—The Army and Navy Gazette of the 1st inst., says: "We are glad to hear the very best accounts of the working of the Snider rifle with the No. 3 cartridge. It appears to leave nothing to be desired, and both officers and men now engaged in practice are quite enthusiastic about its merits."

CANADIAN RAILWAYS.—The traffic returns of the Canadian Railways for the month of April, appear in the Canada Gazette. They show an increase over the month of April 1890, of $38,454. The increase of the Great Western was $22,007; of the Grand Trunk, $3,500; and of the Northern $2,100.

MILITARY.—We observe by the Army and Navy Gazette of the 1st May inst., that the 3rd Brigade Royal Artillery and the 39th Regiment at present forming part of the garrison now in Malta are under orders for Canada. The 39th and a portion of the 3rd Brigade R. A., will embark next month, and the remainder of the Brigade in August.

MARKET FEES.—The Market Fees for the current year were sold out long ago, at the Town Hall. The bidding was commenced by Mr. Mackie at $1315, and was continued with some spirit by Messrs. E. Perkins, Robt. Howe, the present Lessee, Mr. Phillips, and Mr. Mackie. The highest bid by Mr. Howe was $1400; by Mr. Phillips, $1430; by Mr. Perkins $1490; and by Mr. Mackie $1510. On the bidding ceased, and Mr. Mackie was declared the purchaser at $1500, being $85 less than the sum obtained last year.

THE RICHMOND MINE.—We are informed by Mr. Glass, President of the Belleville Company, that the $100,000 ordered to be paid in 5 days by the Court of Chancery, was paid yesterday into the Commercial Bank, subject to the order of the Court. This does not look as if the Belleville Company had lost confidence in the richness of the mine, and should be sufficient answer to those croakers, both of the press and otherwise, who are continually asserting that the whole thing is a swindle.

Town Council.

A special meeting of the Town Council was held on Saturday evening the 15th inst. Present: His Worship the Mayor, Messrs. R. J. Jones, C. H. Levesque, Thos. Sublette, James Brown, Capt. McIntosh, R. Tannahill, T. Holden, A. Waters, A. Robertson, and W. A. Foster.

MARKET BY-LAW.

Mr. Holden gives notice to amend By-Law No. 101.

The rules were suspended to allow the 1st and 3rd reading.

Mr. Holden in explanation, said that it had come to the knowledge of the Committee on Market, that an application was to be made to set aside the present Market By-Law, and he had looked into the matter and found that the superior Courts had set aside the Market By-Laws passed in other towns; not so much he thought on account of the corporation in these places making provision for the regulating and selling of certain articles; but, because they prohibited the sale of the cheese articles in any other than certain places and at certain hours in such towns and cities. What he proposed was to amend the By-Law so as to bring it within the meaning of the Belleville By-Law he proposed to make, was this: the present By-Law prevented people from selling certain articles anywhere except on the Market between certain hours. The new section would allow the selling of such articles in any part of the town; but not until the Market dues shall have been paid. If this By-Law as amended would not be sustained some other plan would have to be adopted. He then moved the committee be authorized to substitute the following clause for section 12 in the present By-Law:—

1st. That the following be substituted for section 12 of the said By-Law: That no person shall buy, sell or offer for sale any game, fish, poultry, eggs, butter, cheese, grain, vegetables, or fruit except for sale or marketed within the Town of Belleville, and the seller has paid the Market dues for the sale of such articles as provided for in the twenty-second section of this By-Law. And before the hour of ten o'clock in the forenoon, no person shall forestall, regrate or monopolize any market grains, meats, fish, fruits, roots, vegetables, poultry or dairy produce within the Town of Belleville, and before that time the hour of twelve o'clock, noon, no butcher's meat, fish, or straw, shall be bought or sold, or any person in any part of the Town except at the public Market place in the Town of Belleville; and further, before the hour of twelve o'clock in the forenoon, no huckster or runner living within the municipality of the Town of Belleville, or within one mile from the limits thereof, shall purchase any market grains, meats, fish, fruits, roots, vegetables poultry and dairy products brought to the Town of Belleville, or sell or offer for sale any such articles.

We give the clause in the old By-Law as follows, so as to enable the reader to see what changes are made.

12th. That no person shall buy, sell, or offer for sale any meat, game, fish, poultry, eggs, butter, cheese, grain, vegetables, or fruit except for sale or marketed within the Town of Belleville, (at any place, excepting at the hour of twelve o'clock in the forenoon, no person shall forestall, regrate or monopolize any market grains or fruits, brought to the said Market, nor shall any of the before mentioned articles be sold or offered for sale, or sold or offered for sale, by any person until the seller has taken up his place on the Market, and has obtained a public license, and before the hour of eleven o'clock in the forenoon in the month of January, February, March, April, September, October, November and December, and after the hour of ten o'clock in the forenoon in the months of May, June, July and August, no person shall buy, sell, or offer for sale any meat in carcasses or by the quarter, and any game, fish, poultry, eggs, cheese, grain, vegetables, or fruit, that have been brought to the Market, the Market fees thereon, or on the vehicle, containing the same, paid, and a ticket obtained thereon, may be bought or sold by any person in any part of the Town; and provided further, that before the hour of eleven o'clock in the forenoon in the months of January, February, March, April, September, October, November and December, and before the hour of ten o'clock in the forenoon in the months of May, June, July and August, no person shall buy, sell, or offer for sale any meat in carcasses or by the quarter, or for export, any meat, game, fish, poultry, eggs, butter, cheese, vegetables, or fruit as brought to the Market.

Mr. Robertson said, the old By-Law was to a certain extent in harmony with the Kingston By-Law. If this clause were further made he feared the fees would be materially reduced.

Mr. Tannahill regretted to hear any councillor say the fees would be diminished, as no one would be permitted to sell until the market dues were paid, and consequently there would be no diminution in the receipt of fees.

The Mayor agreed with Mr. Tannahill, and argued that the farmers would still come to the market, as it had proved of advantage to them as well as to the Town people.

Mr. Robertson was just as anxious to have every cent saved to the Town as any councillor, still he thought this was a question that should be fully discussed, and he would like to know if there were any provisions to compel people to go to the market and pay the market dues. If not was the market clerk to run after them?

Mr. Levesque regretted that there was not sufficient time to enable the Council to properly consider this question. It is known that the present market By-Law is no favorite of his; he proposed it when introduced. He did not approve of it now, nor did he think the amendments would meet the difficulty. He would not oppose, however, as under the clause proposed, it was perhaps the best that could be done in short a time. His opinion was that if the law did not give the Council power to regulate and compel people to come to the Market, it would be better to have a free market altogether. That way were obliged to come to the market, Farmers would commence selling as soon as they entered the town, and it would require a policeman to watch at every spring along the corporation. Farmers had always gone to other markets on account of dissatisfaction. The object of market regulations was to bring the buyer and seller together, which proved advantageous to both, but he feared this would be defeated if the courts held that these By-Laws were not legal.

Mr. Holden.—If the By-Law as amended cannot be sustained, it would be better to have a free market. He would take care in selling the fees, that provisions should be made so that no advantage of the Town could be taken, in case of a reverse of the decision of any of the Courts of Law.

The By-Law was then passed and numbered 172, and the Council adjourned.

FROM MARMORA.

Early settlement—Mr. Hayes, his enterprise, failure, and death—Why he failed—The opinion then—Other Minerals—Gold—Fay—False reports—Prosperity—Rumors—Modest.

MARMORA, May 18, 1897.

During the time occupied in the settlement and progress of the present County of Hastings, the Township of Marmora was of little account, and in fact was scarcely known or heard of to the rest of the Province, until the late Mr. Hayes established the Marmora Iron Works. That gentleman was an officer in the British army, or was in government employ in one of the Royal Dock Yards in England. He was possessed of considerable property, which was all embarked in the enterprise which proved so unfortunate to himself in its result. He lost the whole of his capital in the undertaking, and returning to his native country, died in poverty and obscurity. Mr. Hayes was perfectly right in his estimate of the value of the immense deposit of iron ore which he discovered, but he was led astray as to the obstacles and difficulties which lay in the way of ultimate success, owing to bad roads and the difficulty of procuring competent persons to carry out his expectations. He furnished an example (among other very numerous instances) of the folly of making everything, in any business, without previous practical experience. Loans and mortgages made the failure complete. Even at that time an opinion was prevalent that gold was to be found in the country, and other metals and minerals were from time to time discovered, without any attempt to work them or to make them profitable. Farmers were too busy in the spring, summer and fall, to be able to go out prospecting or prospecting, and in the winter season the snow came to hide all these treasures from observation.

The country also, was too poor, too rough and too uninviting to induce capitalists to make investments in it, and so the time wore on, and very little progress of any description was made, until the discovery of the now celebrated and world renowned Richardson Gold Mine. Then the conviction became general that gold was deposited in a similar manner throughout the country, and this idea has been realized, to some considerable extent, by the discovery of gold, in various places extending over a wide extent of territory.

The question still remains to be settled as to paying quantities of gold having been brought to light, and as to where these deposits are really situated, and until these two questions can be determined, all will be mere speculation and uncertainty. The mere taking away of gold and selling it will be of little or of little benefit to the community at large, or to the country in general, unless some corresponding encouragement be given to all other branches of industry. If any other industry be neglected in order to run about gold-mining districts, without any system, of any kind, a sort of gambling will be generated, which may prove a curse to us instead of a blessing. This continual banking after news or intelligence from the gold-mining districts, without further discoveries or "indications" of the precious metal, generates in its turn a false or exaggerated report of what is discovered, or of that which really exists.

In this Township there have been few lots, during the past fall and winter, in which searches more or less sustained have not been made, and excavations have been made in many places, accordingly as appearances were considered promising or otherwise. The art or science of gold digging is, however, yet in its infancy, it is a new pursuit or employment to most of those engaged in it. I might send you reports of rumors respecting wonderful discoveries in this neighborhood, and of the amounts which have been offered there for these lands, or for mining leases, &c., but inasmuch as it is better to be slow to communicate news of this description, as if such reports or rumors prove to be truth or so much matter of fact, they will all be known and made public by the very force of time, of events and circumstances.

It is quite necessary that moderation and caution be used in our estimates of these new features and developments of our natural productions and resources, but as doubt it is a great and an important fact that we are living in a gold region, and that time only can reveal its resources and the amount and extent of them. It is to be hoped that all will participate in the distribution or in the circulation of the new-found wealth of the country, either directly or indirectly, and that a few years more may find this section of the Province much advanced in all that constitutes moral and material greatness.

FROM MADOC.

From our own Correspondent.

Increased Activity—Cariboo Mine (gold wash) by Mr. Donaldson—Quite Saugum—Madoc—The Cariboo Mine—Mine Die covers—More Sea Room.

MADOC, May 18, 1897.

The roads to this place are pretty bad, but still there is a good deal of travel in this direction. There is an air of activity about the village, from the number of strangers passing through it and stopping at the hotels. Gold is the all prevailing topic of conversation, and the "Cariboo mine" the centre of interest at this point. I was told that Mr. Donaldson of Toronto, Emigrant agent, was here a few days since, and made a careful examination of the Cariboo mine, washing from a paill of dust taken from the mine a fine sample of the precious metal. The residents of this village are quite sanguine as to the result of the mining operations in this neighbourhood and I think not without good reason. The men who were employed at the "Cariboo mine," when gold was first discovered, have shown their faith in it—and they are practical miners—by leasing some territory as near by as possible on their own account, and have gone to work, and are sinking a shaft. Deception might be practiced with others, but it would not likely deceive practical men working the mine, and who had an interest beyond their wages. A number of shafts are being sunk on various lots in the vicinity; but owing to the continued rainy weather, work cannot be pushed as it will be when the weather becomes settled. The people are disappointed at the quartz mill of Messrs. Turley & Gilbert not being put here, as was intended in the first place; but it is not likely that so good a location will be long overlooked, as this is the general point for a large mineral district, which abounds in quartz ridges, gulches, ravines, &c.

The "McNamee mine," which is a short distance from this place, is unfortunately not being worked with much energy, owing to some misunderstanding between the owner and lessees of the lot on which it is located. It seems to be the fate of miners in Madoc to get into difficulty—much of it, however, no doubt, arises from the loose manner in which the agreements are drawn up in the first place.

Lot No. 28, in the 2nd Con., about three miles from here, is pronounced by practical miners, as presenting every appearance of "good mining territory." Gold has been found in a stream that runs across this lot, and is supposed to come from the quartz ridges on either side. Like other parts of the country, there is a great deal of mining being carried on here, but not much has been succeeded in getting a few thousands for his "location" in this place. The old visitors at Bannockburn will miss his jovial face, and the kind attendance always received at his house, but no one will envy him the "streak of good luck" that ran in his direction. His successor carries a good house and deserves success. LIFE DEPARTMENT.

founded contain all the elements required
to develop the benefits of Life Assurance,
and afford every facility to intending assured.
One of the advantages secured by those who
insure their lives with this Company is that
the outside expenditure for Management is absolutely restricted by the Decree of Settlement to Ten per Cent of the Net Life
Income. This most important restriction
keeps the interests of participating policy holders closely watched, and carefully attended to by the Company. Attention is especially called to this point, as the proportion
of premiums expended for Management
Must Largely Influence Profits
and Bonuses.

The next division of profits takes place in 1888, and all those who wish to participate in
the profits should insure at once.

LIFE DEPARTMENT.

THE principles on which this Company is
founded contain all the elements required
to develop the benefits of Life Insurance, and
afford every facility to intending assureds.
One of the advantages secured by those who
insure their lives with this Company is that
the outside expenditure for Management is
absolutely restricted by the Deed of Settlement to Ten per Cent of the Net Life
Income. This most important restriction
shows that the interests of participating policy
holders are closely watched and carefully attended to by the Company. Attention is especially called to this point, as the proportion
of premiums expended for Management
Must Largely Influence Profits
and Bonuses.

The next division of profits takes place in 1868, and all those who wish to participate in
the profits should insure at once.

FIRE and LIFE.
LIFE DEPARTMENT.

THE principles on which this Company is
founded contain all the elements required
to develop the benefits of Life Assurance, and
afford every facility to intending assured—
One of the advantages secured by those who
insure their lives with this Company is, that
the outside expenditure for Management is
absolutely restricted by the Deed of Settlement to ten per cent of the Net Liquid Income. This most important restriction
shows that the interests of participating policy
holders are closely watched and carefully attended to by the Company. Attention is especially called to this point, as the proportion of premiums expended for Management is usually much larger than in this Company.
Must Largely Influence Profits
and Bonuses.

The next division of profits takes place in 1868, and all those who wish to participate in
the profits should insure at once.

The War of 1812-14.

The leaders on either side to whom the conduct of the contest was committed merit passing notice. The Commander-in-Chief in the Canadas—Sir George Prevost—
while estimable in private life possessed none of the abilities of a Statesman nor the dash of a soldier; without these qualities a man may be a brave leader, but will never make a successful General. His so-luntaneously possessed every amiable trait of Sir George Prevost's character, as well as all the qualities of which he was deficient,
with the addition of a chivalric valor,
which no peril can daunt. Hardly inferior in courage, daring, and, in his native manner, in diplomacy, was the great Tecumseh,
the last hold Indian Prince who was capable to collect the scattered bands of the aboriginal inhabitants to infuse something like organization into their rude class, and to assume the command of the Red Warriors of the Western world.

On the American side, Hull, a weak-minded and servile veteran of the Revolutionary war, was chosen for his reputable stupidity to command the force collected in the thin wilds of Michigan, for the feeble purpose of acquiring the command of the lakes and intercepting the trade of the Hudson Bay Company.

Van Rensselaer, on the Niagara frontier,
was a dashing, puzzle-headed soldier, with only one of the qualities necessary to constitute a General—bravery—in his whole character; but otherwise without conduct or ability to qualify him for the command of a battalion.

The General-in-Chief, Dearborn, appears as one of those marionettes in a Punch and Judy show; all tinsel and glitter, but moved by the wires in the hands of a skillful manipulator; and was, in reality, used as such by one of the principal authors of the war—General Armstrong—who filled the office of Secretary of War to the American Government, and was anxious to rival Napoleon in a small way, by planning campaigns to be carried out by his creature.
Consequently, only for the relief afforded by Brock and Tecumseh, it would be hard to define to which party the greatest infecility was attached. To understand the exact position of both parties it is necessary to state that Dearborn and Rensselaer
drew their supplies of arms and material from the New England States, while Hull derived his from the State of Ohio and Pennsylvania, in his rear. The State of Illinois, and all those busy heuza between the lakes and the Mississippi, were then the homes of the Indian tribes, and were at deadly feud with the white settlers. The United States—the people of which had considerably advanced in that course of civilization, combined of murder and whiskey, which has culminated in the all but total extinction of the race. Consequently, the Indian tribes were a power in the contest which no wise man could afford to despise. The savage, wary and cunning, awaited the striking of the first blow before they would declare their attitude, and whatever feeling they possessed was in favor of the British, because in their mode
of warfare, the first successful onset generally decided the fate of the contest, and they understood no other mode of warfare.
With the keen eye of a soldier, Brock, on whom the defence of Upper Canada devolved, discerned the weak point in his adver-
sary's position, and, with the presence of a statesman, knew that by delivering the first and decisive blow he would secure the alliance of the Indian tribes, and virtually decided the future fate of the contest. Accordingly, he dispatched orders, on the 26th of June (having received private intelligence of the declaration of war at Washington on the 18th, of which,
by some strange blunder on the part of the British Ambassador, the official notification did not reach Sir George Prevost till the 7th of July), to Captain Roberts, of the 41st Regiment, commanding at Fort St.
Joseph, an island at the head of Lake Huron, to attack the American post of Mackinac Island, called usually Mackinac,
on an island in the straits of the same name, commanding the entrance to Lake Michigan, the possession of which would leave the country in rear of Hull, and from which his supplies were drawn, at the mercy of the Indian allies of Brock.

Roberts, a brave and energetic officer, commanding 33 men of his regiment, to an isolated post in the wilderness, nearly 300 miles from the next British garrison, fully appreciating the importance of the object
to be achieved, prepared to carry his orders into effect; and, aided by the energy and daring of the Agent of the Hudson Bay Company, the late Hon. Toussaint Pothier, of Montreal, he was enabled to add 160
Canadian voyageurs, armed with muskets
and fowling pieces, and two three pounder guns, well for firing salutes to his force—
With this addition, he landed, on the morning of the 17th of July, on the island of Mackinac, and instantly assuming the American officer in command to surrender a request which was at once complied with,
as the latter was quite unprepared for attack, not knowing that war existed. The planners of the campaign for the conquest of Canada entirely forgot to protect their own most vulnerable portions, and that on which the final issues of the contest depended. On the day on which this victory was achieved, Brock met the Legislature of Upper Canada in session at Toronto, then called Little York, and in the graphic words of the author of "1812; a Chronicle of the War." "The Legislature were despondent, and the people misnamed. But a speedy change took place; the noble character of Brock rapidly assumed its natural ascendancy; the public mind became reassured; public confidence revived, and the lava tide of victory, living though latent, surged up and blazed forth as a bonfire inextinguishable in the land."

On the 19th of July, Hull had invaded Canada at the head of two thousand men by crossing from Detroit to Sandwich, the only force to oppose him being about 350 men, under Col. Preston, at Amherstburg, and a portion of the Indian contingent under Tecumseh. Here he issued one of those "separate proclamations" which are such a burlesque on the great Napoleon, which provoke a smile at the childish fatuity of the writer. The American Gen. speedily found that in taking the bull by the horns, he had got himself into a position from which it was impossible to extricate his way without imminent peril. He could neither procure supplies from the country nor advance through the impassable St. Clair flats. One or two feeble attempts to cross a paltry stream called Duck Creek, which was foiled in the first instance by the Indians, and in the latter by the regular troops at Fort Malden, was magnified by the American press into a victory, and were the sole fruits of this senseless campaign. Tecumseh, who was the eyes and ears of the British army, learned the advance of a detachment under Major Van Horne, and with Captain Talbot, commanding a detachment of Canadian Militia, intercepted and captured the whole party, with the despatches of the American General, on the 5th of August. By that time Hull had learned the capture of Michilimackinac, and from the officer in command of the Niagara frontier the information that he could make no diversion in his favor; consequently it became necessary to abandon the projected conquest, and look well to the safety of his own position. On the seventh of August he recrossed the river, and thus closed by a disgraceful retreat, the first attempt at the conquest of Canada.

Hull's mistakes evidently lay in his disregard of the defence of Michilimackinac; in his attempt to invade Canada above, instead of immediately at Amherstburg. The sole object which he should have sought would be the capture of that post, which would have made a naval occupation of Lake Erie impossible, and would have enabled him to co-operate against the right flank of the British with the invading army on the Niagara frontier.

NOVA SCOTIA AND NEW BRUNSWICK
Public attention is now being turned to the Bay Verte Canal project as being essential to the prosperity of the whole country.

Is it a Humbug?

Just now there appears to be a very laborious effort on the part of certain individuals, and journalists, to prove that there is no gold in Hastings, and that the Richardson mine is a humbug. It is not a matter of surprise that there should be some disappointed gold seekers. It is not strange that amongst the thousands who have visited the gold regions, there are some who should go away with the idea that all this excitement has been got up for the benefit of speculators. They came with large expectations, hoping to pick big nuggets off the surface of the earth, as they would gather apples from heavily laden trees in autumn. They expected to find the bottom of the creeks covered with the precious stuff, to see it cropping out of every quartz ledge, and that all they were required to do was to stake out their claim, dig a few days, wash a hundred or so pans, and then retire with their "pile." But they did not find anything, they did not see even a speck of gold except that which was in the hands of others. They wandered over the country, spent what little money they had, and returned to their homes dissatisfied, and convinced that the whole thing was a humbug. We repeat, it is not surprising to hear of instances like this, and it is no matter of astonishment to us that even respectable newspapers should be influenced by them. The history of California is only repeating itself here. Of the thousands who went to those golden shores, but very few returned with as much as they took away. Hundreds and thousands did precisely as hundreds and thousands are doing here, and as hundreds and thousands would do if new Gold fields were discovered in some remote part of the world. A few will gain valuable prizes; the great mass must be content with blanks. But the experience of these dissatisfied persons does not prove that there is no gold in this district, any more than the experience of similar persons would prove that there was no gold in California. The gold region of California was not developed the first year, nor the second year, nor the third year, and we found then the croakers and grumblers coming back from that country just as they are leaving this country. We must expect therefore to hear from these grumblers, and must not be surprised if certain journalists, for the mere sake of fault-finding and croaking, pronounce the gold region a humbug, the Richardson mine a swindle, and the whole thing a "South sea bubble."

The fact is, however, neither in California, Australia, Colorado, British Columbia, nor in any other gold region, has there been found such a remarkable deposit of gold as the Richardson mine in Madoc, remarkable not only for the peculiarity of its condition, but for its extraordinary richness. That mine can hardly be exceptional in this region, and recent developments give promise that other deposits of a similar character will be found. We might reproduce evidence of the most incontrovertible character, to establish the truth of the foregoing statements; but that would be a waste of time and words. If necessary, we might procure the affidavits of a hundred of the most respectable inhabitants of this County, to show that our reports of the richness of the Richardson mine are true in every respect; but that would be superfluous.

What we are surprised at, is the thoughtless manner in which some journalists treat this matter. The Leader, the other day, in referring to the assay made of a portion of the four barrels of sand and quartz taken to Rochester, copied an extract from an American paper in which it was said that "the appraisers, from a trifling amount of the mud, found about two grains of gold and they estimate that the yield will be, from $2 to $250 per ton. The test of the quartz is not yet completed." Now if the Leader had taken the trouble to examine that statement, it would have found that if there are two grains of gold to a pound of mud it would yield about $100 a ton, a yield of extraordinary richness. We observe the Ontario Citizen has fallen into the same error, and says "We in 'cline to the opinion that the Madoc mines will turn out something like Chaudiere and Nova Scotia mines." The Nova Scotia quartz yields we believe between $5 and $7 to the ton, so that there is not much similarity between the mines of that Province and the Richardson mine. But some of the sand and quartz taken from the Richardson mine, produced a much richer yield than $100 to the ton. Some assays made of the decomposed quartz and of the quartz itself, gave a yield of from $50,000 to $100,000 a ton, and we are sure that neither in Nova Scotia, nor in Chaudiere, nor in California, nor in Australia, have there been found deposits of such extraordinary richness. These facts are well known here, and are well known to our principal Geologists and practical miners throughout the country. It is not likely, as we before stated, that the Richardson mine is exceptional in this region, and from the developments that are being made, we have every reason to believe that before long, similar rich deposits will be found in other parts of the country. In the meantime we advise such papers as the Hamilton Times to possess their souls in patience.

Coal in Prince Edward.

A friend furnishes us with the following important information: "Yesterday in digging a well on lot 77 in the second concession of Ameliasburgh, on Mr. Daniel F. Way's farm, three miles from Redensville on the road to Goulton's mills, a seam of coal four feet in thickness was struck at a depth of twelve feet from the surface; specimens were taken out, and sent by Owen Roblin, Esq., to a competent authority to have it tested; Mr. Roblin intends to sink a shaft immediately on a lot he owns along side Way's. The village blacksmith pronounces it first rate coal. As might be expected, there is a good deal of excitement among our usually staid and sober neighbours, and they are already insisting that comparisons as to the merits of gold and coal. What say the geologists to this last discovery? Will it astonish them as much as the 'impossible' gold in Madoc?"

El Dorado.—West End.—Desperado Mine.—Finding Gold Continually.—What we hear.—Gossip.—Lower El Dorado.—What it has.—Richardson Mine.—Police.—Kept Busy.—The Quartz Mill.—The Anglo-Saxon.—Building going on.—An improved Feeling.—Gold Mines.—Reports about Gold Mining.—Yarns spun.

UPPER EL DORADO. }
"El Dorado House," May 18.

As London has its "West End," so has many other places, and El Dorado among the rest. The Upper El Dorado considers them selves a little superior to the denizens of the "lower village." Whether it is because they are on higher territory, more select as a people, or have a "Desperado mine," I cannot say; but one thing is certain, they think there is no doubt as to which place is the most desirable to locate. Hotels, lawyers, and surveyors appear to have plenty to do.

The "Desperado mine" is being vigorously worked, and the owners are in the best of spirits, and speak most confidently with reference to their success. They report gold being found wherever they "take the trouble" to wash the sand in the crevices of the rock as they push their way down. "The El Dorado House is kept by Messrs. Cameron & McCarty, and every attention paid to travellers that can be expected. As the people gather in during the evening, and conversation becomes general—above the confused hum of voices, you hear "Carlisle mine," "Desperado mine," "Gold indications," "Splendid quartz," "$5,000," "$20,000," "Struck a lead," "Lives a humbug," "Gold in the quartz," "Richardson mine," "Lombard & Hardin," "Belleville Co.," "Chaucery suit," and "don't care who wins if they only work the mine," but one feeling seems to be permanent above all others here, and that is the wish that some body would work the "Richardson mine."

Some way they seem to think this is to work wonders on behalf of their interests, and I hope it will; but one cannot help thinking, that even if it is worked, it will not employ such a number of men as many seem to imagine. A hundred men in a gold mine is a large number, and cannot add much to the prosperity of the place. It is more likely, however, that it is the increased impetus to the interest in mining in other places that they are looking to.

LOWER EL DORADO. }
"Anglo-American Hotel," May 18.

Here our old friend Moon, of the Hastings House, Madoc, has stuck down his stake, and through the manager, Mr. Craig, offers first class accommodations to all who may visit this part of the country.

As Artemus Ward said about the "States" after visiting the Tower in London, "Poor America, it is a great country, but then it has no Tower." So Lower can say to Upper El Dorado, "you are a great place, but then you have no Richardson Mine," and consequently no "Chaucery suit" and no "Raid." This village is certainly lower than the other, though it has by far the larger number of buildings, and being closer to the "Richardson Mine," naturally attracts strangers more. Since the "Raid" the territory immediately around the "Mine" is rather exclusive and you don't see much of the movements going on—there are three pretty busy for the last few days, looking after Miners and Tavern-keepers, notifying them with reference to Licenses. The effect has been that the Gold Inspector was kept pretty busy yesterday issuing Licenses.

Messrs. Gilbert and Tarley are preparing to erect their Quartz Mill at this place. I am under the impression they would have succeeded better at Hanckburg, but after all what is one crushing mill to what we will require if the Quartz throughout the region should prove suitably rich in the precious metal to pay for crushing.

The celebrated "Anglo-Saxon" is rather thrown in the shade by the more extensive Hotel erected here within the last three months; but the "Anglo-Saxon" like the "Richardson Mine" is now a matter of history and most strangers have an inclination to call and see the establishment. Building is still going on here and the villagers say there is an improved state of feeling here within the last two weeks. The men arriving appear to be anxious to invest in fair chance of success can be shown.

The sale of the Cooke Mine gives very good satisfaction here. It being understood that mining will commence at once and all seem to feel sure that it will turn out a success. To judge from what I hear, almost every one has tested Cooke's spring, for himself, and can bear testimony to the fact that gold is to be found there. If you wish to hear reports with reference to gold mining, El Dorado is the place to go to. Here you will meet miners from California, Australia, British Columbia, Colorado, Nova Scotia, and almost every where else with a speck of "fil" from every State in the Union. The yarns spun here, if of the right material would supply all the stocking yarn in the country. But truth is often stranger than fiction. Take for instance, the "Richardson Mine," its discovery, richness, Chaucery suit, raid, &c. Could they be any thing nearer the improbable.

THE BROADWAY THEATRE.—This Company have been performing to full houses here their opening, and their playing has given general satisfaction to subscribers. Grady has taken a very difficult part, was well rendered. To-night "Uncle Tom's Cabin" will be given.

GODFREY'S LADY'S BOOK for June has been laid out for sale by Mr. Overell, who will furnish them regularly to subscribers. Grady has taken the lead amongst the Lady's Magazines on this continent, and amidst a large number of able competitors, has steadily maintained it. The present number is replete with interesting reading and is worth a handsome illustration.

NEARLY A FIRE.—A fire occurred in the tailor shop of Mr. Jno. Hog, adjoining the INTELLIGENCER office, last night, which, had it not been fortunately discovered by some of the workmen of this office, must have proved very disastrous. As it was, Mr. Hog lost about $100 in damage to goods, which is covered by insurance in the British America.

The Legislature of Nova Scotia closed its Session on Tuesday. In dismissing the representatives, His Excellency the Lieutenant-Governor remarked in the course of his speech to the members, "I am glad to close this Session without expressing the deep gratification with which I have witnessed the action of both Branches of the Legislature on the question of the Union of the two Canadas, Nova Scotia, and New Brunswick, under one Government. I am confident, as I firmly believe that your adoption of that measure will not only greatly increase the general prosperity of British America, and elevate all these Provinces in the scale of Nations, but that the Union was imperatively demanded, in order to give stability to the institutions you enjoy, and permanent security to this portion of Her Majesty's dominions as an integral portion of the Empire."

The amended Educational system of P. E. Island, increases the salaries of school-masters five pounds a year, for three years until the amount shall reach £30, and also increases the salaries of female teachers in like proportion. It specifies that no teacher is to be allowed the highest salary unless he has taught three years consecutively. It stipulates that the whole of the salary is to be paid by the treasury, instead of partly by the people as formerly, and it requires the average attendance of scholars to be calculated each year, and averaged at the end of each quarter, or now.

The total return of the seal-fishery out of St. John's, N. E., up to the 39th ult., amounted to 126,730 seals, taken in 63 vessels. This gives an average of 1951 for each vessel employed.

LIFE DEPARTMENT.

THE principles on which this Company is
founded contain all the elements required
to develop all the benefits of Life Assurance—and afford every facility to intending assur-
ees. One of the advantages secured by those who insure their lives with this Company is that
the outside expenditure for Management is
absolutely restricted by the Deed of Settlement to Ten per Cent. of the Net Life Income. This most important restriction
shows that the interests of participating policy-
holders are closely watched and carefully attended to by the Company. Attention is especially called to this point, as the proportion
of premiums expended for Management
Must Largely Influence Profits
and Bonuses.

The next division of profits takes place in 1868, and all those who wish to participate in
the profits should insure at once.

A Short Story for Little Folk.

John and George had been very quarrelsome but they shook hands and became friends for a little time. Their relations were pleased to see them do so, and watched them as they worked together to build a little boat, which they were to launch upon the river of Progress. Before the boat was launched, George, who was a very silly, misguided boy, said he would not have any more to do with John and the boat. So he left him and went and sat down by himself, and threw mud at John, who only laughed at him. By and by, John, anguished by some mischievous boys, relations of George's, launched their boat upon the river, and they named her the "Union," and all the little boys were very glad. But George said, "now let us all begin to fight, and call each other ugly names," for that was all George cared to do. But the little boys who went to school with John and George, said they did not want to fight
about a boat, that which they felt out about anything they would take their jackets off quickly enough, but that as they had launched the boat they would call it and row her down the river together. John pulled the boat over, and when George saw that John was very angry, and yelled and screamed so loudly that he had to be shut up in retirement,
and was soundly flogged with the rod of Public Opinion. Little boys should not be so quarrelsome.—Hamilton Spectator.

Courage.
Have you courage to discharge a debt
while you have the money in your pocket?
Have you the courage to do without that which you do not need, however, your eyes
may covet it.

Have the courage to speak to a friend in a "seedy coat," even though you are in company with a rich one, and richly attired at the same time.

Have the courage to make a will, and a just one.

Have the courage to tell a man why you will not lend him your money.

Have the courage to "cut" the most agreeable acquaintance you have, when you are convinced that he lacks principle. "A friend should bear with a friend's infirmities," but not with his vices.

Have the courage to show your respect
for honesty in whatever guise it appears;
and your contempt for dishonest duplicity
by whomsoever exhibited.

Have the courage to wear your old clothes
until you pay for your new ones.

Have the courage to obey your Maker at the risk of being ridiculed by men.

Have the courage to prefer comfort and property to fashion in all things.

Have the courage to acknowledge your ignorance, rather than to seek credit for knowledge under false pretences.

AMERICAN LADIES. The following is an extract from Heworth Dixon's New America— "What do you say now to our ladies?" said to me a bluff Yankee, as we sat last night under the veranda, here in the hotel at Saratoga. "Charming," of course I answered, "pale, delicate, delicately, too, and radiant." "Pooh!" cried
he, putting up his hands, "they are just not worth a— a— a— They can't walk, they can't ride, they can't ride, they can't ride!" "Ah, you have no wife," said I,
in a soothing tone. "A wife!" he shouted,
"I would kill her." "With kindness!"
"Ugh!" he answered, "with a poker. Look at those girls over there, dawdling by the fountain. What are they doing? What have they done all day? Fed and dressed.
They have changed their clothes three times, and had their hair—resisted combed
and curled three times. That is their life.
Have they read a book? Have they sown a seed? Not a bit of it. How do your English ladies spend their time? They put on gown-boots, they tuck up their skirts and tack away through country lanes. I was in Hamshire once, my host was a duke; his wife was out before breakfast, with clove on her feet and roses on her cheeks; she rode to the hunt, and to the cock-pit, a ditch would not frighten her, a hedge would not turn her back. Why, our women, poor, pale, fat, chaste! "Stop," I said, "they are lovely. Ugh!" said the Yankee,
"they have no bone, no fibre, no juice; they have nothing but nerve. But what can you expect? They eat pearls for bread, they drink ice-cream for wine; they wear tight stays, they wear high heels, they wear
such things as you do not fit to live, and thank God,
in a hundred years not one of their descendants will be left alive."

—As the quickest way to make a fortune
now-a-days, a contemporary suggests a fashionable young lady, and selling her clothes!

"It is well to be something for those who come after us," as the boy said when he threw his hoop in the way of a policeman
who was chasing him.

An impatient boy waiting for the grist,
said to the miller, "I could eat the meal as the mill-grinds it." "How long would you do so?" inquired the miller. "Till starved to death," was the sarcastic reply.

"A Column of a volunteer company in England, in offering his services to the country, Mr. Pitt I was not to go out of the country." "Except, I suppose," said
the minister, coldly, "in case of actual invasion."

TELEGRAPHIC NEWS!

BY ATLANTIC CABLE.

NEW YORK, May 23.—The Herald's Cable report of the Derby says: "Over 350,000 persons were present. There were five races. Thirty horses ran for the Derby, and the stakes were valued at $40,000 in gold. There were five false starts; heavy showers of rain falling at intervals. The sixth time the start was finally made, the sun shined gloriously. The race was splendid and in good time. All the favorites were beaten. Hermit won by half a length, coming to the winning post like an arrow, amidst vociferous cheering, although thousands lost large sums by the result. A snow storm prevailed at the moment of victory. Mercur was the second, and Zenon the winner of the two thousand guineas, third."

The distance rowed was 3 miles, for each contest by the Varnas, Glynn and the Upsilon Clubs respectively. In the gig race the Glynn boat shied that of the Varnas club, and was ruled out. The Varnas then beat the Upsilon, and won the race in 20 min. 11 sec. The Varnas crew also won the shell race in 13 min. 7 sec., the Glynnas being second and the Upsilon third.

INVASION OF CANADA—30,000 MEN READY.

NEW YORK, May 23.—The Herald's Troy special says the Fenians are again about taking the field in large numbers for the invasion of Canada. The movement for concentration is general throughout Northern and Western New York, and other States. A messenger has been dispatched by Head Centre to call the brethren to arms, and 30,000 men are to be concentrated on the border within a month. A considerable amount is said to be well served, and large supplies of army stores are already warehoused near St. Albans.

General Spears is to command the invading army. Canadians are alive to the danger, and are preparing to defend themselves. Hon. John A. Macdonald has been at Troy in Conference with the Fenians, and it is believed has been authorized to assure them the Government will not interfere.

JEFF DAVIS.

NEW YORK, May 23.—The Herald's special says: A petition for the pardon of Jefferson Davis is being circulated by Southern men in Washington. It is said that the head rebel himself is no longer averse to suing for clemency.

FROM OTTAWA.

OTTAWA, May 23rd.

Hon. Messrs. McDonald and Campbell arrived by special train last night.

A meeting of the Cabinet takes place to-morrow.

THE UNION.

We learn by special telegram from Ottawa, at 4 o'clock this afternoon, that a PROCLAMATION fixes the first of July as the day on which the Union of the Provinces comes into effect.

East Riding.

It will be seen by reference to the advertising columns of this day's issue, that the Hon. ROBERT READ has, after much persuasion on the part of a large number of the electors of the Eastern Division of this County, consented to become a Candidate for the House of Commons of Canada. Mr. Read's course since he has been in Parliament has been thoroughly independent, giving general satisfaction, and there is little doubt of his return by a large majority, if opposed.

Another Fenian Invasion.

Our readers will perceive by to-day's telegrams a sensational report from the N. Y. Herald's correspondent at Troy, respecting a contemplated invasion by the Fenians. Although the report is from a "fancy" source, we are not inclined to pronounce it altogether a cavard. We are aware that the Government have had information for some time that a Raid was contemplated this Spring or Summer, and that the chief obstacle in carrying it into effect was the want of funds; and it was considered probable that the Raid would be delayed indefinitely, or that the idea would be given up altogether. While there was this uncertainty about the movements of the Fenians, the Government has not been indifferent to the country's defence. Every preparation has been made so that at a few hours' notice, an efficient force of Regulars and Volunteers can be concentrated at the most exposed points.

It may be possible the Fenians will make the fool-hardy attempt, but we think it barely possible. Should they come they find the country better prepared to receive them than it was last June, and we trust if they should cross the borders they will receive a lesson that will last them for all time to come.

Wesleyan Methodist Church.

The District Meeting of the Belleville district, which comprises the Counties of Hastings and Prince Edward, commenced its annual session in this town on Tuesday morning at 11 o'clock, with an attendance of 28 ministers. After religious services conducted by the Reverend Chairman, G. R. Henderson, of Picton, the meeting proceeded to the election of a Secretary, which resulted in the choice of the Rev. R. Fowler, M. D. of Sidney. Tuesday was occupied with an examination of character of each of the ministers and probationers separately, and in receiving the various statistical returns for the year which gave a gratifying prospect in all the interests of the church in this district, both financial and spiritual.

On Wednesday at 10 a.m., the joint meeting of the ministers and lay delegates from the different circuits and missions on the district was opened by religious services. The Chairman then delivered an excellent and spirited address, calling upon the church through its clerical and lay representatives present, to prosecute with increased vigor and with the zeal of Primitive Methodism the great work committed to it of the conversion of sinners and the moral reformation of the world. The day was occupied with attention to these secular interests of the church, and at 10 p.m. the session was closed.

Fifty persons were drowned at Newcastle, England, by the breaking of a bridge at the time of the great boat race.

Royal Gold Mining Company.

Amongst the various companies which have been established for working Gold mines in the Gold district, we know of none which goes into operation with better promise of success than the "Royal Gold Mining Company of Canada."

It has its headquarters in Toronto, and the Provisional Directors are Alex. Mann, James Stephenson, W. H. Jacques, Thomas McEwan, and George Sanderson. These names which are a sufficient guarantee of the standing and responsibility of the company. This company owns the following properties in the Gold regions:

100 acres, E. 1, Lot 20, 4th Con. Township, Elzevir 20 N. E. 1, 10, 20, 30, 40, 50, 60, 70, 80, 90, 100, 110, 120, 130, 140, 150, 160, 170, 180, 190, 200, 210, 220, 230, 240, 250, 260, 270, 280, 290, 300, 310, 320, 330, 340, 350, 360, 370, 380, 390, 400, 410, 420, 430, 440, 450, 460, 470, 480, 490, 500, 510, 520, 530, 540, 550, 560, 570, 580, 590, 600, 610, 620, 630, 640, 650, 660, 670, 680, 690, 700, 710, 720, 730, 740, 750, 760, 770, 780, 790, 800, 810, 820, 830, 840, 850, 860, 870, 880, 890, 900, 910, 920, 930, 940, 950, 960, 970, 980, 990, 1000.

The fifteen acres of Lot 15, in the 6th Con. of Madoc, are a part of the Moore farm, where gold was found not long since, by the owner, John N. Moore, Esq., and apart from the Richardson mine, no place presents better prospects for gold than this lot. It is 1,000 yards from the Richardson mine. It presents the same geological formation as the ridge at Richardson's, and gold having been found there, the company's prospects of success may be deemed of the most flattering character. Their property in Elzevir also presents every appearance and indication of mineral wealth.

The company have had a gentleman of large experience as a practical miner and Geological Surveyor examining their lot near the Richardson mine, and this is the report of his survey:

"MADOC, C. W., 15th May, 1867.
"ALEX. MANN, Esq., Madoc, Ont.
"According to your instructions, I made a surface examination of two out of five of your Mining lots, in the Gold bearing district of the Township of Madoc, and beg to report, as follows, viz:—
"No. 1. Moore Lot, consisting of fifteen acres, being the north-east half of lot number fifteen, in the sixth concession of Madoc, contains three ridges, making together about twenty acres, and a number of about five acres. The ridges are twenty, forty-five and sixty feet respectively above the level of the Rivulet which runs through the swamp and empties into the Stream at the north boundary of the lot.
"The east ridge is well defined, and affords unusual facilities for mining operations. It contains pure quartz, and is well exposed to the quartz, having a general bearing of north-west and south-east, and traversing the entire length of the lot.
"No. 2. Vein, on the west slope of the Ridge, consists of pure quartz, and is about eighteen inches wide.
"No. 3. Vein, a few feet above number one, has a thickness of over three feet, with a vein of heavy spar of ten inches wide by its upper wall.
"No. 4. Vein is a whitish quartz, mixed with iron, and a half foot wide, and traversing the crown of the ridge. In this vein I found a few pieces of native copper.
"No. 5. Vein is formed altogether, judging from the outcrop, of compact blue quartz, and is from three to four feet wide.
"There is also a small vein of eight feet of quartz on the small ridge in the swamp, highly impregnated with oxide of iron and iron pyrites.
"The west ridge is a continuation of the Macleary lot, where miners are now at work, and from which gold has been taken. Your portion of it is covered by iron ore and is, however, so that a little concentrating will have to be done upon it before the vein can be traced.
"The lower ground, upon which I was engaged for washing claims, and the water in the Creek is sufficient for washing purposes.
"The Moore Lot is the third lot to the south-east of the Richardson Mine, and is, in my judgment, one likely to prove a success. I cannot too strongly urge upon those interested in its development, that they enter at once on a vigorous prosecution of mining operations, trusting that the result will justify the favorable opinion I have formed of the property.
"Lot number 23, in the 11th concession, is favorably situated. It contains several small veins of quartz, and has a small stream running through it, affording good facilities for gold washing.
I am, &c.,
H. R. FLETCHER,
Practical Miner and Geological Surveyor."

"The Royal Gold Mining Company of Canada" is formed with a Capital Stock of $100,000, divided into 1,000 shares at $100 per share, with a working capital of $40,000. The deposit on subscription is 25 per cent. Applications for shares should be addressed to Thos. McGraw, Esq., Toronto.

Town Council.

WEDNESDAY, May 23, 1867.

PRESENT.—His Worship the Mayor, and Messrs. Robertson, Jones, Levesque, Kennedy, Sutherland, Brown, Henderson, Tannahill, Waters, and Holden.

A petition from the residents in Coleman Ward asking for the widening of Coleman Street, was referred to the Street Committee.

Several petitions from persons who were fined for allowing their horse to run at large asking for the remittance of the fines, were referred to the Finance Committee.

A petition from John Kyle wanting side walk repaired, was referred to Street Committee.

A memorial from Lieut. Col. Campbell, of 16th Battalion, representing that the Government had appropriated $1,000 towards building a drill shed on the lot of the Town appropriated a similar sum, and requesting the Town to take action, was referred to the Finance Committee.

A petition from the labourers employed by the Town asking their wages to be increased from 2s per day to 4s per day, on account of the high price of provisions, was referred to the Finance Committee.

A petition from W. H. Hambley, F. Hackett, and others in Baldwin Ward, representing that the large crowd gathered at several points, and offering to put up the posts and furnish the lamps if the Council would supply them and light them.

Mr. Holden moved, seconded by Mr. Henderson, that the petition for lamps be referred to the Committee on Fire, Water, and Gas, with power to act, if they think proper.

Mr. Levesque did not see the necessity of going out of the usual course. Let the Committee report in the regular way. The Yeas and Nays were demanded.

YEAS.—Messrs. Holden, Brown, Robertson, Henderson, Sutherland.

NAYS.—Messrs. Jones, Waters, Kennedy, Levesque, Tannahill, and the Mayor.

The motion was lost.

The Finance Committee reported, recommending the payment of several accounts. With reference to the memorial of the Kingston General Hospital, it appeared that there had been sent from this section 39 patients, half of which went from Belleville—that the average cost was ten dollars each, and recommended that two hundred dollars be granted to the Hospital, with the understanding that they continue to receive patients from this section on the same terms.

With reference to the notice given by Mr. W. H. Panton, Registrar, respecting the registration of a plan of the Town, the Committee recommended that they may be authorized to receive applications from competent parties who may be desirous of preparing such plan, Committee to report to the Council.

Mr. Robertson reported verbally that pursuant to instructions of the Council, he had written to Mr. Button, explaining the action of the Council, but he had not received any answer.

Mr. Tannahill asked if the Chairman had any report to make about the Steam Fire Engine being left in the street the other night. He understood it was left on the street, and that it had to be taken in by some members of the Council.

Mr. Robertson said he was at Kingston, and had no knowledge of the matter.

Mr. Tannahill reported on his report on the Harbor and Town property Committee, that the experiment of clearing out the harbor by means of a drag was unsuccessful, and recommended before any further expenditure of money is made, that a deputization be appointed to wait upon the Commissioner of Board of Works, to make application for a Government dredge and scoop, as being the best means to have the harbor cleared; the deputization to consist of some members of the Council, and influential citizens. They further reported that at the urgent request of some parties, they had employed the steamer Brutus for a few days, but the work accomplished did not warrant the expense.

The report was adopted.

Mr. Brown on behalf of the Committee on Streets and Sidewalks, reported that the only matter which required prompt action, was the condition of the tank at corner of Hotel and Front streets. He had ordered the cess pool to be cleared out, which he thought would remedy the difficulty.

Mr. Tannahill called the attention of the Council to the destruction of the sidewalk near the Ferry by teamsters driving over it instead of the proper crossing.

The Council went into Committee on Wards and Means.

The accounts were passed and the different clauses of the report adopted. Committee rose and reported. Report adopted.

An irregular discussion took place respecting the closing of the sidewalk by merchants keeping boxes and barrels opposite their doors, and suspending clothing &c., from awnings. The police were instructed to carry out the By Law.

Terrible Disaster.

LOSS OF THE WISCONSIN.

The following additional particulars respecting the burning of the Wisconsin, and the terrible loss of life, we take from the Kingston Whig of this morning:

On Tuesday night a frightful disaster occurred near Cape Vincent to the Northern Transportation Company's propeller "Wisconsin," which by between 20 and 30 valua bles were lost. The news reached Kingston yesterday by the steamer "Waterworks" from Cape Vincent, which had come almost direct from the scene of the disaster. From the many reports heard and repeated, we gather the following particulars of the accident, awaiting until to-morrow to give more positive information:—

The "Wisconsin," which was commanded by Captain R. Townsend, left Cape Vincent on her regular upward trip for Oswego about 10 p.m., with about 80 souls on board, including the crew. About half an hour afterwards when the ill-fated boat had reached a point two miles below Dresden Island, which it self is about 7 miles and a half from the Cape the cry of fire alarmed the passengers, and but momentary delay was made to get everyone on board that the boat was really in flames. The captain, with remarkable coolness, ascertained the point of danger, and sought to extinguish the fire, but having broken out in an awkward place—under the boiler—the efforts of the crew to conquer it were useless, and they were reluctantly compelled to retire and abandon the boat to the mercy of the fiery element. The after part of the vessel was almost instantly enveloped in flames, and the passengers crowded in the fore part of the vessel, and the boat was unable to control their actions, and the scene the night being dark and overcast added to the confusion, was for a few minutes one of unparalleled terror and excitement. The boat had been headed for Grenadier Island, and soon was grounded at the nearest point. Three of the boats were successfully launched, and with their living freight reached the shore in safety. The fate of the fourth boat was heart-rending to relate. The passengers and some of the crew clung to it until it was very much overcrowded. Before it could be successfully launched it was swamped, and nearly 25 lives were lost, not a watery grave. No good effort could be made to save them, the night was so suited to the work of death, and the elements seem to have combined to add to the terror on the occasion. One excited passenger was seen to leap from the burning vessel into one of the boats as it was pushed off, and in his instance he fell into the lake and was drowned. One of the drowned refused to leave his post in the boat, and died as it were, at the stake, meeting the flames and with heroic boldness incurring a horrible death.

Yesterday morning the steamer "Waterworks," on her arrival at Cape Vincent from Kingston, started for Grenadier Island, and found the propeller a perfect wreck, having been hurled to water's edge. The passengers were conveyed to the Cape along with several of the dead bodies which had been picked up. The sorrow of the passengers was great, and many mourned for their dearest friends. Mr. Robert Chisholm, whose name is included among the saved list, wife, a son—three daughters, and Mr. Ira Kessom—the loss of a wife, a daughter and a son. Such a calamity has never before befallen this district.

The flames of the burning vessel were seen very plainly in Kingston and for miles around. Several of the passengers from this vicinity returned to Kingston in the Waterworks yesterday morning.

The following is a list of the names of the passengers and crew who were saved and lost so far as they could be learned. One of the ironies is known to have been burned.

PASSENGERS SAVED.—George Aylesworth, Lawrence, Mass.; Ezra Cook, Westfield, Mass.; Alvin Joiner, Forestville, Mich.; James R. Dean, Lawrence, Mass.; C. W. Joiner, Royalville, Vermont; Robert Chisholm, Chateaugay, C. E.; James Cosensel, Centreville, Ir. Creel, Potsdam; D. C. Forrest, Carthage; Mr. Carroll, Kingston, C. W.; Saml. Beattie, Kingston, C. CREW SAVED.—Capt. S. Townsend; Jas. Shaver, 2d mate; Charles Shaver, wheelman; O. D. Shaver, do.; Fisher, deck hand; Chas. Dodge, do.; Edward Warren, cabin boy; Edward Masterson, porter; Joseph Strong, fireman; — Johnston, do.; three deck hands, names unknown; Mary McElhenny, cabin maid; Jane Maynard, N. Wright, 2d do.; A. Weldon, deck hand.

PASSENGERS LOST.—Mrs. Chisholm, Chateaugay, C. E.; Eliza Chisholm, do.; Mary Chisholm, do.; Catherine Chisholm, do.; Thos. Chisholm, do.; Mrs. Nancy Peck, do.; N. Y. Miss C. Reed; Thomas Creed.

CREW LOST.—John Powers, 1st mate; A. F. Morrison, 1st engineer; A. W. Morrison, 2d do.; Edward McCormick, watchman; David Horan, deck hand.

THEATRICAL.—Wilson's Theatrical Company performed "Uncle Tom's Cabin" at Nelson's Hall, last evening, to quite a large audience considering the inclemency of the weather. Mr. Wilson, the manager, had some good bits of acting. Mr. Harrison gave evidence of ability as a low comedian, and Mr. Coon's "Deacon Perry" would have done honor to a company of pure comedians. Mr. Wilson's "The Principal Feature of the entertainment, however, was the 'Key of La Petite Alberta.' This interesting little play, although scarcely old enough to talk plainly, performs the exquisite character of 'Eve' with an expression and pathos that is certainly wonderful in one so young. Her death scene, although simple and unadorned, contrasted very favorably, as a piece of acting, with that of another character in the play. Although the propriety of placing so young a person in the role of a heroine is questionable, she certainly has extraordinary talent. Of the actresses connected with the company but little can be said, as the piece afforded scarcely any opportunity for them to display their ability, but they were very good. 'Rever' was excellent, leading us to expect much of her in other roles. To-night 'Our American Cousin' and the 'Two Bachelors' will be performed. They are both in numerous vohs and the former introduces the famous character of 'Lord Dundreagh.'

A new suspension bridge is to be built this summer over the Niagara just below the Falls.

The editor of the Foxtown Mailer must be a very happy man about this time. In his last number he says: "Posterity—We stop the press with pleasure to announce the decease of our contemporary, Mr. Snages, editor of the Foxtown Mailer. He has now gone to another and better world. Persons who have taken the Mailer will find the Mailer a good paper."

A funny story is going the rounds in Paris: "A lady in the first society was recently obliged to dismiss her nurse on account of an excess of firemen and private agents, too often repeated. After closing as a successor to this unusual, a great pretty girl, the lady, explaining why the first was sent away, enjoined upon the second not to do likewise. She submitted that she should not, 'for I can give you a great deal,' said the lady, 'but soldiers after the kitchen I won't endure.' After a week or eight days, the lady came one morning into the kitchen, opened a cupboard, and discovered a young girl of great character. 'Oh, didn't I tell you I was frightened, I give you my word I never saw that soldier before in my life—he must have been one of the old ones left over by the other girls!'"

To the Electors of the Eastern Division of the County of Hastings.

ENTLEMEN—Having been repeatedly requested by a large number of the electors in your Division to allow myself to become a candidate for the Commons of Canada at the ensuing election, I have consented to comply with their wishes.

To most of you I am personally known, but will take the first opportunity of seeing as many of the electors as my time will permit.

My acts during the time I have been in Parliament are before you, and from them you will be enabled to judge of the future.

In the formation of the Union of the Provinces, I believed that it would have been more in accordance with the principles of our Government to have first submitted the proposition to the people for their approval, and so voted, but the motion for such reference having been defeated, I voted for the Union Act, and shall steadily use my exertions to carry it into effect, in order that this great Dominion may take that position in the world to which its extent and population entitle it.

Under the new order of things about to be established, new responsibilities will arise which I shall endeavor to discharge with the least expenditure consistent with efficiency, keeping steadily in view the great future before us, and shall only rest satisfied when the Dominion of Canada extends from the Atlantic to the Pacific.

In the adjustment of the tariff I shall endeavor to remove the burthens as much as possible from the producer, especially the Agricultural portion, fattening myself that my long business intercourse with them will enable me to arrive at such a conclusion as will be conducive to their interests.

I have the honor to be

BRIDGEWATER, May 21, 1867.
We are likely soon to have gold at our very doors. A mine was just opened before winter set in, close by the scythe factory in this village, and has lain dormant till yester-terday, when a party of men went there and having washed some of the earth obtained a very good show of gold; the mine is about eight feet deep, and it is the opinion

gold will be found here in large quantities. There has been a further show of gold in the Barro mine, and one of the people from

Mr. George Clark, living in Kaladar, has sold his lot of 50 acres to a Company in Belleville for a certain sum down, which is to be made up to $50,000 when gold is found; and from all I have heard of this lot, I think there will soon be a show after the search has commenced. Mr. Clark who confidence that the Company will find this a good investment. Mr. Felix Collins, living in the sixth concession, has offered £100 for eight acres of his land; but would not accept it. The Mechanics Mining Company is still at work, but I have not up to this time heard with what results, no one having come from the direction their miners are working in; but they appear to have every confidence that the spot they have chosen for their operations, will turn out a good one.

The Joint Stock Company have commenced a mine on a farm belonging to Mr. Burns; they had previously pitched upon this lot as showing very good indications of copper, and have not been disappointed—a very fine sample of grey copper having been exhibited, which was very much admired. This mine is but a short distance from the village. I paid a visit to it yesterday to see how it was going on, and found they had got down about seven feet below the surface; the whole of the quartz which has been taken out shows large quantities of copper quite equal to the sample shown in the village, and I think it will in all probability prove a valuable mine; indeed it is the general opinion of all who have seen it that such will be the case. One man who there expressed his belief that there were several other good sites for copper on the same lot, and having conferred with another visitor, a spade was procured and a hole cut in the earth about a foot and a half in depth, when signs of copper became very evident.

Perhaps a further search would have been made, but the field of operation lying in a hollow the water came in to the extent, and they desisted, but expressed themselves satisfied that it was a good site.

Besides the "indications" already spoken of as existing in this township there are very good signs of both silver and iron, and I am told other metals, but gold being the rare I suppose people will look for that first, but if a man chances upon a mine producing silver, copper, iron, or any of the baser metals he may find that in a pecuniary sense it would be as good a gold mine as he could wish for, and certainly this section of country seems to be teeming with mineral wealth.

Having had a few fine days we are beginning to hope that settled weather has come at last. Miners are getting ready for work in earnest, they will empty the mines of the water collected in them, and once more try their fortune, when I hope the weather will prove propitious, and then we shall see what this part of the country can produce, not only in quality—but in quantity also.

Farmers are advancing with their spring work and when they have completed it most of them will turn miners. I heard that several sheep have been worried in the fifth concession, which have been put down to the depredations of a wild cat. There has been more business stirring since the fine weather set in, and things wear a more cheerful aspect altogether.

Railway Accident.

A melancholy accident occurred at Whitby on the Grand Trunk Railway yesterday morning, by which four emigrants, Germans, lost their lives, and several others injured. It seems that while an emigrant train was standing at the station, a special freight came up, and through some fault of the signal man, the semaphore was not regulated, and the engine of the freight ran into the emigrant train. The hind car was the conductor's Van, and this was forced into the next car, which was filled with men, women and children. Five persons, three women, a man and a child were killed, two others were dangerously injured, and several others slightly hurt. The injured were taken to Toronto where medical attendance was procured. A searching investigation will be made immediately, when it will be known who was at fault.

Burnham, J. Simpson, James Skene, D. L. Macpherson, G. Crawford, Donald McDonald, Oliver Blake, Billa Flint, W. McCrea, G. W. Allen.

A Big Thing.

The Cobourg correspondent of the Coburn Express says: "A Big Thing" in a vulgar phrase will most assuredly be realized by the Marmona Company from their iron speculation. The deposits of iron are proving rich beyond expectation, and the price of ore is going up rapidly in the American market—in fact, has been for some time past. The able and energetic manager, John Dumble, Esq., is doing his utmost to compass heavy shipments of the ore this season. He confidently expects to bring forward 50,000 tons before the close of navigation—30,000 tons are to be shipped to Charlotte and 20,000 to Cleveland. Messrs. Charles Elliott and Adam Holmes have contracted for the unloading and shipment of the ore. What a pity it is that Hastings has no share in this "Big Thing." It might have been otherwise, had the representatives of this County performed their duty to their constituents.

The Queen's Birthday.

Yesterday—the forty-eighth anniversary of the birth-day of our most Gracious Majesty Queen Victoria—was celebrated throughout the length and breadth of the Dominion of Canada as a public holiday. In no place was it celebrated with greater manifestations of loyalty and genuine enthusiasm than in Belleville. At an early hour, long before chattering announced the dawn of day, reports of fire arms of all kinds and sizes were heard in every direction, and there was little chance of the sluggish indulging himself in a little more sleep and a little more slumber, so loud and continuous were the noises to be heard on every side. At sunrise a royal salute was fired, and from that time until the close of day, there was incessant firing of small arms, fire crackers, &c., much to the annoyance of nervous men and timid women; but to the intense gratification of the youngsters, who by common consent have special license on this National holiday of ours.

The weather, which has formed the chief topic of discussion for some weeks past, agreeably disappointed every one who, from the appearance of the heavens the night previous expected a repetition of those cold and cheerless rains for which the season has thus far been noted. Old Sol came out from behind the clouds early in the morning, and exposed his face to the admiring multitude the whole live-long day, giving hope of the fulfillment of the promise that "seed time and harvest" would still be ours. It was emphatically "Queen's weather."

At an early hour, in accordance with time-honored custom, the Moira Band called at the residences of our principal citizens and furnished them with a number of favorite airs. Between nine and ten o'clock the Firemen turned out in considerable force and marched in procession through the principal streets, accompanied by the Band. Long before this time the sidewalks were thronged with men, women and children, dressed in holiday attire, and the large number of well-filled carriages coming in at the leading roads, showed that our country friends were gathering in large numbers to see the sights and participate in the day's enjoyments. From public buildings and private dwellings, and from the ship piers in the port, there was a magnificent display of bunting, such a display as has not been seen here for years.

About ten o'clock, the Band of the 15th Battalion went up to the Railway Station and escorted the two Companies of the Grand Trunk Rifles to the Armory of the Battalion. As they marched down Front Street, their fine and soldierly appearance showed that they were well drilled. At the Armory they were joined by the 15th Battalion, under the command of Lt.-Col. A. A. Campbell, and headed by the Band they marched up Front Street to Hotel Street, and from thence to the Race Course ground, where, after forming in line, a feu de joie was fired. The force went through a number of evolutions, amongst which was marching past in quick time, wheeling into line and retiring. The two Grand Trunk Companies were then thrown out as skirmishers, supported by Companies 1 and 2 of the 15th, fired, changed position and retired. They were then relieved by Nos. 1 and 2 of the 15th, who went through the same movements, all of which were done in proper order. The force then advanced in echelon of Companies from the left at wheeling distance, halted and formed Company Squares, keeping up continuous firing, which was done with remarkable precision. After the movement they re-formed Companies, went through several evolutions, and subsequently formed hollow square to resist cavalry, and kept up a continuous firing; after which they formed line and fired in succession of Companies.

Various other military evolutions were gone through with all of which, in the estimation of experienced officers, they performed in a highly creditable and soldierly manner. About three o'clock the force marched back to the Armory, where they were dismissed, having been out three hours. No. 7 of the Grand Trunk Rifles, of the 3d Battalion, had three officers and forty-two men; No. 8 of the same Battalion, had three officers and fifty-one men. Altogether there were about two hundred and fifty men in the ranks, and their appearance was highly creditable. When the Battalion was dismissed, the Adjutant informed them that pursuant to orders they were required to turn out for drill in future at four o'clock on Tuesday and Friday afternoons.

About eleven o'clock the Belleville Rifle Company, under the command of Captain Hamby, assembled at their Armory, and shortly before twelve, headed by the Moira Band, proceeded to the Court House hill, where they fired a feu de joie, and went through various evolutions in a manner which showed they had preserved their drill and efficiency to a remarkable degree. After marching through the principal streets they proceeded to the Armory where they were dismissed.

In the afternoon several games of base ball, cricket and quoits came off on Taylor's Hill, and a large crowd went to the Railway Station to witness the games which were advertised to come off there. We are informed that the officials at the Station had no knowledge that such games were to come off until they saw the advertisement, and no preparations had been made for them. However, after the review was over a few games were got up, which afforded considerable amusement to those present. Amongst other games there was a wheelbarrow race, for which there were four entries; it was won by Mr. M. Sheehan. For the foot-race there were ten entries; this was won by Mr. George Roche, latter. A race backward, blindfold, one of the races of the engine burnt, severely scalding the breast, W. Carby. Each of his legs were badly burned. He was brought to this town and placed under medical care, and will probably be about in a month.

ACCIDENT.—On Thursday, shortly after the milk train left Shannonville, one of the flues of the engine burnt, severely scalding the breast, W. Carby. Each of his legs were badly burned. He was brought to this town and placed under medical care, and will probably be about in a month.

THE DISUNIONISTS.—Hon. Joseph Howe has made a speech since his return to Nova Scotia, in which he has declared his readiness for Washington. It is thoroughly republican in its tone and would just suit an admirer of the Monroe doctrine. And this is the man whom Mr. Brown wishes the reformers of Upper Canada to unite with to form an opposition party.

FENIANS IN DETROIT.—At a Fenian meeting held in Detroit last week, one of the speakers said that in less than a month an army of 50,000 would cross the border, to be followed by 50,000 more, and another 50,000 if necessary, to drive the British out of Canada. The speakers on the occasion generally concluded with an appeal for the Fenians to make up a battalion for Michigan, were called for, but no account is given of the number called.

BROADWAY THEATRE.—This Company plays the "Honey-moon" and a "Kiss in the Dark" to night, and we hope as it is their last night in Belleville they will have a crowded house. Yesterday they had two performances—giving "Uncle Tom's Cabin" in the afternoon, and the "Factory Girl" and the "Ghost" in the evening. Both performances were very well attended, and the selling gave general satisfaction. The Company contains several really good players, and their general deportment has been such as to win the esteem and good will of all those with whom they have come in contact.

Mr. McDougall and his Position.

The Montreal Daily News—a journal of the Grit stripe—holds a much higher opinion than does its brother Grit of the Perth Courier of Mr. McDougall's career and position. The News speaks as follows:—

Mr. McDougall is one of those statesmen who has slowly and steadily risen to high position in this colony, under adverse conditions; and it has been his good fortune, since his elevation to high office, to have been met and acquired confidence by an even tempered and courteous manner, a frank and honest expression of his convictions, and a conscientious respect for his obligations. It must be admitted that he has acted the part of an honorable antagonist and a trusted ally during the vicissitudes of political life; and since his tenure of office he has evinced an administrative ability and industry which his earlier life promised, but even his friends, highly as they estimated his talents, were not prepared for the proofs of statesman-like capacity he has displayed during the last eventful year. Mr. McDougall is one of those nature marked by profound convictions; he has erected a moral standard of his own, by which he life was fired, and 21 rounds were fired from an arm, which made the woods echo with its thunder. After the drill the Company was complimented on its efficiency by Lieut. Col. Brown. At 2 o'clock the Company at down to a splendid dinner at the "Stirling House;" after which the usual loyal toasts were drunk, and a sword presented by Capt. Boulter, on behalf of the Company, to Adjutant Fidler, as a mark of approval of the manner in which he has drilled the Company. A pair of spurs were also presented by Lieut. Colonel Brown.

The afternoon was spent in various ways, the principal amusements being sack and wheelbarrow races, climbing a greasy pole, and a chase for a crossed pig. Towards evening, Orange Lodge No. 110 marched through the village, and displayed a very pretty new flag; and a procession was formed by the Firemen, who turned out in uniform, and displayed the readiness with which they could handle their engine. In the evening there was to be a torch-light procession. On the whole the day was very pleasantly spent.

A Case of Abortion.

On Monday last the 20th inst., a poor woman named Mary Lavelle, the wife of a French labourer in the grove, was taken suddenly unwell, and her husband was induced by some person to employ a man calling himself "Doctor Waldron," a vendor of Quack Medicines from London, C. W. He called to see the woman and having learned that she was two months advanced in pregnancy, administered for four dollars such a course of medicines as almost deprived the woman of life, and which resulted in a shocking case of abortion on Wednesday. Her husband alarmed at the condition of his poor wife and the mother of five small children, called upon Doctor Hope, who immediately with Doctors Lister and Holden inquired into the matter, and sent for the Police Magistrate; he at once received an information from the woman, and the fellow was promptly arrested by Capt. James. He was remanded until to-day, and we shall publish a summary of the evidence in our next issue. The woman's declaration was received on Thursday, by the Police Magistrate in the presence of Dr. Hope, as it was not supposed she could live many hours. She is still in a most precarious condition.

ACCIDENT.—On Thursday, shortly after the milk train left Shannonville, one of the flues of the engine burnt, severely scalding the breast, W. Carby. Each of his legs were badly burned. He was brought to this town and placed under medical care, and will probably be about in a month.

"God of my Mother."
An infidel of talent and outward reason-ability, under the power of truth, bowed upon his knees, and cried in agony, "God of my mother, have mercy on me!" His mother was a devoted Christian woman.

"God of my mother!" How much is revealed in that single word! How conclusively it proves that this man had a mother whose faithfulness left an impression on his soul too deep to be effaced even by time and sin.

"Save the son of this, he said," cried King David unto God. It was a comfort to know that he was the son of a godly mother, and that he had been born in a land influenced by the power of God in infancy, had prayed for his mother, and in childhood, and had sought to train him up in the ways of piety. Although his godly mother had long been dead, the royal Psalmist pleads with God to remember him in mercy
as the child of prayer and covenant agreements. And no doubt every pious man and woman, born of a godly and faithful mother, has experienced something of David's feelings and been in some degree a partaker of his comfort.

What an inestimable blessing is a pious and faithful mother to any one. However unseen may be the results of her labors,
those labors never "are without blessed results in the case of every one of her children.
Those who may become children of God in after life will always rejoice to acknowledge her silent and powerful influence as one of God's earliest agencies in accomplishing the result. Even those who may never become the disciples of Jesus will be restrained by that influence from entering upon courses of vice and transgression, in which they might otherwise have become bold, bad men."

The writer of this article lost his mother
at the early age of twelve years, but, never can he forget her calm, kind, and loving staid at her side while he committed to memory the "Shorter Catechism" of an appointed hymn! Never can he forget kneeling by her side in the evening before he was dismissed to bed, while he repeated
about his simple prayer, "O Father, who art in Heaven!" Long years had passed after her form was laid in the grave
before he was brought to embrace Christ as his Saviour. Through all those years he was nearly without thought of concern about his soul's salvation. He was surrounded by worldly companions, and was tempted to enter various paths of sinful enjoyment. But when once the spirit of God began to work upon his soul, the memory of his mother came up fresh and strong upon him, and he felt that his happy influence although unrecognized at the time,
had hindered him from many an evil thing.

My young readers, love your mothers and honor them. Your mother is to you one of the most inestimable boons God has ever given you. Perhaps, next to the blessed Saviour, she is one of the best gifts God could give you. —Sunday School. Tin

Those who think the most, who do the most brain work, require most sleep. The brain saved from sleep is always destructive to the mind, body and estate. Give yourself, your children, your servants—give all that are under you, the fullest amount of sleep they will take, by compelling them to go to bed at some regular hour, and to arise
in the morning the moment they wake,
and within a fortnight nature, with almost
the regularity of the rising sun, will unlose
the bonds of sleep the moment enough repose has been secured for the want of the system. When this habit has become established persons will go to sleep almost instantly upon going to bed, and that ser-vicious restlessness, which is so annoying to some people, will be entirely avoided.

FIRE AND LIFE.
LIFE DEPARTMENT.

THE principles on which this Company is
founded contain all the elements required
to develop the benefits of Life Assurance, and
afford every facility to intending assureds.
One of the advantages secured by those who
insure their lives with this Company is that
the outside expenditure for Management is
absolutely restricted by the Deed of Settlement to Ten per Cent of the Net Life
Income. This most important restriction
shows that the interests of participating policy
holders are closely watched and carefully attended to by the Company. Attention is especially called to this point, as the proportion
of premiums expended for Management
Must Largely Influence Profits
and Bonuses.

The next division of profits takes place in 1888, and all those who wish to participate in
the profits should insure at once.

QUEEN'S BIRTH-DAY.

LONDON, May 26.—Notwithstanding the declaration to the contrary, it is thought the Government will not carry into execution the death sentences of the Fenians.

PARIS, May 26.—The press of this city complains that Prussia is strengthening the fortifications of Brest.

COPENHAGEN, May 26.—The Danish Government it is said, has informed the foreign powers that the Prussian Government continues to disregard the obligation of the treaty of 1865, in regard to Schleswig.

QUEENSTOWN, May 26.—The steamer Aurora from New York, on the 18th, arrived this morning for Liverpool.

NEW YORK, May 27.—The Herald publishes the following:—

St. Petersburg, May 25.—The Government of the United States has offered to sell to the Car Alexander the famous iron clad monitor the Mantoulan, a frigate, and two new iron clad war cruisers. The proposition has been favorably received by the Emperor and his Cabinet, and is likely to be accepted.

St. Petersburg, May 25th.—Since the adjournment of the London Peace Conference, and the adjustment of the Franco-German question, relative to Luxemburg, the long vexed Eastern question has assumed much more importance. Diplomacy is now engaged in the consideration of a plan for its peaceful settlement, and efforts will be shortly made in this city, Paris, Berlin, Vienna and London, for its final solution.

DUBLIN, May 26th.—If the Fenian leaders, Col. Burke and Col. McNeill, who pleaded guilty and thus staved their treason are hanged pursuant to law, the authorities expect sudden and sharp reprisals on the part of the members of the Fenian organization here.

The Government is anxiously, yet actively preparing to guard the dwelling of the Right Hon. Judge, together with three of his ten associates on the bench at the trial, as well as the houses inhabited by the Right Hon. Attorney General and the other counsel who prosecuted for the crown are even now guarded day and night by a force of armed policemen, who appear in citizen's dress. Col. Burke was sentenced to be hanged on the 29th of May.

Doran's death-sentence has been commuted. Should Burke be executed it is most likely that Col. McNeill will share the same fate, as he pleaded guilty, and now lies condemned to undergo the highest penalty of the law.

LONDON, May 26.—Another imposing and very influential demonstration has been made in favor of Parliamentary Reform, in the shape of a crowded meeting in St. James Hall to-day. John Stuart Mill, M. P., with the Liberal members of the House of Commons, spoke in support of the extension of very comprehensive measures of enfranchisement for the people.

The Queen's Birthday was duly celebrated.—The city was illuminated; there were municipal dinners, and public entertainments with other manifestations of respect on all sides.

FENIAN MUNITIONS OF WAR.

NEW YORK, May 26.—The Herald says, the Messrs. Starr, of this city, have turned out 1,500 rifles per week for the last four months, and in time they are for the Fenians. They shipped a hundred nine and eleven inch guns, which it is reported are for the Fenians.

A second prize for double birds, Robert Newell, of Buffalo, and F. Drake, of Toledo, were tied, Newell having won prizes for several years in succession.—Taylor won in a match of 25 single birds, for $100 dollars a side, J. Ward, of Toronto, being his adversary. Score, Taylor 22, Ward 21. H. Foster, of Chicago, and Mr. Ward, shot 45 single birds for $100 a side, won by Ward.—Score, 38 to 31.

QUERATO FALLEN—MAXIMILLIAN AND HIS GENERALS TO BE SHOT.

Barley quiet, at 90c to 92c for No. 1 in stock. Provisions quiet; Mess Pork $22 50; Lard 12½; Beef, Cattle firm at $25 to $3 70 common to smooth shipping.

FROM OTTAWA.

OTTAWA, May 27.

Hon. Messrs. McDougall and Chapais arrived in town Saturday. Hon. Mr. Cartier arrived on Saturday. They were enthusiastically received. Addresses were presented by the City Council, and St. Jean Baptiste Society, to which Mr. Cartier replied both in French and English.

FROM MONTREAL.

MONTREAL, May 27.

Hon. Mr. McGee left for Ottawa to-day. James L. Motherson died yesterday. He was a prominent man and much respected. There will be no Provincial Exhibition in Lower Canada this year, Quebec having failed to raise the $4000 required for building purposes.

The Fenians.

It will be seen by our telegraphic reports that the New York Herald continues to send forth sensational reports in reference to the war preparations of the Fenians, which are discredited at head quarters. The Montreal Miner, good authority, says "United States intelligence from authorized sources is of a very different character than there is a question whatever of an invasion, the news never being more plausible."

Deodorizers.

Now that warm weather is setting in, the use of disinfectants becomes necessary in the cleaning of yards, vaults, &c. A great many articles are recommended for use, but probably the following list will be found as cheap and valuable as any:

"Two pounds of sulphate of iron (copperas) dissolved in a pailful of water, and poured into a vault, will prevent the formation of sulphuretted hydrogen gas for some time, and will be generally sufficient to remove all nuisance."

"A layer of charcoal dust will prevent the escape of all offensive odor from any decomposed substance."

"One pound of nitrate of lead dissolved in a pailful of water, is excellent for slinks, sink drains and vaults."

"If other things fail, chloride of lime is always effectual and may be freely used in vaults and upon other collections of filth, but is considered unhealthy to be used in dwellings, when its odors are inhaled during sleep."

HOOS. Thirty-three cars of hoos passed here to-day for the United States market.

ACCIDENT.—On Saturday last breakman McDonald, Jr., while coupling cars on No. 15 train, had his hand badly smashed. He was sent home by an express train the same evening.

JEFFERSON DAVIS.—It is said this gentleman avoids as much as possible all intercourse with the people—that he arrived in Montreal alone and in confite, and that Mrs. Davis followed the next day. In this course Mr. Davis showed good sense.

BEHIND.—The Globe that boasted so often and so loudly, about being the first paper in Canada that published the Confederation Act, (which proved to be incorrect) is daily behind in publishing the names of the New Senators, it being three days behind its contemporaries.

THE GRAND TRUNK ACCIDENT.—An inquest was held in Whitby on Saturday last, on bodies of the emigrants killed by the running of one train into another, last week; but no verdict was given. The Coroner having adjourned the Court until Monday, in order to procure further evidence.

INQUEST.—On the 22nd inst., an inquest was held before Robert Francis, Esq., Coroner, at Trenton, on the body of Henry Holder, a Polish coal miner, who was killed by the running of the 23d April last by drowning in the River Trent, about one mile south of Frankford, and that it appeared in evidence that "at the time he was under the influence of liquor."

ADVERTISING.—A Western contemporary very truly says: "Advertising is to the trade what ploughing is to the farmer. There would be some natural production if the seed of the earth was never broken, and it would hold about the same relation to the production of a well-cultivated garden, that the profits of unadvertised trade do to the advertiser."

MR. MCGEE.—It is rumored in opposition papers that Mr. McGee is not to be in the first Cabinet of the Dominion of Canada, and that his friends "are indignant." Some of the present cabinet must be left out, and should Mr. McGee prove to be one of them, we shall not be surprised to see the Hon. George Brown not only sympathizing with him, but extending the hand and declaring him to be an ill-used man.

Quite Gold Division.

The Leader's special from Ottawa, of the 25th, says:—"Reports from the Quite gold mining division are received up to the 23rd inst. A great number of those who have recently visited the mines have been so discouraged by the continued rains that they have gone away again without doing anything. One of the best specimens of gold that has yet been found, was discovered on lot 16, concession 11, of Madoc. It was a specimen of gold in quartz. All the other gold that has been found, with the exception of that in the Richardson mine, has been alluvial. It is thought that the real sources of the region will not be satisfactorily ascertained before the end of the summer. Very favorable indications, it is said, have been observed in the neighborhood of Lake Masseneau. The mounted police work very well, and the people of the district are highly pleased to have them. Their barracks and stables will be completed in a week or so. Land sales in the division this quarter have averaged to between $70,000 and $80,000. It is considered doubtful whether the license system will pay its expenses. The reason of this is the alluvial gold has hardly as yet been found in paying quantities, and until it is the number of licenses taken out will of course be very small. The more difficult process of mining in quartz will not be carried on with companies owing to its great expense, and it is not to be expected that more than a few companies will be formed for the purpose. To make the license system profitable there should be at least 10,000 miners at work, and only a small fraction of this number is at work at present."

To the Editor of the Daily Intelligencer.
SIR,—In your notice of the Queen's Birthday celebration, your reporter was wrongly informed in regard to the games at the station, and by that means an undeserved reproach was cast upon the committee who advertised the programme. In the first place, Mr. Davis and myself went to the station and asked Mr. Starling and Mr. Doctor what arrangements they were making for the 24th, offering to contribute two-thirds of the money on behalf of the Committee. If the Railway men would join with us and have the games the Race Course ground. They were to give us an answer the next day in time to publish the programme. Mr. Davy accompanied me next morning to the station, and Mr. Doctor informed us that it had been decided to have the games near the station, which means Mr. Phipps could allow all the men to enjoy themselves, as they would be within call in case they were wanted. On that understanding we announced the games at the station. We did not understand, nor did we advertise that the games would be open to the public. On behalf of the Committee.

J. R. MASON, No. 1 Co.

One thousand and hundred and sixty emigrants arrived at the Port of Quebec during the week ending 19th inst.

A Missalippen reporter gives the following poetic description of a thunder-storm: "At midnight the scene changed. The proud waves of the angry and storm-tossed Mississippi upraised their crest, and beat in low courtesy to the retiring clouds, which, as they accented, cast off their torn drapery, and robed themselves in the transcendent garments of their azure home, graciously bade the no longer surging waves adieu."

TWEED, May 24, 1867.

SIR,—Since I wrote you last the weather has been so unpropitious that a gloom over the mind. We have had on the march of melancholy. The farmers have been obliged to suspend agricultural pursuits. The Wheat and the Rye that were sown last fall, that looked so promising early in the spring, began to show signs of want of vitality. Mining operations had almost come to a standstill, and there was a marked want of cheerfulness in every person's face. But now the weather has become fine; clouds no longer shut off the general rays of the sun; drooping spirits begin to wear the appearance of joy; gold prospecting has recovered a new impetus. Farmers are cultivating the fields and putting in the seed, vegetation seems to awake from its slumber, and we all feel joyful.

During my silence I have been looking about me and have become more familiar with Tweed and the surrounding country. The village of Tweed is situated on the north side of Stoco Lake on the River Moira; contains about 500 inhabitants; a fine flouring mill, saw mill, four or five creditable merchant shops, several smith shops, several new buildings are going up, and property is everywhere apparent. With its fine water-power, and being located in the midst of a good farming country, I think it must in time rank among our first villages. Its general quietness has lately been disturbed by the sudden disappearance of one of its supposed thriving merchants, who from some cause, best known to himself has seen fit to step over to the other side of the line, leaving his effects to be hunted up by the sheriff, and loaded they have been exceedingly vigilant, as all the old and ends are now in their possession. On the top of this surprise came another still more exciting. A husband and wife had returned from a visiting tour in the States, and were about to return to their old home, by the beating of old tin pans, the ringing of cow-bells, the blowing of horns and the occasional firing of a gun. The mark of approbation was not well received by the town, and he sallied forth with stick in hand, and saw some of the boys prowling on the streets. The village Coroner suddenly made his appearance and went in for "Lynch Law." But to his great dismay he received a clout on the nose that made the claret fly and his heels turn up. He recovered, however, after a few rough and tumble movements, and took to his heels whence he came, crying "keep him off!" This singular freak of the Coroner turned the whole affair into a laugh. Quiet was restored and no one seriously hurt.

Mining has commenced vigorously again. Mr. John Lusk brought a piece of quartz from Lot 21, in the 10th concession, about five miles east of Tweed. A small show of gold has been found in it, and a fair show of gold was found in it. Delong & Co., are sinking a shaft on Lot 22, in the 12th concession, about five miles east of Tweed. A small show of gold has been found and the company are sanguine that they will ultimately find gold in paying quantities. Seymour & Co. are digging on Lot No. 18 in the 13th concession with good prospects. At Downing's Rapids about four miles west of Tweed, Oliver & Co., are still at work. The shaft was visited a few days ago by Mr. Clark an experienced miner, and who is the assayer in this village, and who I understand is skilled in the Domicat art. He brought with him some of the quartz, and on examination found gold. The Vardy mine is now being opened by Powell & Co., and I am informed that the indications are such as will warrant perseverance. They are down now about four feet, and the weather having now become fine the work will be prosecuted with new vigor.

The wet weather has prevented Wright, Sherburne & Co., from opening up their mine, about two miles East of Tweed. The public will watch the operations of this company with interest, as it is believed that this is the spot where gold is abundantly concealed. We hope to give you a favorable account in a few days.

The people begin to talk some about the ensuing elections—who are to be the candidates for the East Riding. I heard four individuals engaged in a heated interchange of thoughts on the subject, and I gathered the following hints: That Hon. L. Wallbridge was to be a candidate in the East Riding; that his election was very doubtful, in the West Riding, and he would not face it; that he has "got sick" of the George Brown party and is about to return to the old Conservative ranks; that he will be favorable in the East Riding, if being Conservative, he liked the Grits, but that he had to give up his extreme Conservative views to get into Parliament; that the Grits have lost confidence in him in this County, from the fact, that he has allowed the palaces to use in the hands of the Conservatives. He said the Conservatives could—can he do it again? That the Hon. Robert Read is the only man he need fear in the East Riding, and whose election would be sure if he died.

TWEED,

To the Editor of the Daily Intelligencer.

DEAR SIR,—In yesterday's Chronicle, when publishing an account of the sale of the Market, the Editor states that he was informed by Mr. Phipps "that the Police on all occasions refused to assist him in the discharge of his duties," adding "that they were told by Mr. Leveson that the fees having been sold (the Police) had nothing to do with carrying out the Market by Law."

As it is fashionable at present to make the Police the standard subject of discourse, it is not a matter of surprise to find a disappointed applicant for the Market finding another mud missile amidst the heap of filth thrown by regular assistants at and around the Police Court, but in the present instance the statement is as malicious as unfounded. Mr. Leveson never gave such instructions, he never spoke to me on the subject, and I am assured by those under my charge that he never gave them any instruction in the matter, nor intimated to them any course to pursue.

Now, look to facts. Since the period that Mr. Phipps leased the market, 51 cases of breaches of the Market by Law were adjudicated upon by the Police Magistrate, against 48 cases of the last year the Town had the management under its own officers. Mr. Phipps made unreasonable demands upon the Police, and seemed to fancy they had no other duty to perform than collecting his fees.—Repeatedly he required a constable to watch at Mr. Read's Distillery, another at the Upper Bridge, and if there were any others he wanted their services also. I resisted, and will continue to do so, any such withdrawal of two men from the legitimate duties. The fact of 51 cases having been brought forward, points out that they have not neglected this portion of their duty; and if, in addition, it is recollected that for the last three years the fines and fees collected by them and paid to the credit of the Town, covers the salaries of both the men, it will be found that in efficiency, zeal and judgment they can compare with the Police of larger and more populous Towns, and that they perform more real and substantial duty than persons "with a laughing devil in their snuff" give them credit for.

I remain yours &c,
GEORGE JAMES, Chief of Police.

"Doctor" Walcott was conveyed from goal this day on remand, but from the statement of Mrs. Lavell's Medical Attendant that she was still in a dangerous state, he was again remanded to the 1st of June.

THRAPAS.
An old widow named McAlle, who lost a property some twenty years since, came venient to the town, on finding that a new tenant had entered in possession recently, mustered up the strength of sixty years and demolished the fence, with two Irish notions of Tenant right, gave the occupier to replace them. She was fined $2. 60, with a caution from the magistrate.

DRUNK.
Thomas Walsh and James Birch were found drunk and disorderly in the streets. They were arrested and accommodated with a night's confinement at the County Hotel, and next morning the former case was dismissed and the latter fined $2 and costs.

VAGRANCY.
Hugh Dougherty and Mrs. Catherine O'Heare, were arrested for vagrancy. The charge against the former was dismissed, and that against the latter resulted in her confinement for twenty days. She has been only two days out of the county goal and is a confirmed vagrant. She ought to be sent back at the expense of the public, to Cornwall, the place where she came from.

Arrival of the Germania.
FENIANS RELEASED, SIX TURNED INFORMERS.

NEW YORK, May 26.—The steamer Germania from Southampton of the 15th, has arrived.

Fourteen Fenians confined at Ennis have been released on their own recognizance, and it is understood the Crown will forgo further prosecution except in a few cases. Thirteen of the 17 Fenian prisoners confined in Limerick jail volunteered to inform. Six have been selected for that purpose.

Editorial Summary.

—A rubber comb manufactory has been established in Brockville, on an extensive scale.
—Crust man, my tears have no effect on you at all. "Well, drop them, dear."

—A branch of the Bank of Commerce was opened in St. Catherine on the 25th inst.

Mr. McGee said in a speech the other day, that he hoped Messrs. Brown and Howe would be sent to the House of Commons, in order that they would have to take the oath of allegiance.

The St. Catharines Constitutional says the fall crops in the Niagara District are looking healthy and vigorous, and give promise of an abundant crop.

Cumming has published a book called "The Last Word," and fixes the date for its occurrence between the autumnal equinox of 1867 and the same period of 1868.

The Lynchburg, Va., News says the tobacco warehouses of that city are completely filled with late article. Trade is brisk, and prices are well maintained.

"The flat lands in Lower Canada cannot be working order till the end of May, and there will be little sowing till June. This lateness can surely help proving very injurious to the harvest. Crops which can be sown late, such as oats and buckwheat, will probably be largely cultivated."

FIRE and LIFE.
LIFE DEPARTMENT.

THE principles on which this Company is
founded contain all the elements required
to develop the benefits of Life Assurance, and
afford every facility to intending assured.
One of the advantages secured by those who
insure their lives with this Company is that
the outside expenditure for Management is absolutely restricted by the Policy of Solicitousness to Ten per Cent of the Net Life
Income. This most important restriction
shows that the interests of participating policy-
holders are closely watched and carefully attended to by the Company. Attention is especially called to this point, as the proportion
of premiums expended for Management
Must Largely Influence Profits
and Bonuses.

The next division of profits takes place in 1868, and all those who wish to participate in
the profits should insure at once.

Conscientious.

A revolutionary soldier was running for Congress, and his opponent was a young man who had never been to the war, and it was the custom of old Revolutionary to talk of the war in the highest terms. Said he—

"Fellow-citizens, I have fought and bled for my country. I helped to whip the British and the Indians. I have slept on the field of battle with no other covering than the canopy of heaven. I have walked over the frozen ground till every footstep
was marked with blood—

Just about this time one of the sovereigns, who had become greatly interested in the tale of his sufferings, wiped the tears from his eyes with the extremity of his coat, and interrupted him with—

"Did you say you had foot the British and Indians?"
"Yes, sir."
"Did you say they had sleep on the ground
while you were in your country, without any cover?"
"Yes, SIR, I did."

MONTREAL, May 28.

Lord Monck will not leave England until the latter part of June.

The settlers in several of the Eastern townships are threatened this year with severe destitution. They have lost their cattle through disease, they are destitute of the quantity of seed required to sow their farms, and food is not to be bought.

The Merchants Bank declared a dividend of four per cent for the current half year.

The Hon. Lewis Wallbridge.

Our Madoc and Tweed correspondents have both called attention to rumors, that the Hon. Lewis Wallbridge intends offering for the House of Commons in the Conservative interests. We have it on the best authority that he has openly and unreservedly declared that if he again offered himself to the electors, it would be in opposition to the George Brown party, that he never has any sympathy with them, and now that Brown was raising the Radical and Tory cry, he should go back to his old party; but that he did not intend to run again for either house. The latter declaration has been repeated to many of his former supporters, and others, and we make the above announcement on the authority of those to whom he made this statement of his intentions. We are not astonished at the declaration of going back to his old party, but we shall be very much astonished if that party accepts him.

When it was to his interests he threw himself into the arms of Mr. Brown, without any remorse of conscience, and now that the Reform party are about setting him aside, having lost confidence in him, he is taking of returning to his first love, i.e., if he ever had any. It is not our intention to canvass the claims he has upon the Conservative party, particularly as he has announced his determination to retire from public life, it would be unkindly to do so. Should he, however, change his mind and attempt that little game, we may have a word to say. In the meantime request in pace.

"With Pleasure."

The Toronto Globe has heard "with pleasure" that Mr. O'Hanly of Ottawa, is to be a candidate for an Ottawa Constituency. When it is considered that this Mr. O'Hanly was the leader of a small faction of Irishmen who insisted on parading the "sun burst," and "Emmett banners," objectionable flags on St. Patrick's day, at Ottawa, it is rather significant that he should be selected by the Globe as a candidate for Parliament. Mr. O'Hanly was not merely content with floating these Fenian flags in the face of a loyal community, and defying the Mayor and civil authorities, but succeeded in passing a number of resolutions at a meeting of the St. Patrick's Literary Society, in Ottawa, condemning the Toronto Freeman, and expelling it from the reading room, on account of its mainly condemnatory of the course pursued by this same O'Hanly, and a few of his dupes in Ottawa, on St. Patrick's day. In order that the reader may the better understand the true character of this new ally of George Brown and the Globe, we copy a description of his doings before and on St. Patrick's day.—This O'Hanly had induced a number of his admirers, and brother Fenians to join the St. Patrick's Society, in order, no doubt, to enable him to control it. Bearing this in mind, the reader will understand the content.

The election of officers for the association is fixed to take place on the 1st Tuesday in March each year, and it appears that under a by-law of the association, those new members were not entitled to vote. Upon their being informed of this on the night of election a very enthusiastic young man made a charge at the meeting, and in the course of his speech, he declared that he had a hundred men at his command, and that he would clear the room if he did not have his own way. In the first instance, the meeting was renewed. When disorder was at its height, Father Malloy entered, and asked to be heard. He stated that his Lordship the Bishop had been informed of the disturbance existing in the society, and he (Father Malloy) was authorized to say that if the trouble could not be got over agreeably the procession would be discontinued by His Lordship. The Rev. Father then withdrew. "Blood and thunder" again took the platform, and declared that the association had complied with the desire to kill the Fenians, but he thanked God he had made friends at a distance, and from them he had borrowed two banners and were it necessary for him to carry both himself he would do so on St. Patrick's day.

After this the election of officers was put off for three months, so that the procession could take place in the meantime, and "It was agreed in committee that nothing should be done to give offence to any party, (and that one of those foreign flags, which the committee had never seen—should not be carried on St. Patrick's day. This flag which proved to be a St. Andrew's cross, the Rev. Father, was brought out, when the Chief Marshal finding that he could not carry out the instructions of the committee turned his horse round, and left the procession. A few of the members of the society pulled down the flag and started the procession; but the friends of disorder made all haste to repair the wreck, and hoisted their favorite, came up to the procession in Eglinton street, but were not allowed to enter, so they fell behind and followed in its wake over the whole route."

For these acts of treason, and display of Fenianism, the Buffaloonian Volunteer, a newspaper published in the interest of that society, pronounced O'Hanly the real sinner, and the Toronto Globe says Mr. O'Hanly was heard with pleasure, is likely to be the nominee of an Ottawa constituency. Shade of the good old Protestant horse that was ridden to death by the Hon.

George, what think our readers of that? Yet there is a cause for surprise. The Globe is working to secure a Fenian Catholic vote in the next election, and the Fenian Organizer will go to the aid of this O'Hanly by the hand that had just flouted in the face of the loyal people of Ottawa two Fenian flags, such as were carried by the ruffian who attacked and murdered our volunteers at Ridgeway, and welcomes him to the party, expressing "pleasure" at the prospect of his being "the nominee of an Ottawa constituency."

It is not often that we agree with the sentiments expressed by the Toronto Freeman, but to its credit be it said, it repudiated the actions of O'Hanly and those who supported him in the following language:

"It is to be regretted that the same class of Yankee Irishmen who have succeeded in browbeating and bringing to a head so much mischief in Ireland, should receive any countenance in Canada. If there be any associates or sympathizers of such character in the seat of Government, a close eye should be kept on them. No man's loyalty or entrance to Canada ought to be tolerated in the country."

There is not a loyal man in the Province that will not echo these sentiments, but for this O'Hanly succeeded in expelling the Freeman from the Reading-Room, though for a short time only, and the Globe could find no cause of condemnation for such acts of ruffianism and displays of loyalty, but "hears with pleasure" that he is "to be nominated for an Ottawa constituency." We hear of and see a good many strange things, but the idea of George Brown and the Globe rejecting over the probability of a Fenian being nominated for a constituency in Canada is more than their most bitter enemies could have looked for.

Body of a Child Found.—The body of a new-born infant was found to-day in the River, lodged in the rocks. An inquest is being held.

ARCTIC BODA WATER.—Apocryphal Hall has been furnished with Turf's Patent Fountain, which produces pure Soda Water; avoiding the necessity of filling the water with air. This, with syrups made from fruit, and not essences, make a delicious summer drink.

MR. MADOC'S LETTER.—We have the authority of Mr. Nunn, Station Agent, for saying that the statement made by our Reporter, that the "Ottawa" at the Station had no knowledge, "that any game was to be played at the Station, until they saw the advertisement, is strictly correct. Whatever our understanding may be, we know that no "under the table" report was made to the Committee; in fact that they were never told of when the article was written. The truth was told and nothing more.

THE LATCH.—The Schooner "Union Jack," leaving the water by Messrs. Rathbarn & Son, for Messrs. Plippen, Thompson and Graham, of Belleville, was launched yesterday at Mill Point. The day was fine, and about 3000 spectators were present. At 2 o'clock all being ready the signal was given to cut away the water. She was duly decorated with flags, and her deck crowded with visitors, all anxious to see her float. The "Union Jack" has 120 feet keel, 38ft. 2in. beam, and 11 feet hold, and has a carrying capacity of 17,000 bushels of grain. She is destined to trade on the Upper Lakes.

Mineralogy.

NUMBER IV.

For the Daily Intelligencer.

The constant recurrence of wet weather has told with a very prejudicial effect upon the labors of the miner, equally as upon those of the husbandman, for while the ground which the one cultivates is so sodden with moisture as to be unfit to bear his horses, the other too often finds his "hole" full of water, and more like a well than a gold mine. Let us hope, however, that the adverse of the season may produce its natural and accustomed effect, and that we may from this time forward enjoy more favorable weather. The great Richardson suit, to which so much interest attaches, and on which such a heavy stake depends, will likely be determined early in June; and we may also expect Her Majesty's Proclamation, calling into existence a united British America, to issue shortly; so that we may expect to see agricultural and horticultural industry, mineral development, and the New Dominion all going ahead smoothly and prosperously together. As the promotion of the second in my object, I shall proceed to take up my subject from the end of letter No. 2.

Gold, as I have already stated, always occurs in its metallic or perfect form when visible to the naked eye and can be easily recognized by those who have learned to know its appearance. The forms it most commonly takes are scales or grains, which when small are designated "gold dust," smaller or larger solid masses, which are called "nuggets," and a very fine, almost impalpable powder, which some persons call "flour gold." The form of the scales and nuggets are mostly irregular, but occasionally beautifully crystallized specimens are found, which being comparatively scarce, are highly valued, and are more frequently preserved as specimens. Besides these forms gold also occurs in an invisible manner, that is mixed with other metals in the shape of an alloy, as silver, lead, copper, &c. In this latter case the separation of the gold from the extraneous matter is difficult, and attended with a considerable degree of loss, but the intrinsic properties of gold, its universal acceptance as the medium of trade and the standard of value, and the high price it commands in the markets of the world, render it possible to extract it from any other metal. It is estimated that in one year about 100,000 lbs. of gold are produced in the world, worth $224. Another mode in which gold is frequently found is in combination with iron and sulphur, in the substance called pyrites and mispickel (arsenic, or iron pyrites).

When gold occurs in this connection, it is very likely to escape the notice and the grasp of the miner, as the sulphur, or the iron, or the arsenic, or the combined effect of the three minerals is such as to prevent the mercury from absorbing gold, or as it is called, from amalgamating with it. In this case a digger, who is not aware of the circumstance, may go on from day to day laboriously working out what would make him rich, and in his ignorance throwing away, and becoming poorer instead of richer quantities, especially that form of it which is called mispickel, he will have recourse to a different method of investigation. There are two methods of assay for these substances. The one is to reduce the pyrites to a fine powder, and digest it in boiling nitric acid until the iron and sulphur or arsenic are dissolved, and the gold left behind as a dark powder; which being washed, dried, and rubbed between the fingers, shows the colour and splendour of gold.

The other way is to mix the powdered mineral with about a fourth of its own weight of common salt, and roast it at a red heat, in an iron ladle, for 15 to 20 minutes according to quantity, then cool it in water; add the mercury, and agitate until all the gold is taken up, which will generally be in an assay of say one ounce of ore, washed down probably to two ounces or less, then three to four minutes. The mercury is then strained through a piece of chamois leather or buck-skin by enclosing it in the folds of the material, and twisting it tightly over a clean saucer or basin, when any gold or silver that may have been amalgamated will have been left in the residue, which may be recovered to the same. This may be driven off by heating the amalgam in a small sheet iron spoon, in the flame of a lamp or over a charcoal fire, when the precious metal will declare its presence by its colour.

This will serve to show the "digger" whether the substance he is working contains any gold. Should he have reason to believe that it does, he will perhaps find it to his advantage to have a more careful and exact method of assay.

JAMES T. REEL.

Rain—Miners and Farmers Discouraged.—Locations being bought—Lot No. 17, in 5th Concession—Lot No. 19, in 5th—Picks, etc.—34th—Miners' Display—A dinner—Meeting of Police—Meeting of Miners—Deaths of Parker Potter—A Fair Day—Deaths in the Hands of Police.

MADOC, May 25, 1897.

Yesterday appeared like the precursor of fair weather; but to-day again we have the rain in torrents. This kind of weather is discouraging to both miners and farmers. Farmers cannot sow their grain, and miners cannot mine. Such a thing as prospecting the streams and low lands is out of the question. A number of sales of lots and mining claims are reported this week, and improved prospects in mines being worked seem to be general. Mr. John Moore has sold several claims of an acre each, on lot No. 17, in the 5th concession, nearly where he is mining. Gold is reported as having been found on the west end of lot No. 19, in the 5th concession, and also on the lot north, on which A. H. Meyers of Trenton is mining.

Picks, drills, hammers and blasting powder, are in good demand, and parties actually at work appear in good spirits. The strangers arriving, are of that class that want to buy mineral lands, and are investing in various parts of the township. As soon as favourable weather sets in, we shall learn more of this country as a mining country.

The 34th here passed off rather quietly, though the residents of the village were disturbed from their slumbers at an early hour, by repeated reports from the village cannon, which was also brought into requisition several times during the day. The shops were all closed, and flags floating from the stores and hotels, and the village flag from the Police Barrack. The flags were not all remarkable for their strict adherence to the national flag in appearance; but still they had the red, white and blue, which, I suppose, is all that can be reasonably asked in a place where it is difficult to get anything.

Capt. Rowe, paraded his company during the day, putting them through certain military evolutions. At twelve o'clock they fired a feu de joie, and after were treated to a dinner at Capt. Rowe's house. The volunteers were much pleased, and expressed their gratification by three cheers for Capt. Rowe, three for Mrs. Rowe, and three for the Queen.—Capt. Rowe deserves credit for the efforts he is making to bring his company into an efficient state of drill. Only those who have been placed in similar positions can understand the difficulties that he has to contend with. Sergeant Major Foxton had the mounted police—not on duty—during the day on their parade ground.

In the evening quite a display of fireworks was made on the hill near the Presbyterian church, consisting of a bonfire, rockets, Roman-candles, fireballs, &c. During the day a meeting of miners and those interested in mining took place at the Town Hall, and resulted in getting up a requisition to the Reeve to call a public meeting, which he has done, appointing Saturday the first of June, at the Town Hall at the hour of one o'clock P. M.

MONDAY, May 27th.

To-day a number of the people of the village have gone to attend the funeral of Mr. Parker Potter, of Millbridge, who died rather suddenly yesterday morning. Mr. Potter was one of the first settlers on the western shore of the lake, and kept the first public house for the accommodation of travellers, and consequently has been long known to the settlers and favorably known to all who have had occasion to seek the hospitality of his house.

Another fair day has intervened and hopes are brightening for fair weather, but as I write the clouds are gathering and look very like more rain.

A couple of chaps got into the hands of the police on Saturday for disturbing the peace of the village, and trying to make impressions on each others faces. The Reeve disposed of their cases by dismissing one with a caution, and fining the other.

Editorial Summary.

—Plumbago has been found in Hull, lot 14 9th concession.

—A Branch of the Bank of Commerce was opened in London on the 27th inst.

—It is said that gold has been found in the township of Montague, in the county of Lanark.

—The steamer Grenville, which sunk in the Lachine Rapids a short time since has been raised by the aid of steam pumps.

—On the 27th inst. a boy 10 years old, son of Mr. Bowman, was blown off the Bridge in Galt into the river and drowned.

—Large quantities of oak timber has been shipped over the Santa Branch Railway to Hamilton, where it is rafted for market.

—The story about the Empress Engrave and a certain interesting event of the future, proves untrue.

—When Mr. Peabody was in Washington he made a gift of $16,000 to the city of Georgetown where he used to live, for a circulating library.

—The Montreal News says: Authentic information teaches us to reject as utterly unworthy of credit the rumors of renewed trouble on our frontier.

—The Belgian Government has given orders to the gunmakers of Liege for the transformation of 140,000 arms into needle-guns of the Albin type.

—The Montreal tailors are patriotic. They make up Confederation or New Dominion suits warranted home-manufacture even to the buttons.

—Governor Hincks formerly Inspector General of Canada, was appointed at a public dinner his seat West India Committee, on the occasion of his return to British Guiana.

—The Governor General is expected by the return trip of the "Nestorian," when he will take up his residence at Spencer Wood, Quebec, until the Rideau Hall, Ottawa, is completed.

—The Infant Princess, third child of the Prince and Princess of Wales, was christened on the 26th, at Marlborough House, and received for a name Victoria Alexandra Drogan.

—A young man in Montreal became insane, and fancied the Queen was his aunt, and under the hallucination that his mother was the case of his aunt, he was confined to a lunatic asylum, where he is now recovering, and was fortunately prevented from doing so.

—An English tavern-keeper recently illustrated punctually in this wise. Speaking of one of his customers, he said: "He is the most regular man in Harwick; he comes and gets drunk every Saturday, and has done the same for ten years, except when his mother died, and that time he came on Sunday." It is a grand thing to be punctual.

Who Helped the Fenians?

The Dublin News letter has a paragraph from which it appears that foreign influence, other than American, has been operating in Ireland in aid of the Fenians;

It is said the Government intend immediately to publish the "original statement" of Godfrey Massey, which has been so often referred to during the trial, and in order to secure the production of which an attempt was made to obtain the attendance of Lord Naas. The character of this document is still the subject of speculations, and the hints of its nature already supplied are succeeded by a paragraph in the Evening Mail, in which it is stated that "revelations of a very unusual character have been the result of the publication of Massey's information."

It would show, it is added, that the "eruption of Fenianism in Ireland was but an inconsiderable ripple of the movement; that foreign agents of the same rank, acquainted with the English language, were actively concerned in its organization; and that persons in England, having no Irish connection, and of a different class from Irish sympathizers with Fenianism, now lie under the shadow of very grave suspicions." It is further suggested by this journal that some independent member of Parliament should move for the production of all the information regarding Fenianism and Fenians the Government may have in their possession.

Satisfactory progress has continued to be made by the Royal Highness the Princess of Wales during the week which has just passed. The size of the affected knee is gradually diminishing, and there is little or no pain in the joint. Tedious as is the course of her Royal Highness's illness, from the prolonged confinement which has been necessitated, and is still likely to be required, the present condition of the joint serves to indicate a point of no small importance. It is well known to all surgeons dealing much with cases of this description that their tendency to delicate constitutions is towards the formation of matter. No such tendency has shown itself at any time in the present case. The constitution of Her Royal Highness may be said, therefore, to have proved itself to be a very good one. Had there been any marked delicacy it would be impossible for the affection of the joint to have taken the course which it has all along pursued.—The Lancet.

CARR vs. RICHARDSON.

The Richardson Gold Mine Case—
Value of Lands in Madoc—
Their Richness and Quality—Affidavits in Support—What the Mine Cost, and what it is Worth.

(From the Daily Telegraph.)
The case of Carr vs. Richardson came up on Wednesday before Vice-Chancellor Mowat, on the motion of the defendants,
who at present are in occupation and possession of the lot, in the Township of Madoc, now known as the "Richardson Gold Mine," for an order to dissolve the charge, and set aside the order of the Chancellor, made on the 4th of April, 1887, in the case of "Carr vs. Richardson," restraining the defendants from working the mine pending litigation.

For the plaintiffs, S. H. Harding, Q. C., Mr. Hopkins and Mr. Dickson, for the defendants, A. Crooks, Q. C., E. Blake, Q. C., and Mr. Holden.

The richness and auriferous qualities of the Richardson mine have been long spoken of, and many persons have been under the impression that the favourable reports which have been circulated of the gold-bearing nature of the soil in that vicinity were untrue and merely put forth for purpose of speculation by those in possession of the land, but the facts which came before the court on Wednesday clearly demonstrate that we have a gold region in our midst; which, if it does not surpass, promises to equal the gold fields of Australia or California.

THE RICHARDSON CASE.
The alleged valuable mine is situated on the east half of lot No. 18, in the 5th concession of the township of Madoc, and on the 3rd of November last year was purchased by the plaintiffs in the present suit for the sum of twenty thousand dollars, to be paid by them before the tenth of the following month. On the day the plaintiffs, Carr, proceeded to the residence of Richardson,
and requested of him to show him his title
to the land, before he paid the money.
agreed upon, and gave the sum of three hundred dollars to bind the agreement, which Richardson accepted; but afterwards
repented, observing, "We will be down tomorrow and get the title right, and I will hold you to it." On the next morning to that effect, which led the plaintiffs to believe that the defendant, Richardson, did not intend to hold them, the plaintiffs, bound to the strict terms of the written agreement.
Between the plaintiffs and the defendants, December regulations were pending between the solicitors of the respective parties
regarding the title of the land in question, which it was alleged, was defective, and on that day, notwithstanding the above agreement, the defendant, Richardson, related into written terms with certain parties named Nichols, Anstee, and St. Charles, who are made co-defendants in the suit to sell to them the same property for the sum of $30,000. The plaintiffs thereupon instituted a suit in Chancery for the specific performance of the contract, and shortly after the bill had been filed, Nichols, Richardson and Anstee, disposed of their interest in the land to Benjamin Lombard and S. W.
Hardin for the sum of $30,000. The defendants bill which came before the Chancellor in Kingston, showed that the defendant intended forthwith to open and work
a valuable gold mine upon the land, the title of which was in dispute, and they prayed an injunction to restrain them from doing so. The defendants in their answer set forth that the plaintiffs had broken their engagement by not fulfilling the original contract, and on the latter being argued His Lordship granted the prayer of the petition. The present application was made with the object of setting aside that order.

The following affidavit of George Louis Toussaint filed on the original motion, which was read on the present application speaks
of the value of the mine.

WORKING OF THE MINE.
That on the 29th of April, he went to the Richardson Gold Mine and found it enclosed by a fence of cordwood, enclosing about as acre and a half of ground. That over the pit or shaft of the mine he built a wooden house, about eighteen or twenty feet square, containing no windows, but two apertures, one on the east and the other on the west side, with openings to close them up. That he was informed that he did not but the defendants were allowed to go inside and on approaching the building, he heard sounds proceeding from underneath
the house, like the sound of mining tools in the hard ground, or amongst the quartz rock, and other sounds like the drilling of hard rocks with an iron drill.

He also heard the voices of men, as if proceeding from the mine, one of whom said,
"Does that vein run much to the east?"
To which a reply was given in the affirmative.
That he then went away, and returned in about an hour, and shortly after heard a small fall out, as if from the top of the shaft.
"Now blow up, blow away!" said in a few records heard an explosion, as if from a blast of the rock. He retired, and on returning in five minutes afterwards, heard a man say that "if the mine was as rich as the stuff taken out of it, it was one of the richest mines in the world."

The following passages are contained in the different affidavits read regarding the value of the mine.

and its richness. Mr. James Glass states: "That it has been reported to me as having come from a party directly interested with and connected with the defendants. Lombard and Hardin, in the matter of the said mine; that the blasting, mining, and excavations which have been made and done in the said mine during the last few days have disclosed the fact, that the said mine is of unprecedented richness, and that a vein of almost solid gold was laid bare there."

Richard Taylor states, "That I heard the defendant Lombard say quite openly that they had taken out of the said mine, and had on the floor of the building, containing the said mine about five tons of ore, and if they had a little more time, they could have taken away enough to pay for the said mine."

The following important passage is contained in the affidavit of Leachin McQuarrie:

"That I am a practical miner and have washed in gold mines in California for several years, and that I am fully competent to judge of the value of a mine of gold. That I did on Wednesday, the first of May inst., gain access to the interior, and did examine the Richardson gold mine, in company with two of the defendants, Hardin, Anster, and found that the ore in said mine was of unrivalled richness, and am of the impression that I could, with two men, extract from said mine at least $2,000 worth of gold per day for the next seven days. That I washed out of about three parts of decomposed quartz and sand, which I took out of a pit nearly filled with the same material, $12 to $14 dollars' worth of gold, besides three pieces of quartz largely impregnated with gold."

The defendants put in a number of affidavits admitting the richness of the mine, but asserting that the statements contained in the affidavits of the plaintiffs witnesses were overdrawn, amongst others the affidavit sworn to by the defendant, Benjamin Lombard, shows what actually was.

To John Richardson and D. N. Powell. It contains the following passage:

"That on the 19th day of January of the present year the defendant, Richardson, entered into a written agreement to dispose of the lands and appurtenances therein mentioned, to the deponent, and defendant Hardin (being the ground known as the Richardson mine) for the sum of $20,000, and that on the same day, $1,000, Canada money, was paid to him, and $1,000 to Powell, on account, and that subsequently, on the 27th day of March, a further sum of $14,000 was paid, and a mortgage executed to said John Richardson upon the said property for $25,000, and on the following day a sum of $1,000 was paid to D. N. Powell, and $3,000 secured to him by mortgage, making in all the sum of $25,000 fully paid up and secured as agreed upon."

A number of affidavits in relation to the title of the land in question, and other matters, having been read and commented on, defendant's counsel proposed to make no opposition to both injunctions remaining in force until the hearing of the cause, and that of "Powell vs. Carr," which will be tried at Cobourg next month, provided the plaintiff paid into Court to the credit of the cause $25,000, the purchase money owing to Richardson and Powell.

The court ordered that the plaintiff pay into court $25,000 in seven days, and in case of default, that both injunctions should be dissolved, and the defendant relieved from them.

Heretofore we have had nothing but the idle talk of correspondence, and those who have visited Madoc, and reported on its richness, but the extracts we have given above, some of them made by old miners under oath, clearly show that there is an "El Dorado" in Upper Canada which will not be so difficult to discover as that one written by Dr. Walter Raleigh, in Guiana, which has never yet been found.

The Accident at Whitby.

VERDICT OF THE CORONER'S JURY.

Whitby, May 29.

The following verdict was handed in by the jury who held the inquest on the bodies of the German emigrants who were killed by the recent railway accident on Friday, at one o'clock this morning:

"Your jury find on examination of the evidence that William Paraset, Augusta Paraset, Carolina Lundenberg, Frederica Kleiner, Anna Louisa Schlegel came to their deaths by the collision of a special freight train with the merchants' express which was conveying emigrants, at Whitby station on the Grand Trunk railroad, on the morning of the 24th May, 1897; said collision resulting from the neglect of the switchman, Wallace Fraser, to raise the semaphore signal, and from inattention to the rules of the company by their employees generally."

Wallace Fraser has been committed to stand his trial for manslaughter at the next assizes.

Troubles are once more brewing in Spain. In Barcelona, hostile manifestations have been made, and in other parts of the unhappy country armed bands are in the field. The watchword of the insurgents is "Prima and the Republic for ever! Down with the Queen! Down with Narvaez!"

The English Reform Bill.

HABEAS CORPUS IN IRELAND.

FENIAN SENTENCES COMMUTED.

BY ATLANTIC CABLE.

New York, May 29.—The Herald's London special of the 28th says: "In the House of Commons at an early hour, and after an exciting debate on the question of borough franchise right, as embodied in Mr. Disraeli's Reform Bill, was secured on the basis of household suffrage. The compound household plan at first proposed, is practically abolished. As the measure now stands, the tenant in a borough town is to pay his tax rate personally instead of through the landlord, and so secure the right of voting. In the matter of the franchise qualification in rural districts, it has been voted that the settled occupants of lands or tenements, worth the sum of £15 sterling, shall enjoy the right of voting when duly registered. The government at first proposed that the value of the lands or tenements should be £15 sterling. The Liberals asked it fixed at £10 sterling. A compromise took place in the House, when £12 sterling was agreed on. After which the House adjourned."

In the House of Lords to-night, the Bill continuing the suspension of the writ of Habeas Corpus in Ireland was passed.

The Herald's London special says: "Influential deputations with petitions numerous signed, asking mercy to the Fenian convicts are arriving in this city."

Cardinal Paul Cullen had called on the Lord Lieutenant of Ireland, advising that the lives of all the condemned should be spared.

Prayers were offered in all the Catholic Churches of Dublin on Sunday, invoking the Almighty to incline the Royal mind to clemency. A public meeting was called at Birmingham for the same purpose.

A deputation of members of the House of Commons, with the Mayor of Dublin at its head, was to call upon the Queen and present a petition for mercy. The movement has been so influential as to turn the determination of the Derby Government.

In the case of Burke there were fears of Fenian revenge.

Lord Derby tendered a Cabinet recommendation to the Queen, who, after anxious consideration, assented to it. The announcement of the result was received in the Houses of Parliament with loud cheering. Lord Derby stated that the only reason for giving way was the overwhelming testimony of the Irish people that it would be politic not to let the law take its course.

The Herald's Dublin special says: The news of Burke's commutation was received with joy by all classes.

The Herald's Cork special says: "Advised from the constabulary district reports that a Fenian force attacked the military stationed in Mitchelstown in this county on Thursday, and beat them with bludgeons and stones. No casualties or relation of facts are given."

The Fenian O'Brien has been sentenced to be hanged on June 26th, though the sentenced will be commuted.

The reported disturbances in Mitchelstown are not noticed in London.

—On Friday, 24th inst., at Montreal, a locomotive and tender were precipitated into the Canal. The bridge was open at the time to let a steamer pass, and the engine-driver, owing to a defect in the locomotive, was unable to stop it. The fireman and driver escaped by jumping.

Capt. Dinkie and five men were drowned, May 25th, by the capsizing of a boat in Vietnam creek Bay, Oregon.

WRECK.

Rescuee's services to May 2nd, have been re-estimated.

The whaling bark Lucifer Wood, of New Bedford, was wrecked on French Frigate Shoals, the 14th of April. Capt. Richmond and a portion of the crew, arrived at Honolulu, after a passage of 450 miles in an open whale boat.

The United States Lachawana immediately sailed for the scene of the wreck, to rescue the remainder of the crew, 17 men who were left behind.

IRON CLAD SOLD.

New York, May 29.—The World's special says: It is understood that the Japanese Commissioners purchased the ex-rebel ironclad Shenandoah for $400,000.

It is reported that George Greely has written to Mr. C. Breckinridge, inviting him to return to this country and take part in reconstruction.

Fenians.

The sensational articles of the New York Herald in reference to Fenian invasions are attracting notice in this country as well as in the United States. The New York Tribune of Monday says: "Messrs. John O'Mahony, McDermott & Co. deny the 'statements' recently made through some 'of the city journals, that they have contracted to furnish arms to the Fenian organization.' The Buffalo Courier, too, says that the reports about Fenian activity in that city are without foundation."

There was a rumor in Toronto on Tuesday to the effect that the British consul at Buffalo had communicated with the military authorities here, informing them that the Fenians were quietly arriving in Buffalo with a view of making an immediate attack upon the Niagara frontier. The report, says the Leader, gained some credence amongst a few excitable volunteers, but sober-minded citizens consider it all "boosh." And yet the same paper tells us in the same article, that "The Queen's Own Battalion" received orders last evening to hold itself in readiness to leave for the front, if required, by Thursday. We understand that a similar order was issued to the "Royals." This does not look like "boosh," yet we can hardly bring ourselves to believe that the Fenians are foolhardy enough to make another attempt. If they do, it is gratifying to know that the country is prepared to receive them warmly.

Editorial Correspondence.

MONTREAL, May 28, 1897.

Montreal is hopeful to-day under the genial influence of the warm sun which shines with new brilliancy, and has not a rival in the heavens, not even a cloud as big as a man's head to dim its brightness or lessen its warmth. It was despondent two days ago as it has been for weeks past at the prospect. Men shook their heads and looked grave as they watched at the beclouded sky, and contemplated the pouring rain, and contemplated the condition of the half-ploughed fields which were converted into ponds and lakes. It was natural. Montreal, more than any other place in Canada, is dependent for its prosperity upon the products of the soil. It is the great wholesale mart of the country, and its trade increases and diminishes as the harvest turns out good or bad. Last year, the crops in Canada East were seriously affected by the heavy rains, and this spring the continued rains have nearly put a stop to agricultural operations, so that it is not wonderful that Old Sol's bright, unclouded face should make Montreal hopeful, and jubilant. How long this gratifying state of things will continue, of course no one can tell. In ordinary seasons no mightier season we cannot tell what an hour may bring forth. But sufficient for the day is the evil thereof.

Just now, the harbor of Montreal presents a lively appearance. I counted this morning, leaving out barges and wood vessels, over sixty vessels, some loading, others being supplied of their valuable cargoes. Others just coming to anchor, and others hoisting sail for other lands. The wharves and streets adjacent are filled with barrels, hogsheads, boxes, bales, crates, &c., and laborers and carters have a busy time of it.

By the way, the Glebeian, which struck in the Lachine Rapids the other day, and grounded on shore, was towed into the canal basin to-day. She was repaired yesterday through the exertions of Capt. Davidson, Salvage Agent, who obtained two powerful pumps from Kingston. Having controlled the water, a sail was drawn underneath the steamer, which closed the hole so that they were enabled to float her. The damage sustained is not very great, and it is expected she will be ready to sail in a few days.

The Fenian excitement is attracting considerable attention here. In well-informed circles it is not believed they will make an attempt at invasion at present, though it is believed they may before the summer passes away. The Miner says that but few Fenians are at St. Albans or Malone, but at the latter place there are gathered three thousand muskets and accoutrements. At St. Albans and vicinity, there is said to be a large quantity of war material secreted.

Some excitement was created here a few days ago by a letter from "a Loyalist" to the Police authorities, detailing the movements of a person who was supposed to be a Fenian spy. Detectives were put on the track, and the "spy" turned out to be a half-witted fellow, who has been taken care of.

The funeral of the late James L. Matheson, Esq., took place this afternoon, and was attended by an immense concourse of people. Mr. Matheson was a man universally respected—a conservative of the old stripe, a leading Orangeman, a leader in all charitable undertakings, a warm friend, and one who will be very much missed in the community.

Jeff. Davis is in the city stopping at the house of a private friend, and keeps as much as possible from the public gaze. He was out last evening, visited Nelson's monument, the Camp de Mars, and other points of interest, but was recognized by but very few parties.

Observed on the road from Belleville that the Fall crops are looking splendidly, and what Spring grain was in presented a beautiful appearance.

The track of the Grand Trunk is in very good condition, considering the heavy rains. A considerable portion has been relaid with the new T rail, and when the road is supplied altogether with this rail it will be one of the best tracks in America. The traffic on the road is gradually increasing, and we hear less of the grumblers and croakers who used to make the Grand Trunk the object of their special abuse.

Queen's Birthday at Melrose.

No. 5 Volunteer Infantry Company, 49th Battalion, under the command of Captain Pashley, mustered at the Town Hall, Melrose, Tyndinaga, to the number of about forty, on the 24th inst. Parade was formed at eleven a. m., and after some preliminaries, fired a feu de joie at noon, and went through some company drill, marched into the Town Hall and piled arms, where a lunch had been provided. After lunch, parade again was formed, and volley firing, firing from company square, &c., was practiced. They then marched to a large field on Mr. Johnson's farm, where they had some skirmishing, and various other evolutions, occasionally to the alarm of the fair sex, of whom quite a number were on the ground. After firing the last of their "blank," the proceedings of the day were closed by giving three cheers for the Queen, and cheers for the Officers, and all quietly dispersed, well pleased with the day's enjoyment. A not uninteresting feature of the day's proceedings, was a procession of boys carrying a flag, who accompanied the Volunteers to Mr. Johnson's field. Throughout the day the utmost order prevailed, and before sundown all had dispersed for home, and "every man sober." It may be added that the various evolutions which the company performed, were done in a very creditable manner. The feu de joie was well done, and the volley firing capital, reflecting much credit upon the men and officers of the company.

FATAL ACCIDENT.—We regret to learn that on Tuesday, May 25th, about 8 o'clock in the morning, a most melancholy accident occurred in the Village of Lonsdale, Tyndinaga, by which Francis Whittemore, Esq., an old and respected farmer, who lives but a short distance from the Village, lost his life. Deceased left his home on Tuesday morning for the purpose of proceeding to Lime Lake to collect some money which was due to him, and as he was in custom, put a revolver into his breast pocket, having been threatened by several parties, with violence. On arriving at Lonsdale he stopped at a blacksmith's shop to get a horse shod, and in jumping out of the carriage the pistol went off, whistling over striking on the tire of the wheel, or the concussion occasioned by the jumping, as the fact cannot be ascertained. The ball entered the left side, and death ensued five hours after. Mr. Whittemore has been a resident in Tyndinaga for over 20 years, and was generally respected as an honest and upright man. He was 66 years of age.

Enclosed in Mr. Holt's fourth letter on Mineralogy, the following sentence occurs: "He remembered that one part in two thousand is equal to 1/2000. It should read ten thousand."

MR. AL.—The Mole Band will play on the Court House Hill on Thursday evening, May 30th, weather permitting. The band will play once or twice every week during the summer.

THE RICHMOND MINE.—We give to-day a fuller report of the application in Chancery to set aside the injunction. Though it is some days since argument, there are some facts in this report which may be of interest to our readers.

COURT OF REVISION.—A special meeting of the Court of Revision was held last evening, for mainly determining matters of appeal from the present year's assessment. Present—Alex Robertson, Chairman, presiding. C. O. Levesconte and R. H. Agnes. A large number of applicants were present, and their evidence was received and recorded, and the statements of the Assessors were also taken, when the Court adjourned until this evening at half-past seven o'clock for the purpose of closing the Rolls for the year. Parties who have not presented last evening, may therefore still have an opportunity of being heard.

CHILD MURDER.—From the investigation which took place before John P. McDonald, Esq., Coroner, yesterday afternoon, it is evident that the infant, which was found floating in the river against the boom at the lower end of the Town, had been murdered. The body was found to be that of a male child, and must have been in the water for some time, for it was partly decomposed. A cord was tied tight round the neck with a knot under the chin, and then brought up in front of the face and tied again on the top of the head, so tightly that it had left marks. This must have been done to strangle the child before throwing it into the water, or to prevent its crying and making a noise, when thrown in. That it is an infant child of infanticide there can be no doubt, and we hope every exertion will be made by the authorities to discover the perpetrator of so foul a deed. The jury returned the following verdict:—"That from appearances the child was born alive, and we the said Jurors, are of opinion from the fact of a cord having been tied round the child's neck, that the said child was strangled, and then thrown into the river, but by whom its not known to the Jury."

BRIDGEWATER, May 25th.

Yesterday being the anniversary of the birth of Her Most Gracious Majesty, it was observed here with all honors, of course we do not attempt to place our demonstrations beside the pageant which was announced to take place in your town, lands, we had none, tin or brass, cannons were none, but the loyalty of the villagers found substitutes in the shape of a half-hundred weight anvil, the cavities of which were charged with powder and exploded to the intense delight of all, juveniles in particular, till the half-hundred weight burst from an overcharge, administered by an extra enthusiastic individual, which caused remarks to be passed which were anything but complimentary to his gunnery. During the day jumping in sacks, climbing poles, propelling wheelbarrows blind-folded, and other sports were carried on with great gusto. The entertainment lasted till a late hour; the day was very fine, in fact a regular "Queen's day," with just a sufficient quantity of dark clouds passing occasionally overhead to enhance the value of the weather. This morning began equally bright and promising, so summer-like was it, that many were deluded into wearing straw hats, and miners were collecting their tools to commence work. But alas! the truth of the old adage, "that man proposes, God disposes," was fully verified by an unexpected rain fall, which has not ceased yet. Of course while such weather continues, it is impossible to work either at mining or farming; but nothing daunted, the miners, if they cannot continue the work they have commenced, go about seeking fresh sites and have been from all accounts, very successful so far as shows of gold are concerned.

Some very beautiful specimens of copper have been exhibited here from Mr. Garcelinas Iria and Mr. Lezardis, both at Flinton, on the Perry Road. It is the general opinion "of those who know," that the Flinton is situated in the North-west, will also be a great mining country. It is reported that Mr. A. Ross, living on Lot 14 in the last concession has found gold.

I was shown a very fine sample of yellow ochre, taken from the Barry mine, and was washed from it and there are large quantities of it there. Gold has also been found in a large rock at the back of the store belonging to the Hon. H. H. Flit—I was shown a small piece which had been thoroughly tested in nitric acid, and a beautiful specimen it was pronounced to be by all who saw it. It was found in yellow ochre, similar to that found in the Barry mine, owing to its proximity to the store and other buildings, being in fact, in the very centre of the village, they have only been using a pick, what drilling and blasting would do of course cannot be said, though judging from appearances, if the work was carried on into the interior of the rock instead of

INSURANCE COMPANY
CAPITAL, - - - $10,000,000.

LIFE DEPARTMENT
THE principles on which this Company is
founded contain all the elements required
to develop the benefits of Life Assurance, and afford every facility to intending insurers.—
One of the advantages secured by those who
insure their lives with this Company is that
the outside expenditure for Management is
absolutely restricted by the Deed of Settlement to Ten per Cent of the Net Life
Income. This most important restriction
shows that the interests of participating policy
holders are closely watched and carefully attended to by the Company. Attention is especially called to this point, as the proportion
of premiums expended for Management
Must Largely Influence Profits
and Bonuses.

The next division of profits takes place in 1888, and all those who wish to participate in the profits should insure at once. M. BOWELL,

An enterprising English firm offers to pay
the Cuban national debt of $40,000,000
for a ninety nine years lease of the Panama railroad, at $500,000 a year.

King Victor Emmanuel has set an example of economy in the present financial crisis in Italy by resuming the sum of 40,800 lire of his civil list.

Great distress is experienced in the mining district of Cornwall. At least 5,000 miners are out of employment, owing to the complete or partial stoppage of a large number of the works.

Major Cornwallis, one of the "Six Hundred" of Balaklava, died a few days ago,
from the effects of an accident in the hunting field. He was in his thirty-fifth year.

The Russian Government has ordered all the Catholic churches of Poland to provide special altars for the service of the "Green church." The Bishop of Warsaw protested in vain against the ordinance.

A letter to Le Monde states that a magnificent ecclesiastical festival, the New Year's day, and that a solemn mass
was performed in presence of the diplomatic corps and the Chinese authorities.

News from Moscow to the 31st of March, is to the effect that a sanguinary struggle had just taken place between the troops of the Emperor Theodore and the rebels of the interior, who had advanced to the centre of the province of Tigre.

The principal chiefs of the insurrection
were killed or taken prisoners by the im-perialists, who remained masters of the field.

The British Consul at Jerusalem reports that the population of that city in 1886
was 18,000, of whom 5,000 were Mohammedans, 9,000 Jews, and the remainder Christians of various denominations. Two lines of telegraph connect Jerusalem with Europe. The chief native industry is the manufacture of soap, and what is called Jerusalem ware, consisting of chaplets, crucifixes, beads, crosses, and the like.

A writing machine has been invented—
in appearance, it is like a miniature piano, with alphabet engraved on the keys. It can write 100 to 200 letters per minute.—
The paper is placed immediately under the alphabet, which is arranged in a circle,
and when the operator strikes one of the keys, a motion is communicated to the metal which holds the type, which descends with sufficient force upon the paper to produce an impression, through the agency of an inked ribbon.

"The Paris correspondent of the Times,
writing under date of the 7th inst., says:
"The commemorative service of the death of the Emperor Napoleon I., was celebrated on Monday, in the chapel of the Tuilleries,
before the Emperor and Empress, Prince Napoleon, the Princess Mathilde, Princess Lucien Murat, Prince Lucien Napoleon, Bonaparte, and Princes Joachim and Archiele Murat. There were also present
the Ministers of the Empire, the President of the Senate, the Grand Officers of the Crown, the Commander-in-Chief of the Imperial Guard, the Emperor's Aide-de-Camp
on service and Lady of Honour of the Empress, the Grand Officers of the Household of His Majesty and of the Empress, and Princesses of the Imperial family, with the wives of the Grand Officers of the Crown."

The commemorative service of the death of Napoleon I., was also celebrated yesterday in the Church of the Invalides, by a grand pomp. The ceremony was presided over by General the Marquis de Lawatolite, the Governor, the Abbé Largentier, the Curé officiating. The attendance of officers and other persons was very numerous. At the right of the subalterns, the Emperor placed a detachment of invalids, armed,
and with crapes on their faces, and on the left a battalion of St. Helena Medallists in their uniform. The front were the Governor and his staff, while several of the old servants of the First Empire and some of the testamentary legates of the Great Captain occupied reserved places. In addition to a number of senators and members of the Council of State and Legislative body, were to be seen the Princess of the family of the Prince de Camille, with her husband and children; Baron Larrey, son of the great surgeon; and Colonel Langlois, the painter of the paucous illustrating several facts of the French arms.
After the absolution the old soldiers filed
before the tomb which contains the Emperor's remains.

"I stand," said a Fenian orator, "on the broad platform of the principle of 1848, and I stand on my own feet. I stand on nothing of the kind," interrupted a little shoemaker in the crowd, "you stand in my boots that you, never paid me for, and I want the money."

The editor of the Chicago (Ohio) Union, on retiring to the purpose of seeking an asylum in the State Charities Hospital, said that during thirty-four years of editorial editorial service, he wrote
eight thousand columns, and all for virtuals
and clothes.

"Does the court understand you to say,
Mr. Jones, that you saw the editor of the Anger of Freedom intoxicated?" "No at all sir. I merely said that I had seen him frequently barred in a mind that he would undertake to cut out copy with the snuffers—that's all."

Editorial Summary.

—The Hon. Attorney General McDonald is expected next week in Toronto.

—J. Davis passed through Kingston on Wednesday the 29th on his way Westward.

—Murders and attempts at murder are estimated to average one per day in New York, by the Tribune.

—Mr. McLean was presented with an address by the officers and clerks of the Department of Agriculture, on his arrival in Ottawa.

—The expense of repairing the Hyde Park railway and Potomac, which were injured on the occasion of the reform riot in London last year, is estimated at fifty thousand dollars.

—A Bill to abolish capital punishment passed the Lower House of Stockholm, by a majority of fifty, but was defeated in the Upper House by one.

—Missouri is a nice place to live. The vigilance committee in Johnson County, recently hung two outlaws without the benefit of Judge or Jury.

—Advices from Algiers announce the reappearance of locusts. General Garnier has placed at the disposal of the local authorities a detachment of soldiers to assist in their destruction.

—At Portmouth, near Kingston, a lad 16 years of age named Angus McLean went into a steam saw mill and got caught by the belt, he was carried to the shaft and was so fearfully mangled, that he died in a few moments.

—A man in Buffalo has been sent to the workhouse for fifty days for whipping his wife as she lay in bed, and then pulling her out and otherwise mistreating her in a fit of jealousy, because she had accepted an orange from some one.

—A dissenting minister advertises in the London Nonconformist that he is in want of an engagement which will afford him "liberty to teach that benevolence is the characteristic of God's government, that God loves everybody, and will finally save all."

—Mr. Youatt, veterinary surgeon, who has been bitten several times by rabid animals, says that crystals of nitrate of silver rubbed into the wound, will certainly prevent hydrophobia. As the dog days are at hand, it would be well to cut this receipt out and preserve it.

—In the year 1866 the total amount granted by the British parliament for the building of schoolhouses in Great Britain was $24,993 9s 11d; the total number of the schools inspected, 12,190; the average attendance, 1,099,183; present at the inspection, 1,264,829; the number of certified teachers, 11,871.

—A fire occurred in Kingston on the night of the 28th inst., in a frame house on the Kingston road, belonging to Miss Brangan. The building was burned to the ground, and an old apple woman, named McEve, and a girl named Ann Rooney, 13 years of age, were burned to death. The bodies were afterwards taken from the ruins, burned to a cinder.

THREAT.—On the other side of the fireplace on a bed or mattress, lay a poor fellow, belonging to the grenadiers of the French Guard. He had, I thought, a fatal wound, from which the bowels protruded. When he saw one of our men washing the wounds of the wounded, he begged that he would bring the water to him also; and on this being done, he eagerly seized the basin, and quenched his burning thirst by drinking deeply of the bloody water which it contained. —The History of Lord Selkirk's Regiment. By Rev. William Lusk, M.A.

QUEEN
INSURANCE COMPANY
CAPITAL, - - - $10,000,000.
FIRE and LIFE.
LIFE DEPARTMENT.

THE principles on which this Company is
founded contain all the elements required
to develop the benefits of Life Assurance, and
afford every facility to intending assureds.
One of the advantages secured by those who
insure their lives with this Company is that
the outside expenditure for Management is
absolutely restricted by the Deed of Settlement to Ten per Cent of the Net Life
Income. This most important restriction
shows that the interests of participating policy
holders are closely watched and carefully attended to by the Company. Attention is especially called to this point, as the proportion
of premiums expended for Management
Must Largely Influence Profits
and Bonuses.

The next division of profits takes place in 1885, and all those who wish to participate in
the profits should insure at once.

A Calculating Bridegroom.

I've known some very mean men in my time. There was Deacon Overreach; now he was so mean he always carried a bag in his gig box, which he traveled to pick up
the coin his horse wanted to see danger,
and lay an egg for his breakfast in the morning. And there was Hugo Himmelmann, who made his wife dig potatoes to pay for the marriage license. "I must tell you, that story of Harco, for it is not a bad one, and good stories, like potatoes, sink to the bottom
as they are used to when I was a boy. Hugo is a neighbor of mine, though considerably older than I be, and a real sportsman. He is, too. Well, when he was going to get married to Gretchen Kulp, he goes down to Parson Rogers at Digby, to get a license.
"Parson," said he, "what's the price of a license?"
"Six dollars," said he. "That's a dreadful ful thing of money! Couldn't you take less?"
"No," said he, "that's what they cost me at the secretary's office at Halifax."
"Well, how much do you ask for publishing in church, then?"
"Nothing," said the parson.
"Nothing?" said Hugo, "that's cheap. I don't expect any change back. I think I'll be published. How long does it take?"
"Three Sundays," said Hugo, "well,
"Three Sundays," said Hugo, "well,
that's a long time for a fellow like me, who only make a fortnight after all; two for the covers and one for the inside like; and six dollars is a great amount of money for a poor man to throw away."
"So off he went, a-jogging toward home, feeling about as mean as any man in the county, when all at once a bright thought came into his head, and back he went as fast as his horse could carry him.
"Parson," said he, "I've changed my mind. Here's the six dollars. I'll be the knot to night with any tongue that I cannot untie with my teeth."
"Why, what is natur, is the meaning of all this?"
"Why," said Hugo, "I've been a-jogging
it out in my head, and it's cheaper than publishing after all. You see, sir, I've potato digging times; I'll wait to be called in church, but father will have the truth of nothing; and as hands are scarce and wages are big, if I marry her to-night she can begin to dig for the license, and just seven shillings over, for there ain't a man in all Glenville that can dig and carry as many bushels in a day as Gretchen can. And besides fresh views, but they've worked last smoke at first, but they've worked last after a while."

THE FATE OF DR. LIVINGSTONE—Sir R.
Marchmont writes:—Her Majesty's Government, have, to their great credit, listened favorably to the appeal of the Geographical society, and have resolved to send out
a search party, which is the present government, being organized for this object, in which the action at large takes so deep an interest. I may add, that the search party will be a small one, consisting only of four Englishmen, including their leader, Mr. E.
D. Young, of Zambesi reputation, and will be men already acclimated in similar regions. They will ascend to Lake Nyassa by the Zambesi, and the Shire, and it is estimated that, if they leave England, via the Cape, on the 10th of June, they will reach the boat, now making, will be ready; they will soon reach the head of Lake Nyassa,
near which the disaster is said to have occurred. There is no doubt that the truth or falseness of the death of the great traveler, they will be back again at the mouth of the Zambesi by November. Thus, as it is, and small cost, the painful suspense
in which the public mind is now held on this subject will be relieved, and we shall know whether Livingstone was killed, as reported, or has passed onward to Zambesi
and the Lake Tanganyika.

The agricultural correspondent of a Lower Canada paper, draws a picture of the state of things in the country parishes at present. He says: "The rain has soaked the roads in certain localities that the principal authorities have felt it their duty to close them up with the view of preventing accidents. The habitants in the parishes below are unable to reach the railway in all their wagons, and in winter, as it has been necessary to use picks and shovels to free the horses of those who attempted to do so." "The Charlebourg and Beauport bridges, which generally, several times narrowly escaped injury on it. The farmers in some of the richest parishes are reduced to the extremity of sustaining life with bread, and with wheat made with pea stalks and potatoes, owing to the difficulty of communication and the scarcity and high price of provisions. He urges the calling of a relief meeting in Quebec, and in the connection that subscribers have already been taken up for the purpose in some places.

A Mississippi paper, writing about the floods by overflows, says: "We have had and reports from the Mississippi bottoms. 'Water,
water' everywhere, and in great quantities,
and famine; thousands of farmers have starved
their last dollar upon the harvest of this year's crop, and in the rapid torrent that courses
over their wide fields they read ruin irretrievable."

The Marmora Railway.

The Cobourg World of the 31st inst. says:

"We are pleased to say that the work in connection with the Cobourg and Marmora Railway is rapidly approaching completion. Already the rails on five miles of the track have been laid, leaving only three or four miles to be completed; and of this portion the greater part is graded. A locomotive has been placed upon the finished portion, and a second one will be taken thither next week. It is fully anticipated that before the end of June the conveyance of iron to our wharves will have been commenced. Three members of the C. P. & M. R. M. Company, Messrs. Blair, Schenberger & Butts, have lately, in company with the Managing Director, spent some days at the mines, and are well satisfied with the quality of the ore already dug out, and the prospect of an exceedingly large yield."

This does not look as if the Cobourg people would never be able to "raise money enough to grease the wheels."

Counterfeit ten dollar bills on the Third National Bank of Philadelphia, are being circulated lately. They are very well executed.

Parties and the Dominion.

It is gratifying to find that there are but few men in the Dominion, of talent and experience, who do not deprecate at the present time, the revival of questions long since settled, and the reverting back to old party names, which at the present moment are meaningless. While they admit the advantages of honest party government, they are equally desirous of establishing parties as circumstances may call them forth. Questions will arise in the administration of the affairs of the country upon which men will differ, and it is then that they will take sides, and legitimate parties be established; but until these do arise, it is folly, say worse, it is madness, to agitate the country upon questions which divided men, years ago, and which have been forever removed from the arena of party strife, by mutual concessions made by both parties. It may not suit the political demagogue who delights in revelling in strife and turmoil, to allow the Dominion of Canada to be inaugurated in peace and harmony, all lending their ability and practical experience in settling the new machinery in motion. Those who have devoted most time and labor in bringing about great changes in the government of our country, see the great necessity of parties uniting in establishing the new Constitution upon a firm and permanent basis. Any other course would be fatal to the well-being of Canada, and likely to end in turmoil and confusion. These views were fully and admirably brought out at a dinner given to Mr. Galt, at Lennoxville, C. E., a few days since. The Chairman, Mr. Pope, M. P. P., in proposing the first toast, said: "As to the present, we had reached a period when our old politics were to be dropped, and we were all to start anew, and, thank God, that was the case." This sentiment was echoed by every man present, and by none more heartily than the Hon. Mr. Sanborn, a prominent Reformer in Lower Canada, who has for years taken an active part in the politics of the country, and is looked upon as the leader of the advanced party of Lower Canada in the Upper House. Mr. Sanborn said:

"I am desirous to see in the new Dominion, as there has been in the old Province, parties; not, however, of the kind which grew out of the circumstances of the time. We are now entering into a different partnership from any that these new allies which, with us, are to form a nation of the new Dominion; and they have their local interests. If they dwell on those interests, there will be the parties which have existed in each Province respectively, each will have a party in its own narrow sphere, and, consequently, there will be a tendency rather to ANARCHY THAN UNION."

Such views are a credit to the man who utters them, and contrast favorably with the senseless cry that the Hon. George Brown, that great mar-plot to the quietude of the country, is endeavoring to raise. The same idea is admirably enunciated by Mr. Galt, in one of his happiest efforts. We regret that space will not permit us to give his speech entire, and therefore have to content ourselves with one or two extracts. Upon the necessity of unity Mr. Galt said:

"If the people are willing, and I think I may take this meeting as indication that they are willing, to let bygones be bygones, to bury the old acerbities of the past, to unite in a generous support of the Government of the Dominion, worthy of the name and of our federation. But if we are to have the old faction fights of Whig and Tory repeated; if French and English, Catholic and Protestant are to be brought up against each other; if, in my words, these cries are to be once more sounded in our ears, then, gentlemen, our attempt will be a wretched failure. There is no constitution that can give peace to a people who are determined to waste their energies in miserable struggles among themselves."

"My view is, sir, that the Government of the new Dominion must practically be a continuation of the Quebec Convention. We have as yet only received permission to unite the Province; to carry out the Union we must have the same representation of interests we had at Quebec. If you were to organize pure party government you might perhaps do it for Canada, but the same party might perhaps not be the government party in Nova Scotia or New Brunswick. In Canada there was a coalition of parties for the purpose of carrying the Union Resolutions. Can we imagine for a moment that the actual assimilation of the laws, and the many necessary measures, can be carried out by one of those parties alone? I believe, sir, it cannot. I think that the principle which must be kept in view is the representation of all the local wants of each part of the Dominion. I think that this is the vital necessity for the success of the experiment." (Applause.) Of course there must be different opinions on almost all questions of moment, but let these opinions be formed upon the basis of our old parties. If we constitute them on a party basis each as exists now, we lay the seeds of very great opposition, indeed of constant strife in the country from the very first. But if we form governments which embrace the best men of all opinions, one of two things will happen—either that their measures will be so wise that no opposition to them can be formed, which is a good thing to be expected; or the Government will make some mistakes, which will display some faults, and so on. Opposition will then be reasonable, and will rise up naturally. There are some questions, at least in the general government, which must be settled by the will of the majority. It is the duty of the majority to settle the question of the Tariffs, to the adoption of the Trade policy which is to prevail. These questions are not to be settled by the policy of the hour, and yet they very nearly touch the whole future policy of the country. They must not be dealt with ignorantly. It will not do for a man in Canada to presume that he knows enough of all the Provinces to be able to decide what rate of duty should prevail; he must have in Council the assistance of men who are familiar with the circumstances of each part of the country, so as to prevent injury being done to any important district. Let take, by way of illustration, the case of the Maritime Provinces. We know that some opposition has prevailed in Nova Scotia in regard to Confederation, because the people are so poor, and their industry so paralyzed, that the manufacture of Canada would be through upon them, which, in extent as to damage and destroy them; that the Union of the Provinces meant, for them, nothing but disaster. Now, the policy of the Government must be shown, by its acts, that the common interests of Nova Scotia as well as Canada, while the advancement of the country at large, and the promotion of its material interests, may possibly require the two tariffs to be assimilated as to their duties on manufactured goods, yet, in other respects, their special interests will be considered."

The reasons given above are indisputable, and none but the wildest fanatic, who would throw the Province into a state of anarchy and confusion for his own benefit, would take exceptions to them.

Editorial Correspondence.

MONTREAL, May 30.

It is rumored in well-informed circles that Mr. McGee will be a member of the Privy Council for Quebec. The other members are to be Messrs. Cartier, Galt and Laurier. Those for Ontario are said to be Messrs. John A. Macdonald, Alex. Campbell, McDougall and Howland.

The Rouge party are endeavoring to get up an opposition to Mr. McGee in the Western Division. Mr. Devlin has been selected to oppose him, and I am informed that he gave his consent to the Committee last evening. A meeting is to take place this evening to bring out another candidate for to run in connection with Mr. McGee for the Local Legislature. Mr. Devlin has considerable influence amongst the Irish Catholics, and it is supposed he will give McGee a hard run.

The Montreal Gazette, the ablest Conservative journal in Lower Canada, announces this morning that it will be published in a new form, and on the co-operative system, under the name of the "Montreal Printing and Publishing Company." The Company will be composed of the firm of Lowe & Chamberlin, M. Longmore & Co., and will take in Assistant Editors, Reporters, the heads of the printing and press departments, a number of literary men and a few friends. By this combination of capital, talent and interest, the Gazette must become a power in the new Dominion, and will take the lead of the newspaper press. Arrangements will be made so that the paper can be obtained at the principal points in the Dominion for 1d., and no expenditure of capital will be spared to obtain the latest and fullest news from every part. Every one who has a proper estimate of the hands of high-minded, able men, must have upon the future well-being of the new Nation, will wish the new enterprise the fullest success.

Le Pays announces that the Hon. Mr. Dorian will try to obtain a seat in the House of Commons for Hochelaga. Rumor has it that Hon. Mr. Galt will be a candidate for the centre division of Montreal, for the House of Commons, and that Hon. John Rose, the present representative, will be appointed Lieutenant-Governor of New Brunswick.

The Fenian news by way of Toronto to-day, has been a principal topic of discussion in the streets. The conduct of Gen. Barry last summer, in promptly carrying out his orders, won for him the respect of Canadians, and his statements are therefore considered worthy of credence. His statements, however, are corroborative of the opinion entertained by many leading men in Canada, and it will be well if the authorities are prepared. It will not do to be caught napping.

Amongst the attractions here just now, is Her Majesty's Ship of War, the Waterloo, the largest vessel of the kind that ever visited Montreal. She is as trim and neat a craft as ever appeared in these waters; she carries twenty-one guns, and has a crew of 275 men. Every afternoon she is crowded with visitors, and the officers take a great deal of pains in showing them about the vessel. It is said she will remain here during the summer.

I have just come from a visit to the Tobeco Manufactory of W. C. Macdonald, the largest in the Province, and well worth a visit. A description of this extensive manufactory as well as of other points of interest I must defer to another time.

BAKER'S ASSOCIATION.—Many of the citizens of Ottawa, says a contemporary, have formed themselves into a Baker's Association, owing to the high prices of bread at the present prices. This new association guarantees bread at $1.30 per dozen, while at the old establishments it is now $2.40 per dozen. The shares in the association are $5 each. Companies of this sort have been organized in other cities, and are said to have paid well, besides making the price of bread also less.

Dismissing Registrars.

The McDonald-Dorian Ministry when in power, made every vacancy that was possible, and filled them with their friends; any man in whom a shadow of fault could be found was unceremoniously turned out of office, and a partizan of J. S. McDonald's put in his place. A notable case was that of the Registrar of Bruce, who was dismissed more for political purposes than aught else. At the time we contended that the act was not only a high handed one, but illegal, and such the Judges have decided it. The Leader says:

"The somewhat celebrated case of the Bruce office was recently decided by a Court of Queen's Bench. Mr. Hammond, the late Registrar, it will be recollected, was dismissed by Mr. Sandfield Macdonald's Administration, on the ground which undoubtedly afforded a pretext, but, as now appears, not a justification for doing so. The action was for a certain portion of the fees supposed or known to be accrued, since the appointment of Mr. McClay, at the time the action was commenced. But though the action took this shape, the decision settles the whole question as to who is the legal Registrar. Since the dismissal of Mr. Hammond, now proved to have been illegal, all the registries have been illegal. We do not approve of the act which caused Mr. Hammond's dismissal, but the case was one for reprimand rather than dismissal. He might fairly have been reinstated with his salary and emoluments, and his office, besides being disproportionate to the office, was an illegal exercise of executive power. Mr. Hammond will, of course, resume his duties as Registrar, and Mr. McClay will have to 'fork over' the fees he has illegally received. For the rest, special legislation will be required to give legal validity to all the acts of registration since Mr. McClay was appointed."

DISMISSED.—It is stated in a telegram from Ottawa, that Mr. Partridge, Superintendent of Woods and Forests, has either been dismissed or suspended from office. No reason is given.

CRICKET.—The pupils and ex-pupils of the Grammar School, Belleville, are to play a game of Cricket with the Belleville Cricket Club, on Monday next.

MONTREAL POLICE.—Sergeant Dunsbar and 12 of the Mounted Police have been ordered to the Chaudiere gold fields in Lower Canada. They leave to-day on the steamer Empress. This force has been sent to the Chaudiere, owing to some disturbances which have taken place there lately among the miners.

THE PARTY.—The Globe is unfortunate in any position it may take if, for it can always be quoted against itself. It is now denouncing every man, and every journal in Canada, that will not cry "party," "party." A few years ago when it had another game to play, it taught the following doctrine. "It is a sure sign that a political combination is on its last legs, 'when its paid organs begin to argue in 'powerless' that their friends are cold and 'pathetic,' and that the only rallying cry which is left to them is the howl of 'the Party,' 'the Party.'" Is the "political combination" between George Brown and his Rouge associates of Lower Canada, "on its last legs" and is that the reason for the howl of "the party" "the party"?

THE CURRENT WORM.—Now is the time to provide against the ravages of the current worm. An exchange says: One method of getting rid of current worms effectually, if faithfully applied, is removing the earth around the bush roots in the spring, to the depth of twenty-three inches, and supplying the place with fresh earth, and destroying the eggs on the leaf. Thus, the progenitors of thousands may be easily destroyed. His receipt might prove effectual, but the difficult would be in "destroying the eggs on the leaf." A much more easy and more effective way is to use powdered sulphur. Fill a common pepper box with the powder, and dust it on the current leaves including those not infested with the worm, and they will disappear, and the current is saved. Sometimes an additional application is necessary.

JEFF DAVIS.—The American press has become furious, because Jeff Davis has visited Canada, and because we do not gibbet him or something else of that sort, forgetting that they have had him in their power since the fall of Richmond, and have not, either from fear or policy brought him to trial. The Register New York correspondent of the Boston Advertiser writes on the 16th:—"That our apple tree about which we have heard so much in song of late years, evidently does not grow in its vicinity, if in fact it is growing anywhere. Jeff, the great rebel, has arrived in this city and left for the home of all rebels—Montreal. It is generally thought in this city that he never will return to the United States." We have no doubt but that is just what the Americans would like. If Mr. Davis were to remain in Canada, it would relieve them of much trouble.

FUNERAL OF THE LATE F. WHITEMAN.—The remains of the late Francis Whiteman, whose untimely death we noticed in our issue of the 28th inst., was laid in its last resting place Thursday afternoon. The funeral procession left the family residence on lot No. 26, and proceeded to Tyndwadia, at 12 o'clock noon, and proceeded to the English Church burying ground, some 6 or 7 miles distant; it was an unusually large and respectable one; the teams, carriages, and horsemen extending quite a mile in length, and many of the men of different political and religious principles. The Rev. G. A. Anderson preached an appropriate sermon, and read the funeral service of the Church of England—after which in pursuance of the request of the deceased—the funeral service of the Loyal Orange Association, in which the deceased was an old and prominent member, was read by Geo. D. Dickson, Esq., County Master. The brethren present, of whom there was a very large number, taking part in this service.

—The Pictou Gazette says: The Hon. Robert Read has issued his address to the Electors of the Eastern Division in Hastings, announcing himself as a candidate for the House of Commons. Mr. Read, by his straight forward and upright course as a political and private individual, has won for himself a host of friends in the adjoining County, and will doubtless be returned.

POLICE COURT.

NUISANCE.

Charles McCarthy was fined $1 and costs for permitting his pigs to run at large in Front Street, and on the day after (yesterday), he was again fined $1 and costs for a similar offence. Great complaints are being made of the damage occasioned by hogs running at large.

BOUND IN SUBTILES.

George W. Reeves, of Trenton was bound in two suteries of $50 each, and himself in $100, to keep the peace towards James March, of the same place, for one year.

LARCENY.

Police Constable Allen arrested a young man named Wm. Donaldson, at the railway station, on the 29th inst., on a charge of robbing a fellow lodger, named Scott, of a number of greenbacks, some Commercial Bank Bills, and a suit of clothes. The robbery occurred on the 24th April last, and the police have been watching Donaldson's movements since. The matter was investigated yesterday, but no proof having been produced of the boy's guilt, he was discharged by the Police Magistrate.

BREACH OF MARKET LAW.

A man named McDonald was fined $1 and $1 costs, for purchasing potatoes for exportation before 10 o'clock a.m. He paid the amount.

Fenian Movements in Buffalo.

The reporter of the Hamilton Times, now in Buffalo, thus writes of the Fenian movements in that city:

"Appearances about this city at present, to a careful observer, show conclusively that another raid on Canada is contemplated before many days."

The fact is public that large quantities of arms and war material are stored in the city or vicinity, and that artillery has been brought here by the Fenians this spring. The Buffalo companies of the I. R. A. are completely untrained, and drill conducted. There is said to be an entire regiment enrolled in the city.

I took a stroll last evening through a section of the city, where the Mission settlement most doth congregate, and frequently encountered small knots of the Fenian stripe upon the street engaged in earnest discussion. As a stranger approached their conversation was suppressed, and it was evident that something more than commonplace gossip engrossed their attention. I overheard the remark once, that the Rochester and Syracuse delegates were to do this and that, but my inquisitive ears were rewarded with no definite piece of information.

Doyle and Leahy, both reporters of the New York Herald, have arrived here, and have instructions to remain until further orders.

I shall have intelligence more positive to transmit before the close of the week.

A young lady refused to go into the Woolwich Arsenal the other day, because she heard that some of the muskets were without breeches.

The Hamilton Spectator says:—"We notice that butter is now bringing 31 cents per lb. in Halifax. A gentleman in the neighborhood, who has shipped a lot of butter to the Maritime Provinces, informs us that he realized a very handsome profit by the transaction. It is essential that the butter should be really a first class article; as western butter, at $15.00, sold at $13.00 to $13.25 to $14.00, choice do. at $13.50 to $13.75 to $14.00 to good shipping brands. Rye flour quiet at $5.00 to $5.25; Cal Flour declined; sales at $13.50 for inferior and $14.00 to $15.00.

Wheat, receipts 63,470 bus; market dull; sales at $3.75 for No. 1 Mill, and White Cal at $3.10. Rye, receipts 31,000 bus; market dull and drooping; sales 5,500 bus Western in lots at $1.71 to $1.74. Barley, receipts none; market quiet; Barley Mail dull; sales 7,700 bus. Corn receipts 83,624 bushels, market heavy, and is to be lower, closing more steady; sales 6,800 bushels at $1.18 to $1.30 for mixed new Western; $1.28, old do delivered; $1.12 to $1.15 for kiln dried; $1.05 to $1.13 for heated. Oats receipts 30,269 bushels, market 3c to 3c lower; 33,000 bushels, 82c to 82c for western, and 89c to 90c for State.

The Montreal Herald calls attention to the fact that Judge Mack, of that city, recently refused an insolvent's certificate of discharge, because it had opened on the ground of overtrading. This is an objection so vague in itself that strictly dealt with, many—perhaps most—of the discharges already granted might have been refused upon the same ground; but doubtless, it is only in flagrant cases that the objection would either be made or sustained. It is, however, well for traders of all kinds to know that a precedent has been established for refusing a discharge upon this ground—a precedent which cannot but have a wholesome effect on the business of the country in future.

London, C.W., is a fast city. Three juvenile burglars were arrested on Saturday for breaking into Mr. W. Smith's store. They were respectively of the tender ages of thirteen, ten and seven years. Upon information given by one of them, seven other juveniles were arrested for robbing a grocery. Their names, ages and demeanor are thus referred to by the Press:—"They were John O'Hearn, aged ten, Frank Ryan, ten, John Sturgeon, nearly ten, Henry Sturgeon, twelve, Thomas Groves, thirteen, Charles Groves, seven, and Catherine Ryan, eight. When arrested in the dock yesterday morning they would have made a fine subject for a Tenier. Never was such a juvenile gang charged with such an offence before in London. Some were sobbing bitterly, others with their tongues in their cheeks grinning at the novelty of their position, and looking very sober and innocent."
